RESUME OF WEEK'S SPORTING NEWS

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Baseball players in a number of the minor leagues will don their uniforms for the last time this season on Labor Day. Including those leagues which have already closed their 1915 pennant contests, more than 50 per cent of the associations embraced in organized baseball will have made their last appearance on the diamond with the double-headers of Monday. Among those which terminate their season with the first of the autumn holidays are the following leagues: Western, Texas, New York, New England, South Michigan, Central association, Virginia, Atlantic, Colonial, Ohio and California State. The closing days of August saw the final games in the Western association, South Atlantic, Central, Buckeyes, Georgia State, Middle Texas, Georgia-Alabama, Blue Ridge and Nebraska Leagues. Before the end of the month the American association, Southern, Three I, North Carolina, Northwestern, Bi-State, and Canadian leagues will have completed their schedules and left the field clear for the National, American, Federal and Pacific Coast leagues and the climax of the baseball year—the world's series.

That the ordinary mosquito is not awed by even a husky football player in training is proved by a recent attack made on the fullback of the Mulhberg college team in the training camp. As the result of a bite on the forearm, blood poisoning developed and for a time amputation of arm was thought to be the only means of saving the player's life. The poison finally yielded to treatment and Mulhberg will be able to play her regular fullback before the season is far advanced.

Former Yale football players continue to hold their popularity as coaches notwithstanding that the Blue-Griffon star has failed to shine with its usual brilliancy during the past few seasons. A canvass of the leading colleges and schools of the country has demonstrated that the New Haven university has more former players acting in coaching capacities than any one other college or university famous in football annals.

Among the other eastern institutions Princeton, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Lafayette and Syracuse are all well represented in the coaching field. In sharp contrast is the fact that Harvard and Cornell players do not apparently devote much time to coaching after graduation. In the west Chicago and Michigan lead in this respect, although there is a fair sprinkling of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Notre Dame and Illinois alumni on the list.

GRAVE PROBLEM IN DIVIDING ALLEGIANCE

GERMAN-AMERICAN SCORES HIS FELLOWS FOR PREFERRING MILITARISM

(By Associated Press.) STOCKBRIDGE, MASS., Sept. 4.—Oswald Garrison Villard, of the Evening Post of New York, German born and bred, in a speech here today said that the organization in America of societies dividing allegiance to the United States is offering a grave problem, which must stop. He said: "Many, mostly Germans, came here to avoid the militaristic autocracy which they now uphold, denouncing the nation which has sheltered and enriched them. If they prefer Germany so much, why not go back?"

FULL OF PEOPLE Elko is chock full of strangers who have come to attend the rodeo which opens on Monday next, according to Deputy United States Marshal Knight, who returned from that section. The visitors are from Utah, Idaho and many parts of Nevada, and already the hotels are filled to the attics.—Appeal.

PIONEER PRIEST DIES Rev. Father William Dyer, who from 1865 to 1870 officiated at the Catholic churches at Virginia City and Carson, passed away recently at his home at Garavanza, near Pasadena. He was 81 years of age.

headed the list of winning riders in the summer meeting at Hoppesgarten, Berlin, recently concluded, with 17 firsts in 48 races. The victories of the American rider were very popular and in racing at least there was no trace of anti-American feeling. Second place was taken by Jockey Rastenberger, riding for the Weinberg stables, for which Fred Taral, the old American jockey, is trainer. Rastenberger, who is serving with the German field artillery and was given a furlough for the meeting, rode 15 winners in 56 races. Other German jockeys follow far to the rear, the next rider, Flueschke, riding only seven winners.

Late reports from Cornell university state that there is no further doubt regarding the complete recovery of Rowing Coach Courtney, who suffered a fracture of the skull previous to the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie late in June. Courtney has made steady improvement during the past two months and is expected to be able to supervise the fall crew work at Ithaca although it is likely that he will leave much of the detail to John Hoyle. Unless there is some unforeseen setback during the next few months Courtney will be in full charge of the rowing destinies of Cornell when the crews take the water early next spring.

A novel suggestion, offered with the idea of increasing the interest in baseball, is advanced by a well known up-pire, who has studied the national sport in all its angles. He proposes to move the bleachers nearer to the diamond and double the seating capacity of a majority of these stands in the big league parks. According to this authority the secret of baseball popularity lies in the enthusiasm of the bleacherites. He says: "Modern baseball has crowded the bleacher fan to the far corners of the lot. He is so far removed from the play that he has lost his intimate acquaintance with the player and the same has suffered as a result. In the old days he was the life of the game. He was within speaking distance of both the infield and outfield players and never failed to speak out his opinion of plays both good and bad. His comments keyed the players to their best efforts and they never shirked in their work for they knew that the bleacherite would not spare their feelings if he thought that they were not trying their hardest. The bleacher fan carried his enthusiasm with him twenty-four hours a day and was a constant boomer for the game and a spur for the players. Baseball needs more fans of this type but little boxes a quarter of a mile from the diamond are not going to develop this much needed class of rooter."

GEORGE L. SANFORD ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL Word comes from San Francisco (the George L. Sanford of Carson City, who has been seriously ill at the Lane hospital for a month, is sufficiently improved to leave the hospital. He will return to Nevada in about 10 days or two weeks.
