REBUILDING ON A LARGER SCALE

FOUNDRY ALMOST READY TO BLOW IN

MORE MEN THAN BEFORE THE FIRE WILL SOON BE EMPLOYED BY CAMPBELL & KELLY

Hardly had the embers of the fire which destroyed the foundry and machine shop of Campbell & Kelly begun to cool when the indefatigable firm concluded arrangements for rebuilding on a larger scale than before.

Through the good judgment used in not applying water to the interior of the building when it was seen that the structure would be entirely destroyed, the castings were not cracked and few of them were warped.

The first work of reconstruction was at the foundry. The cupola has been restored and the blower is being installed today. By the end of the week casting will be in progress.

CARRARA MARBLE QUARRY RESUMES

MORE MACHINERY ORDERED AND FINISHING PLANT WILL BE INSTALLED

Wednesday morning, after a ten days' rest, the quarries started work again full-handed. Most of the boys had taken advantage of the short lay-off to take a little vacation and rest up, the force being scattered from the Hot Springs and Tonopah to North Carolina.

Saturday night the power company made sufficient progress to enable it to furnish lights to the camp, but it was not until Tuesday that the buzzing of the wires gave promise of sufficient current to operate the machines and on Wednesday the force was called back to work.

Plans for the finishing plant are in and work will shortly be started on the foundations for the same. The site was laid off during the week, and levels shot over it. Quite a little heavy concrete work has to be done to form the foundations of the saws and rubbing beds.

An order has been placed for a wire saw for quarry development. Wire saws are coming into general use now, as the most efficient and practical method of quarry development.

UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA'S EXCELLENCE RECOGNIZED BY OTHER STATES

One-fifth of the students of the University of Nevada last year were from California.

Out of 469 students enrolled in all the departments, colleges, short courses and summer schools, 117 were from states other than Nevada and of these 89 were from California.

The significance of this large outside enrollment, and more particularly from California, is that the University of Nevada is becoming a recognized factor in western educational circles.

It is the place for Nevada young men and young women to get their college training. That fact is emphasized in the story of the success of the University opens August 30th and this year's attendance is expected to surpass all records.

JOHNSON CASE IS DRAWING TO CLOSE

SMALL ALLOWANCE IS MADE TO T. F. BONNEAU FOR SERVICES AS RECEIVER

Judge Farrington in the United States district court this morning made an allowance to T. F. Bonneau, receiver in the case of Johnson versus Johnson, of $1500, less deductions aggregating $391, says the Appeal.

The small allowance for the receiver was due to the fact that the court felt that the business of the Big Casino dance hall in Tonopah "was finally laid under conditions for which the receiver was more or less responsible."

The Johnson case has been before the federal court for exactly two years, and is now fast drawing to a close. Judge W. W. Griffin, together with former Chief Justice Sweeney, represented Mrs. Johnson almost from the outset; the late Senator Massey and P. M. Bowler represented Mr. Johnson during his lifetime, and after his death Ayres & Gardiner of Reno represented the administrator, T. J. Garner of Tonopah.

So far as the various phases of the case have been passed upon to date, Mrs. Johnson has been consistently victorious.

ASSISTANT DISMISSED BY SUPERINTENDENT

J. F. Abel of Winnemucca, for many years a deputy superintendent of public instruction and who opposed John E. Bray for the latter's position at the last election, has been dismissed from the school system as the result of Mr. Bray's refusal to reappoint him.

The board of school trustees and City-Superintendent Dilworth met last evening and made the following temporary assignment of teachers: Miss Foltz, kindergarten; Miss Withers and Miss Taylor, first grade; Miss Sullivan and Miss Robb, second grade; Mrs. Currieux and Miss Wardle, third grade; Miss Slavin and Miss Mulley, fourth grade; Miss Bonnett, fifth grade; Miss Smith, sixth grade; Miss Bradley, seventh grade; Miss Filkins, eighth grade; Miss Harris, general assistant.

SUMMARY FOR PAST WEEK MAJOR LEAGUE OF NATIONAL GAME

Boston, within a week, has reached as high as a tie for second place and as low as sixth place, after losing Sunday to St. Louis.

In the American league, Washington showed excellent form, taking six out of seven games. Johnson and Ayres came through in fine style and the team is beginning to be discussed as a remote pennant possibility.

Ten games behind third place last Sunday, Washington has reduced the gap to six and one-half games. Twenty-one victories out of the last 31 games played is Washington's record—a pace altogether better than either Boston or Detroit's within the same period.

The Senators gained little on the Red Sox and the Tigers as the leaders took three out of four games. Detroit, winning five out of seven, passed Chicago for second place. New York, taking three out of four, was the only second division club to do better than break even.

Cleveland, by the loss of a double-header, slipped back from sixth to seventh place. Philadelphia won a single game in the week, making five victories in 26 attempts. No American league club representing that city has done so poorly in years.

With five clubs virtually on even terms in the Federal league race, the past week saw two changes in their relative positions. Chicago was dethroned by Kansas City and could not again resume the lead. Newark climbed to a place in the first division, passing St. Louis.

In the American association, Minneapolis took a brace after trailing for a long time. St. Paul, however, has strengthened its hold on first place.

AMUSEMENTS BUTLER THEATER

At the Butler this evening another interesting program will be shown presenting Edward Abeles in a Paramount production entitled "The Million," a four-part film adaptation of Henry W. Savage's sensationally successful farce, which has won the distinction of possessing more laughter and wholesome fun than any comedy of recent years.

The continuous mirth continues equally from the action, caricatures and situations of one of the most novel and ingenious plots ever presented on the stage or screen. The subject also presents one of the most remarkable examples of character acting supplied in many years, in the impersonation of "Le Baron," the crook, by Edward Abeles.

In the course of the story he is called upon to portray no less than six entirely distinct characters, and with the assumption of such impersonation, Edward Abeles not only presents a wholly varied physical appearance, but lends to each of the six roles a totally distinct personality. "The Million" is all fun of the merriest sort, with as many laughs as the title.

Tomorrow, "The Curious Conduct of Judge Legarde," with Lionel Barrymore in the leading role, supported by an all-star cast.—Adv.
