SPRINKLING BY MOON'S PALE RAY

NOT SO ODD AS IT AT FIRST SEEMED

STRANGE SPECTACLE IS WITNESSED IN STILLY NIGHT ON THE MILL PONDS. Since time immemorial the sprinkling can has served two very laudable purposes, one being to disseminate moisture upon drooping vegetation, the other to tone up the systems of printers at the close of a droughty day.

As a matter of fact it was a very sensible experiment which Mr. Hayward was conducting. He and an associate are engaged in sweeping the mill pond, the surface dust being shipped to a reduction plant and a very good profit obtained.

CHANGES ARE MADE IN MINE DIRECTORATE

FRANK M. MANSON IS ELECTED DIRECTOR OF GOLDFIELD CONSOLIDATED. The directors of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines company and the Aurora Consolidated Mines company, at special sessions held in Reno Thursday, accepted the resignation of Albert Burch as director and consulting engineer of the former and as a director, vice president and general manager of the latter, says the Tribune.

As vice president of the Aurora company Mr. Burch was succeeded by John Miller of Hawthorne, who was a member of the board previously and as a director and general manager by J. W. Hutchinson, who in the past has been assistant general manager of the company, in addition being general manager of the Goldfield Consolidated, Frank M. Manson, of Reno, a director of the Aurora Consolidated was chosen to succeed Mr. Burch as a director of the Goldfield Consolidated.

MIDLAND ROUTE IS NOW FULLY SIGNED

(Continued from Page 1) these useful and ornamental signs. The club not only placed the signs, but will see to their upkeep, making yearly trips for that purpose.

The posts as well as the signs are metallic, and they are so heavily anchored with crossrods blocks, that it is almost impossible to overturn them. Messrs. Jordan and Benehie have prepared a complete log of the road and have gotten out a set of maps. Their information, which will shortly be published, will show where hotels, garages, gasoline stations and water may be found. The log book will also contain topographical data, elevations, etc. The Packard car in which they are traveling has been converted into a truck, so that all the needed supplies, including the sign posts, are carried with them, from the various stations to which they are shipped.

Henry B. Joy, president of the Lincoln Highway association, is taking great interest in the work the Auto Club of Southern California is doing. Following is a copy of a wire received from him: "I saw your most excellent sign work around Ely. Have sample your sign work I have ever seen and is a model for everybody to copy. We fully realize your situation as explained in your letter and congratulate you on the growing interest in southern California for the Lincoln Highway and Los Angeles feeder roads. We can no longer stand in the way of such excellent patriotic work you are doing. Go ahead strong and we congratulate you on the good work. Will write."

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY INDICTS METHODS OF ENEMY GOVERNMENTS IN RED BOOK

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 15. — Austria-Hungary's indictment of the methods of warfare of her enemies, giving scores of instances of "barbarous treatment" of nationals and prisoners and breaches of international law, has just been made public in a "red book" issued by the Austro-Hungarian ministry of foreign affairs through its embassy here. The publication is called a "collection of evidence" and is divided into four parts.

"The first two parts," says a preliminary note introducing numerous depositions and affidavits, "contain evidence concerning the treatment of Austro-Hungarian diplomatic and consular officers by the government officials of the hostile countries. The cases adduced deal with the violations of the most elementary rules of the right of hospitality, a right consecrated since the remotest antiquity and respected even by the uncivilized nations and tribes. Never before have so many violations of this right been instanced. In several cases the illegal expulsion or arrest has preceded the actual state of war, a fact which still further aggravates the offense. The expulsion of the Austro-Hungarian diplomatic agents from Morocco and Egypt, which is irreconcilable with existing international treaties, has been made the subject of protests lodged with the neutral powers.

HORSE KILLED IN A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

BREAKS NECK WHEN IT TURNS SOMERSAULT ON A BUS-INESS STREET. An old mare, used as a delivery horse by Paul Weisse, was instantly killed in a runaway accident this morning. The horse ran several blocks, dragging the delivery wagon, the contents of which were widely distributed, when the wagon overturned on Erie main street. When bystanders ran to her assistance and essayed to detach the harness, the mare was found to have died instantly from a broken neck.

"The surface showing at Willard is very good," said Mr. McLennan, "and I believe there is already enough in sight to justify a mill. Although the conditions thus far are a trifle erratic, I have every confidence that deeper work will reveal uniform conditions with considerable deposits of milling ore." Captain Jack Anker, who opened up the Big Dome and the Dome Extension of the Porcupine country in Canada and John W. Callinan of Toronto are also here, going over the country generally. Mr. Callinan at one time had the Rochester Mines company tied up for transfer, and it is his third visit here.

CHAMP CLARK'S VIEWS AS TO PREPAREDNESS

(Continued from page 1) which will furnish a minimum of two hundred students to drill. In that way and at the least possible cost we would in a few years have enough drilled men to officer a volunteer army of a million soldiers, if needs be. "In fact there would be wisdom in a scheme by which in addition to the cadets educated free by the government at West Point and Annapolis, any boy possessing the prescribed qualifications might on reasonable terms be educated at those two great institutions. The surplus West Pointers could be used to advantage in drilling the youths of the land, while the surplus naval graduates would make splendid officers for the great merchant marine which President Wilson and some of the rest of us are determined to place upon the high seas from which our flag has almost entirely disappeared. "We should also have a well drilled and well equipped national guard to be used for strictly national purposes on the principle enunciated by Thomas Jefferson, 'a well disciplined militia—our best reliance in peace and for the first moments of war, till regulars may relieve them.' "It seems that if little Switzerland can mobilize in a few days an army of half a million well drilled men by means of her system of military education and discipline—the cheapest system known among men and sufficiently effective—we could by such application of her system as fits our case, in a year or two, be able to mobilize an army of two millions of well disciplined men at a cost which to us would be a mere bagatelle—which would be a most effective insurance for this country and for all her citizens and their interests."

ORCHESTRA INCREASED

The Airdome management has increased its orchestra to three pieces. Excellent music will be rendered at the dance tonight.

DO YOU USE "DUMMY"

Webster defines the word "Dummy" as follows: "Dummy—A sham package in a shop, one that does not contain what its exterior indicates. Fictitious, or shammed; feigned." Or, in other words, Blank Stationery, in your daily business transactions?

As applied to Business Stationery, the word "Dummy" carries with it all the odium applied by Mr. Webster. Associated with its use are the tombstones of countless business failures. It consists of a sheet of cheap paper in the shape of a bill head, a letter head, or, possibly an envelope, upon which is smeared the name of a town, together with a few blank lines upon which may be scrawled the name of the firm, person or corporation who is making a slipshod attempt to do business. Or the name may even be gobbled upon the sheet by a rubber stamp.

At all events, the use of such Stationery detracts from the quality of the stock carried if any attempt is being made to give honest, sterling goods. Its use does not tend to leave a good impression in the mind of the party receiving it. He is apt to associate you and your goods and your business in the same category to which your stationery properly belongs. Think it over. Really there is but a short step at times between the road to Success and the broad highway that ends at the great big city of Failure.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER. The bill at the Butler this evening will be a World Film five-reel production entitled "M'Liss," with Howard Estabrook and Barbara Tennant, the story being one of the first written by Bret Harte, the date of publication being 1864. On this graceful foundation so characteristic of Bret Harte, the director has based a photo drama of striking interest. From Nevada he conveys the action to southern California and this gives him the chance of introducing many Mexican scenes and groupings. And there the climax of affairs is reached for a "greaser" has robbed "M'Liss" of her heritage and he meets a violent death, before justice is meted out. Howard Estabrook is a many young school teacher and Barbara Tennant has a long and trying part in that of M'Liss. The conflagration at the oil wells makes a striking effect and when M'Liss goes to a circus at Smith's Pocket much humor is evoked. And there is a fight between Gray, the schoolmaster, and the circus man which is certainly exciting. The special reel will be a Pathe comedy entitled "Whiffles and Mrs. Whiffles," and will be run just ahead of the feature. Tomorrow, "The Goddess" with Earl Williams and Anita Stewart; "Why Pays" in three reels, and a Paramount Travel picture.—Adv.

ASPHALT-BASE OILS BEST FOR LUBRICANTS

Lieutenant G. S. Bryan of the naval engineering experiment station at Annapolis, in a paper published in the Journal of the American Society of Naval Engineers for February, 1915, says: "Oils made from asphalt-base crudes have shown themselves much better adapted to motor cylinders, as far as their carbon-forming propensities are concerned, than are the paraffin-base Pennsylvania oils. The carbon formed from the latter is, as a rule, extremely hard and clings to the metal surfaces while that from the former is soft and can easily be wiped off any surface that it is deposited on. This would be expected from a consideration of the nature of the hydrocarbons composing the oil, and it has also been demonstrated in practice. "The explanation lies in the fact that the paraffin-base oils are generally composed of the paraffine series of hydrocarbons, while the asphalt-base oils are composed mainly of the ethylene and naphthene series. One of the characteristics of the latter two series as compared with the paraffine series is their tendency to distill without decomposition. Consequently, no gum will be formed on the cylinder walls, and the carbon liberated will be mostly discharged with the exhaust gases."
