RESUME OF YEAR BY ALLIES

ENGLAND---

LONDON, July 31.—Sir Edward Grey, the British minister for foreign affairs, has given the following authorized statement to the Associated Press: "I have been asked to send a message to the United States of America at the end of the first year of the war. The reasons which led Great Britain to declare war and the ideals for which she is fighting have been frequently set forth. They are fully understood in America. I do not feel, therefore, there is any need to repeat them now. I am quite contented to leave the rights and wrongs of the causes and conduct of the war to the judgment of the American people."

"The United Kingdom, and the entire empire, together with their gallant allies, have never been more determined than they are today to prosecute this war to a successful conclusion which will result in honorable and enduring peace based on liberty, and not on burdensome militarism."

RUSSIA---

PETROGRAD, July 31.—The following statement concerning the conclusion of the first year of the war was prepared for the Associated Press by M. Pollivanoff, Russian minister of war: "My opinion in a few words, after one year's duration of this war, unprecedented in the world's annals, is as follows: "The enemy is strong and cruel, and that is the very reason why Russia and her heroic allies must continue the war—should it last for several years—until the enemy is completely crushed. (Signed) "ALEXEI ANDREIEVITCH POLIVANOFF, Minister of War."

FRANCE---

PARIS, July 31.—A year of the war finds "France is fit to continue the struggle to the end and confident of the outcome," says Count Adrien Lannes de Montebello in a review of the first twelve months of hostilities given to the Associated Press. His grandfather was Marshal Lannes, at whose death on the battlefield of Essling Napoleon is said to have wept. His review of the war follows: "France was not expecting war, and her preparations therefore were less complete than those of her adversary. (Continued on Page 3.)"

FOUNDRY CONSUMED BY FIRE

The foundry plant owned by Campbell & Kelly burned to the ground early this morning. According to the statement of the night watchman at the mill of the West End company, who makes his rounds every hour, everything was all right at 2 o'clock and there wasn't a sign of fire. The battery man, chancing to pass by, saw smoke coming out of the roof of the foundry side. He ran to the office and phoned to the fire department. A quick run was made by the paid department, together with several detachments of volunteer hose carts. Five minutes after the discovery of the blaze, the oxy-acetylene welding apparatus was blown up. No one was hurt, although several small pieces of iron were hurled skywards. The damage is estimated to be at least $15,000. The pattern room was saved and some of the machinery, after a slight examination, proved to be in fairly good condition. The exact loss cannot be told until the plant is rebuilt and the machinery tested. Insurance, which was carried in several companies, amounted to $5000. Chief Kelly had a narrow escape when the explosion took place and Albert (Happy) Sherlock, another fireman, sustained a sprained ankle. Only two streams of water were used on the blaze. On the request of the owners no water was thrown on the machinery, but the building being doomed, all efforts were put forth to saving the pattern storehouse, office and other structures. The plant was built in 1905 by F. A. Taylor. Several years passed by and Taylor sold out to Horace Campbell and R. J. Kelly. Ever since that they have steadily built up their business and consequently the plant was made larger to meet the demands.

OLD COUNTY RECORDS COMING TO TONOPAH

WAR TIME VOLUMES WILL BE BROUGHT FROM COURTHOUSE AT BELMONT

Records of Nye county, dating back to 1869, are to be brought to Tonopah and placed in the vaults at the courthouse Monday morning. "Billy" Grimes, the county auditor and recorder, and Norman E. Smith, superintendent of the Monitor-Belmont, motored out to Belmont late this afternoon. Since 1904, when the county seat was moved to this city, the camp of Belmont has steadily decayed. Today, the magnificent old courthouse is nothing but an abandoned building. It is tenacious and whenever anyone wishes to enter a key is given to him by one of the inhabitants of that camp. Belmont, however, promises to have a new lease of life through the operations of the Monitor-Belmont. The records, which will be brought in, are those covering the years of 1869 to 1885, inclusive, having been overlooked at the time of the removal of the others.

NEW GAZETTE COMPANY FILES ITS ARTICLES

The change in the management of the Reno Gazette will have the finishing touches put upon it this afternoon when articles of incorporation will be filed with the county clerk of Washoe county, and later with the secretary of state of this city, says the Appeal. FRED SMITH is down from Reno. He stated in his wire that he intend

THREW INFANT FROM TRAIN AT MONTELLO

The Elko Independent of yesterday prints a story of attempted infanticide, in which it says that Greek parents threw a newly born babe from Southern Pacific train No. 19, when near Montello. About two hours later the child was found about eighteen feet from the track, half a mile east of Montello by a trackwalker. Strange as it may seem the child is still alive and it is believed that it will live.

TONOPAH CYCLER IS "HANDED A LEMON"

A postcard from Harold Walker, the boy who is making his way on a bicycle from Tonopah to San Francisco, and which was written at Lake Tahoe, said: "Arrived at Lake Tahoe Wednesday. On leaving Tonopah, I was urged to cut up two lemons, and put them in my canteen. I did so. As a result, was sick for two days and am just now getting so I can eat again. However, have made good time. As the lemons had 'put me on the bum,' I took the train from Millers to Soda-ville, thus avoiding perhaps the saddest and hottest part of the journey. After leaving Soda-ville have made every good time and thoroughly enjoyed the trip—in spite of the lemons. Am going to Echo lake tomorrow and try my hand at trout fishing. Not riding on a wager, or with the expectation of receiving any reward other than to see the country, I am getting all the fun I can out of the trip, and taking enough time to enjoy the beauty spots."

RUSSIAN ARMY TO LOSE ENTITY

Kaiser Expected to Now Begin the Long Expected Drive on His Western Front

LONDON, July 31.—German assertions that the Russian grip on the southern front has been broken indicate that the important Lublin-Chelm railway is now in the hands of the invaders, severing one line of retreat for the Russians in southern Poland. Meanwhile Von Buelow continues his drive toward Vilna, seeking to cut the northern railway from Warsaw to Petrograd. Warsaw's 800,000 people, laden with such household articles and food as they can carry, are fleeing from the city, eastward. Military writers are debating on Grand Duke Nicholas' chances for extricating his armies from the hard pinched triangle without disaster. England is greatly concerned. It is realized that Russia has lost the initiative for the remainder of the summer, which will enable the central powers to strike hard at either France, Belgium, Serbia or Italy.
