Among the killed was the general in chief and his staff. Many prisoners were taken, including officers.

ALLIES KEEP THE FOE WELL IN CHECK AND THEIR LINE OF BATTLE INTACT

(By International News Service.)
PARIS, Sept. 5, 2:30 p. m.—The following official announcement has just been made by the authorities: "It looks as though the enemy was continuing its large rounding movement, leaving Paris on the right and moving in a southeasterly direction."

MAKING BETTER THAN WAGES AT NORTH TONOPAH GOLD CAMP

The gold camp of North Tonopah is growing steadily and every morning a line of buckets may be seen climbing the hill over in the direction of the laundry. There are twenty men employed or leasing there and all are making better than wages although about one-half the number are regularly employed. Three autos leave town every morning from in front of the Tonopah Grill, thus making prospecting in the new district very convenient with all the comforts of city life. The location is exactly five miles by road or three miles in an air line and the location is about 400 feet higher than Tonopah, as it stands 120 feet above the water company's reservoir.

MEANING OF GERMAN DETOUR

ENEMY PROPOSES TO OPEN THE ATTACK ON THE SOUTH- EASTERN SIDE.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Sept. 5.—The enemy is pursuing a wide turning movement and continuing to leave the entrenched camp of Paris, on the right, marching southeast.
It is evident the Germans do not intend to engage the allies or meet them northwest of Paris and it is believed the Germans are preparing for a grand assault, hoping to batter down the Paris defenses. The time is approaching, it is believed, when Paris must resort to its own defenses. Many Parisians, however, are confident the allied army will be able to prevent the Germans entering or investing the city. The military government has taken every precaution for defense.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The armies of England and France remain undefeated. That's the big news of the hour. Although the left wing of the Anglo-French army has been falling back two weeks "for strategic reasons" the lines remain unbroken and they have inflicted tremendous losses upon the Germans. Ever since the battle at Mons opened two weeks ago today the movements of the French and English have been toward the rear, first in a northerly direction and then southerly.

Compiegne. A war office statement at 1:55 this morning made no mention of any fighting and declared the German maneuver "had not succeeded any better than on the preceding days." The lines of the French and English still are intact and the circular movement of the Germans had the effect of concentrating the forces of the allies into a much more compact formation than previously maintained.

DEMOCRATS PAVING WAY FOR A STAMP TAX STATUTE

PREPARING TO RUSH BILL THROUGH CONGRESS TO PLEASE PRESIDENT.

(By International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Chairman Underwood and Democratic members of the ways and means committee today are busy formulating plans to raise the $100,000,000 war tax urged by the president. The leaders of congress outline program to rush legislation through so no time will be lost in enacting a measure to replenish the national coffers. Although Underwood and his colleagues are reluctant as to the form the tax bill will take it is known that Democrats on the committee suggested a tax be placed on gasoline, railroad tickets, freight, beer and inheritances.

The system of leasing is very favorable. The royalty is 15 per cent with the stipulation that the lessees maintain fifty shifts a month. This form was drawn up by Harry McNamara and has been adhered to by the owners of the original location. Among those interested are Mike Piamez, Harry McNamara and O. Daugherty, Harry and Charles Epstein, C. K. Jarvis, Talty and Shipway, Gingles and Ellis, Jack May, Tom Lynch and Paddy McGinnis. Good chloriders can make good money by sorting the broken stuff on canvas and some of the boys who have been out of work are taking hold with a will. The walls are as clear cut and sharply defined as any man could wish and the values are found in a taley matrix that is easily broken down. The Jarvis lease is pushing work sinking rapidly and the shaft is now down 18 feet. It is too early to determine the future of the district or to make any predictions as it is all surface work, but those who are engaged are perfectly satisfied with their earnings and those who are backing the lessees believe there is more than a fighting chance for developing a gold mine or two.
The first location was made by A. H. Shipway on the 15th of July, after Shipway had given up some other locations he made the previous spring some distance north of the present strike. The country has been located and relocated numerous times during the past ten years, but no work was done to hold the claims, so there cannot be any dispute about the rights of the present locators.

News of the decisive victory of the Russians over the Austrians in Galicia and the capture of Lemberg was expected to arouse the spirits of the French and British and at the same time discourage the Germans or inspire them with recklessly dangerous movements. Another week has passed and Paris still is safe.
The closing week was expected to witness great feats on the part of the German army because of the anniversary of the battle of Sedan. The Germans have made progress, but they have yet to win a decisive victory, news of which would relieve the gloom which must certainly be felt in Berlin.

(By International News Service.)
PARIS, 12 noon, Sept. 5.—Following is an official statement from the military governor: "The German advance on Paris has not continued. Early this morning the invaders apparently are tarrying west of the River Seine and endeavoring to make an encircling movement."
Paris Journal states bombardment of Aubeuge is continuing fiercely, but the city resists valiantly.

A statement of the government at midnight indicated that the Germans are trying a big enveloping movement, not in effort to cut off any single portion of the allied army, but to surround the entire force.

(By International News Service.)
PETROGRAD, Sept. 4.—The corps of 80,000 men of the Austrian army defeated east of Lemberg, cut off from the main force retreating to River San, are at bay in the hills surrounding Grolek, fifteen miles west of Lemberg, according to a dispatch from the front. Russian troops are rushing through swamps to surround the Austrians, but they occupy strong positions in the lake region, while to the east, south and west are swamps throughout which Russians will be able to take artillery only with the greatest difficulty.

(By International News Service.)
PARIS, Sept. 4.—Swinging eastward and southward in a wide turning movement, the German army of the north has taken up a position which threatens to cut off the allies from Paris, their base. An official admission of the French war office says the Germans have reached Laferte, Souz Jouare, thirty-four miles east of Paris, that German battle line now stretches south of Rheims. This shows the French and English have fallen back at least forty miles in a southeasterly direction from the position which held between Senlis and

PARIS VICTUALLED AND ARMED FOR A LONG SIEGE

FRENCH GOVERNMENT CONFIDENT OF ABILITY TO HOLD PARIS.

(By International News Service.)
PARIS, Sept. 5.—Confidence of the French government that Germans will be unable to capture Paris is shown by a statement made today by Senator Assolant.
"Paris is an entrenched camp," he said. "It has today, within a circumference of 160 miles, 1,000 big guns all perfectly protected. Artillery is planned for cross firing to protect all approaches of the city to a distance of 25 miles. Railway communication is established between the forts. There are many hundred thousand men under arms to fill up any gap. A special commission, of which I am a member, which had charge of victualing the city assured the people that we have reserve provisions for 3,000,000 men during many months. With courage and coolness we are sure of the final victory."
