CLEAN UP DAY FOR NEVADA URGED BY CARSON CITY EDITOR

Under the significant caption of "Clean Up Nevada," the Carson News puts itself on record editorially as follows:
"Nevada needs a cleaning; it needs a general and a wholesale cleaning and in fact some of the leaders of the criminal class should be hung up to dry. There are far too many murders, robberies, assaults, arsons and much dynamiting in this state at the present time and the only way to do away with the wave of crime is to clean out those who are of the criminal character."
"Crime is increasing instead of diminishing and as the year rolls along and the hour of the opening of the world's fair approaches, with its thousands headed for the coast, in the ranks will be the thugs and the black-legs of the entire country, traveling with the crowds, thinking only of easy picking. Nevada will be a resting place for them en route and as a consequence the state will suffer. The labor conditions on the coast are not the best and trouble is liable to start at any time. The I. W. W. are warring against the employers on the coast and already the fever has been communicated to the troublesome class in Nevada. Already one dastardly act has been committed and it was wholly and solely the action of luck that no one was killed or badly injured. Now is the time to put a stop to this kind of work and the action must be taken by the people. When a man is found in a criminal act wherein life and property are jeopardized, then is the time to make an example of him and others of his ilk will profit thereby."
"The good people of Tonopah must rise in their might and stamp out the I. W. W. in that section. The I. W. W. has no place in the United States as their idea is to pull down and not to uphold. They are the human snakes who strike in the dark and whose existence is a menace to industry and to labor."
"Let Nevada be cleaned up and kept clean. Let the law take its course in every possible case, but where the proof is conclusive and the crime dastardly, why delay?"

FIGHTING AGAIN IN OLD MEXICO LEAVES 200 DEAD

CARRANZA LOSES IN THE FIRST ENGAGEMENT ON THE BORDER.

(By International News Service.)
EL PASO, Sept. 26.—Fighting between the Carranzistas and Villa's men in the first conflict of the new revolution was resumed at dawn today near Santa Cruz, according to a dispatch from Douglas. The battle began yesterday at Santa Barbara. The Carranza men, led by General Benjamin Hill, were driven eastward to Santa Cruz, where they took refuge. About 200 were killed on both sides in yesterday's fighting. Carranza's troops were the heavier losers.
The defeated Gen. Hill, by orders of Carranza, is mobilizing for another stand against Maytorena. Hill says he lost none and Maytorena 28. Naco is being entrenched.
Maytorena reported that among Hill's losses in battle with Majors Widel and Durazo, two captains, and two lieutenants, Maytorena took 250 prisoners.

WARD HEELERS TRICK PUT OVER THOUGHTFUL WOMEN IN RENO.

RENO, Sept. 26.—Miss Bird Wilson, of Goldfield, and Anne Martin, of Reno, met their heads together at the meeting of the State Convention of Women's Clubs and by cunning word play succeeded in securing the passage of a resolution virtually endorsing suffrage in opposition to the wishes of a majority of the club members who have always opposed the introduction of politics into the meetings of the clubs.
Having an intimation that the question of endorsing women's suffrage would come before the convention this afternoon, opponents of the amendment made special efforts to attend in order to express their opposition.
The suffragists, however, avoided coming to a direct issue by cleverly wording the report of the legislative work of the women's clubs of the state, incorporated in the report a clause recommending that "work be continued" on features introduced a year ago as proper subjects for legislative work. In the rapid reading of the report by Miss Bird Wilson, of Goldfield, the delegates opposed to women's suffrage did not recognize the joker. The almost instantaneous motion and second for the adoption of the report, followed by a quick vote, resulted in the usual chorus of ayes, followed by silence.
Miss Anne Martin, state president of the suffragists, said soon after the vote was taken that she considered the acceptance of the report of the legislative committee an endorsement of suffrage by the convention.
Anne Martin may think this was a sharp trick, but the clubwomen are mummonks in saying, "Nay, nay, Anne."

MIDNIGHT VERDICT AGAINST SPHINX FOR AN ATTORNEY

END OF NINE DAYS' TRIAL INVOLVING ROUND MOUNTAIN INTERESTS.
The jury in the suit of P. F. Carney vs. the Round Mountain Sphinx Mining company for legal fees brought in a verdict at ten minutes after 12 last night allowing plaintiff $13,500 on the first count and $3,000 on the second count. The jury had been engaged nine days in the hearing.
Plaintiff claimed $17,522.79 on the first count, which included an assignment of the claim of the law firm of Detch & Carney after a credit of $4,000 had been deducted. The second count was a personal bill of plaintiff wherein he demanded payment of $5,311 as compensation for services involved two years ago in securing an injunction against the Round Mountain Mining company in two suits. The first count was for services in the Los Gatos suit.
The jury retired at 8:30 and from the outset it is said there was only a question regarding the amounts to be allowed plaintiff. The alleged debt was secured by an attachment against all the property of the Round Mountain Mining company, which recently compromised with the Round Mountain Sphinx by taking over that property and assuming all obligations against that company. In the settlement of the Round Mountain Mining company set aside 50,000 of the new treasury stock to secure the Carney claim.

SEES TO RETAIN ON THE TICKET A CANDIDATE WHO ASKED TO BE WITHDRAWN.

CARSON CITY, Sept. 26.—The action of the supreme court in refusing to strike from the list of nominations on the state ticket the name of Richard A. McKay, mentioned originally for attorney-general, on a technicality has been freely criticized. The court, however, will be given a chance to place itself squarely on record through an action begun by H. B. Maxson, who alleges that he brings the proceeding at the request of members of the Republican state committee of Nevada.
The petition seeks to restrain the secretary of state from certifying McKay's name as the Republican nominee for attorney-general on account of his failure to file statements before and after the primary election as required by the corrupt practices act, and alleges on information and belief that McKay does not intend and will not file any statement of his expenses and liabilities as required by the said statute. The petition is filed by Cole L. Harwood, the law partner of George Springmeyer, the Progressive and Republican nominee for attorney-general.

FRENCH DRIVEN BACK TWELVE MILES RUSSIANS READY TO ATTACK CRACOW

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Sept. 26.—A battle of extraordinary severity is raging in the western end of the Anglo-French and German line in the region of Noyon, sixty miles north of Paris, where the French still are striving to outflank Von Kluck's reinforced army. It is officially asserted the allies made a slight advance on the eastern, and the French admit their line had been forced back by the Germans across the river Meuse near St. Mihiel.
The Russians are preparing to attack Cracow, in Galicia. The inhabitants are reported fleeing. The civil government has been assumed by Germans. Russians captured Rzeszow, and taken also two fortified positions north and south of Przemysl. In Poland the Germans appear to have fortified themselves north of Kalisz.

NEW FRENCH INVENTION STOPS THE ACTION OF THE HUMAN HEART.

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Sept. 26.—An official statement at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the great battle between the German and allied forces admits the Germans succeeded in crossing the River Meuse, near St. Mihiel, but states the greater part of the forces had been thrown back across the river. According to the official announcement heavy fighting continues by the entire left wing of allies both along the Oise and Aisne. The statement follows:
"1. On the left wing the battle continues with great violence between the Somme and Oise rivers. Between Oise and Soissons, on the Aisne, our troops have made some slight progress and the enemy has not attempted any attack. Between Soissons and Rheims there are no important changes.
"2. At the center from Rheims to Verdun the situation is unchanged. In the Woerthe region the enemy succeeded in crossing the Meuse, in the vicinity of St. Mihiel, but the offensive was taken by our troops. South of Woerthe our attacks had not ceased to progress. Fourteen German corps have been thrown back after suffering heavy losses.
"3. On our right wing, Lorraine and Vosges, the German offensive seems to have been reduced to some detachments which had attacked our advance posts at certain points and been repulsed by entry into action of our reserves."

BRITISH CONCEDE SLIGHT REVERSE ALONG THE MEUSE

(By International News Service.)
LONDON, Sept. 26.—That the desperate attack of Germans on the line of French fortifications between Verdun and Toulaine on the River Meuse is bearing fruit, as indicated by an official admission at Paris that the Germans have succeeded in crossing the Meuse. Though the statement says the greater part of the attacking forces was driven back across the river, it does not account for those remaining on the west bank. If a strong force remains there, it may prove highly dangerous for the allies. Verdun is the keystone of the defense, and if the Germans succeed in capturing it, they will be able to align their armies on almost a straight front from Oise to Metz. This secures their line of communication through Lunenburg and Metz and permits them to regain ground lost when the crown prince's army was forced to retreat.

CRITICAL POSITION OF THE ALLIES MAY END WITH DEFEAT.
