SERVICES SUNDAY IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

CHARACTER OF LINCOLN DISCUSSED AND PRAISED BY REV. BAYLESS

There was a full attendance at Sunday school, the day being fine. The morning sermon was the fourth of the series on the twenty-third Psalm.

A solo by Miss Foltz was the attractive feature of the music. Mrs. Bayless was the leader of the Christian Endeavor meeting.

The evening sermon was on the character of Lincoln, being the Sunday nearest his birthday.

Next Sunday evening is to be a Washington evening. Mr. Wm. Forman is to be the speaker.

HOW MEMBERSHIP OF LEGISLATURE STANDS

NEW LAW OF APPORTIONMENT GIVES EACH COUNTY ONE SENATOR

It appears from an analysis of the new law governing legislative representation and reducing the membership of the legislative bodies of the state of Nevada, that only four counties will have the privilege of electing a state senator this year.

All told there are 13 holdover senators representing 12 counties. The people of the counties of Mineral, Lyon, Nye and White Pine will elect senators.

The slash that was made by the last legislature in the apportionment of the members of both houses will result in a bigger scramble for fewer jobs.

The new law provides for one senator from each county and 37 assemblymen, apportioned as follows: Churchill 2; Douglas 1; Elko 4; Clark 2; Esmeralda 3; Eureka 1; Humboldt 3; Lander 1; Lincoln 1; Lyon 2; Mineral 1; Nye 4; Ormsby 1; Storey 1; Washoe 7, and White Pine 3.

FRANK PITTMAN DISCUSSES THE ORIENT

say you will get used to it and then you would live nowhere else. Possibly that it true.

"The principal industries of the islands are the raising of sugarcane and pineapples. The latter industry has been overdone and the price of pineapples has dropped from $40 to $5 a ton.

"Everything could be raised on the islands if it were not for the many pests that infest them. They have the Mediterranean fruit fly which destroys all the fruit and the Australian beetle that eats the vegetables.

"After returning to the United States I visited the new mining camp of Oatman. Oatman had at the time I was there two paying mines and since I left the Big Jim has opened up a large body of ore.

GOLDFIELD LOSES ON ITS OWN COURT

THIRTEEN BASKETS THROWN BY McCUBBIN, THE ALL-COAST STAR PLAYER

In the sixth game of the 1915-1916 series with Goldfield, Tonopah won from her opponents by the score of 45-34 in Goldfield Saturday evening.

Butler was next shooting six field goals and three free throws, while Dynan netted three field goals. Smith and O'Connell player their usual good games in their respective positions.

McCubbin and Dynan saved themselves by shooting some spectacular baskets. Wm. Cuddy refereed the first half, but as the spectators seemed to think that he did not know the game, the Goldfielders politely gave him the hook and substituted Ruse in his place.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

The free public library has lately received the following list of new fiction:

Heart of the Sunset, by Beach; Beltane, the Smith, by Farnol; H. R., by Lefevre; Clipped Wings, by Hughes; The Magic Story, by F. R. Dey; The Pesticote of Calamity, by Wister.

A valuable book of reference entitled "1200 Words Often Mispronounced," has been taken from the library. Anyone who will return it, will confer a favor to the public, as it is presumed that it was taken by mistake.

THE OLD RENO HOME FAR AWAY

If, as a Westchester justice has decided, a man's home is where his wife is, a lot of prominent New Yorkers would do all their voting in Reno.

the big veins in the Tom Reed ground continue through the country and only time and work will tell how far. The mineralized area of the district is about ten miles in diameter, but no important strikes had been made in the outlying sections up to the time I left, about the middle of December.

"From my talk with various engineers and mining men of large experience, I believe Oatman district will prove to be one of the large mining districts of the country. The ledges are found at about 500 feet below the surface and are very large, ranging usually from 20 to 40 feet in width. The ore is free milling and with proper milling facilities can be handled very cheaply.

"Just before returning to Tonopah I spent about three weeks in the east. I visited Denver, Chicago, Baltimore and Washington. Everyone you meet seems prosperous and very optimistic about the future prosperity of the country. In fact at this time the east is very prosperous and as soon as the surplus money of the east begins to seek investment in western securities, and it will be as soon as our securities offer a better return on the investment than their, we will experience a boom equal to the years of 1905, 6 and 7, and in the forefront of that boom will be mining, led by Tonopah.

"I believe Tonopah has just begun to develop its great mineral resources. The Tonopah Extension and other companies are showing the extent of the ore bodies to the westward and proving that the values go to great depth. Such development shows the great faith in these properties possessed by their owners, and if some of the other corporations were to develop the extreme eastern portion of the district, I have no doubt that Tonopah would be found to equal in area the great district of Cripple Creek.

PERSONAL

L. F. ADAMSON left this morning for Hawthorne on official business. R. V. ROSS and wife are visitors from Goldfield. H. A. DARMS, the Coaldale mining man, is over from Goldfield and is registered at the Mizpah. REV. PERCIVAL S. SMITHE, missionary for the Episcopal church, arrived this morning from Goldfield and will continue on to Manhattan and Round Mountain and will return to hold services in St. Mark's church next Sunday.

Perhaps the most valuable liar that ever lived was the Baron Munchausen—that is, the fictionalized baron. The real baron was a kindly soul who lived in Germany and who in nowise deserved the evil reputation that attached to him through the use of his name in a series of highly colored adventures that appeared in print in London in 1785.

The authorship of the absurd tales is a mystery. It is generally believed that Rudolph Erich Raspe, a questionable character, wrote the stories first, but there is no absolute confirmation. Following the original series a number of additional adventures were written by less skilled pens.

The real baron found little life to enjoy after the stories became generally circulated. Curious tourists haunted his estates and tried to trap him into relating some wild story. At first he resented their attention in a vigorous fashion, but in his declining years he grew sour and morose and finally died, a most unhappy person, in 1797.

How the Milliner Got Even.

A local business man, who has a friend in a nearby town who is a milliner, told a story of how the latter once got "even" with one of the leading social lights of the place after she had tried to be unfair with him. The husband of the woman in question had had a bit of hard financial sledding, and during the "reconstruction" period she had to go light on clothes. So one day she had the milliner send up some of his best hats on approval, which he did. She sent them all back, but in a few days appeared on the street with a duplicate of the most expensive one of all, which she had evidently made herself. In that town there is a middle aged woman of uncertain mental qualities and unquestionable poverty who is more or less of a town character. To her the milliner gave the original of the duplicated hat, much to the discomfort of the social queen, who apparently saw the point.

Christening Boats.

The modern custom of christening vessels is without doubt an adaptation of an ancient custom, just as so many of our other customs and habits have been adapted from ancient ones. The ancients used to place the image of a titular deity at the stern of their vessels, in the tutela, or shrine. Do you remember that the boat mentioned in the twenty-eighth chapter of the Acts, the boat that carried Paul from Malta to Rome, was "under the sign of Castor and Pollux?" It was, so says Acts. The ceremony of breaking a bottle of wine on the bow of a new vessel as it is launched is another ancient adapted custom, for the ancients offered a libation to Neptune or Poseidon, who ruled the seas, as they launched their boats.

THEATER PARTY AND A MIDNIGHT LUNCH

MEMBERS OF MONTANA CLUB ENTERTAINED DELIGHTFULLY SATURDAY EVENING

The entire membership of the Montana club came down the hill last Saturday evening to witness the special performance of "The Battle Cry of Peace" at the Butler. It was an invitation box party given by Carl Howe, a leaser from the Montana Mines company, to his fellow-members.

After the play all adjourned to the home of Mrs. Carlisle, just behind the club, and the theater or commemoration party was at once resolved into a "chicken salad party" where there was no more battling or crying, but where peace and plenty and fun reigned supreme.

That noise which wakened our citizens about midnight was not the dreadful Mizpah whistle broken loose, but simply the cheers for Mr. Howe with which this Montana club party came to an end.

ATLANTA SHOWS SHIPPING GRADE

FOUR AND A HALF FEET OF SHIPPING ORE ON 1580 LEVEL

The Atlanta mine is now in excellent condition and promises to yield a large tonnage of shipping ore, particularly on the 1580-foot level, where the main stop recently showed a face four and one-half feet wide, assaying $158 per ton, chiefly in copper. This ore was opened in driving from the 1011. A raise to the south and is in territory that had not been explored to any depth.

Preparations are being made to increase the volume of shipments, but this has been delayed to some extent by recent storms and a shortage of railroad cars. At the present price of copper there is much ore in the Atlanta that can be marketed profitably which could not be shipped at a profit when shipping was begun and when copper was selling around 14 cents per pound. Manager D'Arcy expresses himself as being well pleased with the condition of the mine. Development work continues to expose a large tonnage of lower grade ore well suited for treatment by flotation.

PERMANENT RELIEF COMMITTEE FORMED

PRACTICALLY THE SAME MEMBERSHIP AS THE TEMPORARY COMMITTEE

A meeting of people interested in charitable work in this city was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 in the club rooms at the Mizpah hotel. It was well attended and the permanent organization that was formed has practically the same membership and officers as the temporary relief committee, which also handled the matters connected with the community Christmas tree.

A special committee for relief was appointed. It consists of Mrs. Jack Schwebe, Chief of Police Evans, Rev. R. W. Bayless, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Nutto. Any deserving cases may be reported to any member of this committee as well as notification of aid that can be given.

JAMES PIKE, general manager of the Tonopah Jim Butler Mining company, left this morning for Blair, where he will examine the potash deposit north of that town, which was recently optioned by Victor Barndt and associates.
