NORTH STAR SETTLES DOWN TO UNIFORMITY

TWENTY INCHES EXTRA GRADE ORE SHOWING IN BOTH HEADINGS

The management of the North Star has nothing of a sensational nature to give out today, but most encouraging news, namely that, having passed the step fault and left the zone of seismic influence, the Martha vein, which entered the estate from the Montana, is showing 20 inches of excellent ore in both drifts on the 900 level.

Mr. Lowe, who is in charge of the property in Mr. Chandler's absence, is saving ore from both headings and the first shipment will be made Friday.

CASH BOY NOW HAS GOOD ORE IN VEIN

NORTH MERGER VEIN ENCOUNTERED WITH HEAVY BACKS IN EVIDENCE

A representative of the Bonanza went into the depths of the Cash Boy mine Saturday evening. He accompanied President A. S. Ross and Manager Meade of the property and John G. Kirchen of the Extension. On the 1450 level west it was found that the drift had penetrated a vein for a distance of about 40 feet. It was needless to take an average sample and have it assayed, for the rock showed for itself in the black sulphides. They are unmistakable to anyone who has had even casual experience with Tonopah ores. The weight and appearance of the rock, consisting as it does of an amorphous white quartz, with the stephanite shot all through it, is an assurance that it will carry 340 to the ton in silver, with a reasonable proportion of gold.

The ledge is without doubt the North Merger, which was encountered on the 1540 level of the Victor and is but five feet below the floor of the Cash Boy. Mr. Kirchen is driving on it toward the Cash Boy and has about 200 feet to go. The connection will be made as soon as possible. It is estimated that the Cash Boy has at least 200 feet of backs. The stock opened much stronger in New York this morning.

Halifax Discovery Sends Up Stock 250 Per Cent in Price in Two Days

FOOTWALL NOT YET IN SIGHT, SHIPMENT NEARLY READY, AND WINZE BEING SUNK IN ORE

Halifax is in big demand today, but nobody is willing to part with it. The only transaction was a 500-share certificate, which sold for 50 cents. The bidding is 47 cents nominal and no ask price. It appears to be a security that is held for investment.

The recent find was made approximately 1000 feet east of the shaft. This, according to the map, would place it somewhere near the joint endlines of the No. 1 and No. 2 claims and about in the center of its 80-acre estate. At all events it is far and away from any other known ore body. In the midst of a vast bed of matrix trachyte, the most favorable formation in the camp for the development of large, rich and permanent ore bodies.

Information that is given out is very meager, although there is no intent on the part of those in charge to cover up facts, but an obvious desire to have no false or exaggerated rumors go forth until the ground is fairly proven.

The Halifax find was made after many months of diligent effort to pick up the faulted segment of the big Halifax vein, which was at one time a very considerable producer. It is not known yet whether this is the long lost segment, thrown from its original position by a vast shove of the earth's crust in long ages ago, or whether it is an entirely new, or hitherto unexplored, ore body. If the latter is the case it means great things for the camp. If the former, it still means great things, although an entirely new ore formation would be much more desirable, so far as its influence upon development work in the district is concerned.

The vein was encountered by piercing the hanging wall. The crosscut has progressed seven feet and, while the footwall seems to be near, it has not yet been cut. A winze has been started on the ledge. Every pound of rock that has come out since the ledge was cut is ore of a good quality, just how good those in authority have not made public, but it is all being saved for shipment.

Where the vein was encountered is a very awkward place to work and will be until arrangements are made to better the air, which is being done. Only one machine shift is being employed at present and another for mucking. A shipment will go out in a very awkward place to work and more work is done, to determine the permanency of the formation, details of the discovery will be given out.

FRANK H. WARD IS CONVEYED TO REST

LAST SAD RITES FOR ONE WHO WAS SO WELL LOVED AND KNOWN IN TONOPAH

High mass was celebrated in St. Bridget's church, at the corner of Van Ness avenue and Broadway in San Francisco this morning for the repose of the soul of Frank H. Ward, for the past eight years a resident of Tonopah, where he was connected with the Tonopah Bonanza Printing company, as assistant business manager, where he was a member of the Fraternal Order of Elks and was a prominent young man in the community, possessing as many friends and fewer enemies, if any of the latter, than probably anyone else in town.

Frank died at noon Saturday after an illness of nearly a year. He suffered from Bright's disease and he had to abandon his desk early in the summer for a recuperation trip, from which he returned feeling temporarily bettered in health, but his decline from that time on was rapid. He left for the coast only about two weeks before his final summons came.

The deceased was a native of San Francisco and was aged about 44 years. He spent several years at Carson City before coming to Tonopah. He is survived by the following brother and sisters: George M. Ward, Mrs. L. Wickstrom, Mrs. P. C. Juhrs and Mrs. J. C. Downey, all of San Francisco.
