Crown Prince Draws Net Still Closer Around the Fortress That Bars Progress

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Apr. 1.—Twenty-eight were killed, and forty-four injured in last night's air raid. It is officially announced that the Zeppelin which fell into the sea was the L-15.
The German crown prince has again shifted the point of his attack against Verdun, delivering an effective blow on the northwest fortress, gaining a footing in the village of Vaux, drawing the net still closer about the stronghold. The Norwegian Norne and the British schooner John Pritchard were sunk. The crews were rescued.

BATAVIA TEACHER WILL BEGIN WORK

HER DUTIES WILL BE CONCERNED WITH OVERCROWDED GRADES

Miss Tipton, who arrived yesterday, will begin her work as special Batavian teacher in the city schools the coming Monday morning.
The fifth and seventh grades have been crowded to such an extent during the entire year that it was impossible for the teachers in those grades to give their pupils individual instruction. Miss Tipton will now give personal attention to any pupils of those grades, who for any reason may need this special assistance.
Miss Tipton comes with the best of recommendations and will undoubtedly be a desirable addition to Tonopah's fine corps of teachers.

GOOD DEVELOPMENTS MONARCH PITTSBURG

CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING IN THE MINE WITH EACH ROUND OF SHOTS

Important developments are being had in the Monarch-Pittsburg and the management is carefully watching each round of shots fired in the two crosscuts being driven northerly and southerly at the top of a raise from the 850 level which is up 165 feet vertically. This raise was put up at a point where a large amount of ruby silver was encountered in the big vein on the 850 level a year ago. Last Wednesday as a distance of 15 feet in the north crosscut, three very excellent stringers were encountered; one of which is fully eight inches in width showing rich values. A drift was begun on this stringer yesterday and as a result of blasting the first round, conditions are much improved.

MR. JOSEPHS PLEASUED WITH M'NAMARA SHOW

After J. L. Josephs had visited the McNamara workings this morning, of which company he is president and general manager, he stated to the Bonanza that the stope is looking better than at any previous time. The fifth carload went out Thursday. While the break is now six feet, instead of nine at its widest point, the values are higher. The ore is a rich looking stephanite, and the mill returns show that it is more than mere looks. Mr. Josephs is also heavily interested in the Great Western, which he visited today.

LADIES ARE CASTING THEIR FIRST VOTES

At 3 o'clock this afternoon about 400 votes had been cast at the school election, which is taking place in the small school building across the street from the high school building. It was expected that the voting later would be much heavier, due to the day shift coming from work. At this hour it is impossible to forecast the result of the election. Both the incumbents and the women candidates have many partisans working for them and getting out the voters.
One of the pleasant features of the day was the work of the domestic science department in the high school. The teachers and girls prepared delectable refreshments for the election officers. The lunch consisted of cream of clam soup, tuna fish salad, birds in nests, asparagus tips in timbals and lemon pie.
For dinner there was: bouillon, fruit salad, veal birds, baked potatoes, creamed cabbage in turnip cups, ice cream, devil's food cakes. The night lunch consisted of deviled eggs, sandwiches, nut brownies and pickles.
The officers of the election are Edward Addison, N. L. Schade, Wm. Eddy and A. W. Briggs. The clerks are Mrs. J. K. Fisher and Mrs. Helen O'Connell.
