LEGAL TALENT AT A DISCOUNT

NEVADA is paying $500 a month for legal advice. Under the circumstances the taxpayers would be justified in believing the founts of wisdom would always be on tap and that no delays would ensue when the county commissioners desired advice on matters connected with their administration. The reverse is the case. At the last meeting of the board a bill from the Bonanza for bound copies of the file numbers of this paper was submitted for approval. The law on the subject is as plain as the nose on your face and there is no excuse for equivocation or evasion. The statutes are mandatory to the effect that every county recorder must preserve files of every publication printed within the jurisdiction of the county. The object of this law is obvious. Aside from its historical value as a means of maintaining a history of contemporaneous events the presence of the publications is often required in the courts to establish facts or to refresh dull memories on past events.

The law declares that bound copies of every publication in the county MUST be bought, kept within easy access for the benefit of the public. Complying with this statute the Tonopah Bonanza Printing company furnished bound copies of this paper from July, 1914, to December, 1915, accompanied by a bill. There never has been the least question of the propriety of this act for ever since the county was established similar bills have been allowed. In this particular case the commissioners sagely resolved to defer action until after they had received a formal opinion from their legal adviser, the district attorney.

On submission of the profound question which had been passed on and approved by every administration, including the present board, the district attorney's office evidently was bewildered for the full force including the incumbent, an assistant and a stenographer, all living at the expense of the taxpayers, found the question could not be answered without an exhaustive research. Of course this is all a by-play for the purpose of badgering the Bonanza and keeping that paper out of the county files and away from the public. There was no issue raised for there could not be the slightest doubt of the validity of the law or correctness of the bill which was laid over to another meeting for the purpose of receiving an official opinion from the district attorney.

The manager of the Bonanza was informed of this action yesterday and forthwith visited the courthouse and removed the bound files to this office where they will remain until the commissioners learn from the high-priced district attorney what they are paid for doing.

The taxpayers have not forgotten the fact that the plaintiff in the Booth trial showed that it was all malice on the part of the defendant and without any malice on the part of the prosecution.

SILVER KEEPS CLIMBING

SILVER shows no signs of waning. Every day adds another fraction to its value and adds thousands to the potentiality of Tonopah mines. This signifies that production will be pushed and that fresh capital will be found readily for the development of more properties extending the list of producers and increasing the number of wage-earners in this camp. The full import of this daily advance cannot be overestimated since it means the world is crying out for silver and, with a scarcity of the white metal in the world's marts, the output must be stimulated to keep pace with the demand. It is not alone in Tonopah that the benefit will be derived but in scores of small camps where silver could not be mined owing to the debasing of the metal. From Tuscarora to Candelaria the effect will be electric. They are all coming back. Many companies are engaged in preliminary negotiations with a view to resuming operations just as soon as they are convinced prices have some decided stability. The prospector will earn something more than wages by operating his own little group of claims and from every hillside will echo the triumphant blast telling of the prosperity that has been awaited for many weary moons. In Tonopah alone, based on the normal monthly production of 1,000,000 ounces, the advance of the past thirty days means an addition to the earning capacity of at least $60,000 a month.

Almost every newspaper in the United States has indulged in comment on the past, present and future of silver, quoting various prices as representing the established quotations for different dates. As an illustration of the wide disparity in these figures the Bonanza today prints an extract from Dun's review which is regarded as an authority on all matters pertaining to finance. These quotations are at variance with the prices used by the government survey for the calculation of values which from the discovery of Tonopah are as follows:

1901	59	1909	53
1902	53	1910	54
1903	54	1911	53
1904	58	1912	615
1905	61	1913	604
1906	68	1914	553
1907	66	1915 Highest	565
1908	53

It is to be understood, of course, that full market value are not received by producers for metals in ores; that payments are made in accordance with contracts for treatment or sale, and, that therefore, average daily quotations do not necessarily agree with average prices received.

Winnemucca is up against the new voter on the nomination of a postmaster for that town. Recently Newlands and Pittman advised Mr. McFarlane that his name had been sent in to the president and forthwith a woman began circulating petitions asking that the job be given her. The citizenry of Winnemucca thought it was a good joke on the nominee and all signed for the woman who now insists that she has the unanimous indorsement of the population and demands the job. Who said women cannot see a joke?

It is estimated that labor is 20 per cent more efficient in Los Angeles than in eastern cities, where extreme temperatures affect a man's working capacity.—Illinois Manufacturers' News. It has been proven that labor is 100 more efficient under a Republican protective tariff than under Democratic near-free-trade, where extreme tariff reductions prevent a man from getting any work at all.

A cow ate $300 in bills, the savings of a North Carolina farmer, which he had hidden in his barn. Well, if the cow hadn't got it, the Democratic tax collectors would have frisked the farmer for it. He ought to thank the cow.

The solid Wilson delegation from Nebraska to the Democratic National convention will be headed by W. J. Bryan, and the impression prevails that the peerless leader will wear his 'cocked hat.'

Those who predicted 65 cent silver are beginning to renege and raise the other fellow a few pegs higher. Seventy five cents looks more like the real thing.

PRACTICE THE GOLDEN RULE AND PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY

The continual howl of patronize home industry has gotten on my nerves. Who are the ones that are always howling, I'll show you. The Aspen merchant gets up at the alarm of a Connecticut clerk, buttons his Chicago suspenders to his Detroit overalls, washes his face with Cincinnati soap in a Pennsylvania pan; sits down to a Grand Rapids table; eats Chicago meat and Tennessee flour; cooked with Kansas lard on a St. Louis stove; writes several letters on stationery furnished by an eastern mail-order print shop; buys books from a fly-by-night agent; puts a New York bridle on a Kentucky mule fed with Iowa corn, plows a farm covered by an Ohio mortgage, with a Chattanooga plow, when bedtime comes he reads a chapter of a Bible printed in Boston, says a prayer written in Jerusalem, crawls under a blanket made in New Jersey, only to be kept awake by an Aspen orchestra of cats howling through the night, the only home industry on the job.

Pretty punk, we claim. So why insist that the other fellow patronize home industry, while you do as you damn please. Think it over.—Aspen, Colo., Exchange.

STORM EXTENDS FROM COAST TO THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS

The storm that broke over eastern California Monday and descended on Tonopah yesterday continues on the west with snow at Bishop this morning and rain further west. The visitation is nothing remarkable for this section as it is common to have wet snows any time in April or as late as May. Last year it will be remembered that on the first week of May over three feet of snow fell blocking traffic and preventing delivery of house supplies. The total precipitation yesterday, according to U. S. Observer Legler was 54 of an inch.

ZINC PROPERTY BIG PRODUCER OF METAL

CERRO GORDO MINES IN INYO COUNTY NETS LARGE SUM FOR FIVE MONTH'S WORK

The Cerro Gordo Mines company of Inyo county, California, produced a net profit of $40,250.50 in the five months ending February 29, according to report made at the annual meeting held in Reno, says the Reno Journal.
 Prior to October 1 the property had been leased for five years and the company found it impossible to do any development work up to March, a condition since remedied by the installation of a power plant. It is believed that shipments of zinc, aggregating 1000 tons a month, will be maintained for a considerable period and that earnings will increase. The silver will be stored.
 Officers and directors were elected as follows: President, Frank J. Hamby, San Jose; vice president and general manager, L. D. Gordon, San Francisco; secretary, A. L. Dornberger, San Jose; treasurer, Frank J. Hagenbarth, director, Judge John E. Richards of the appellate court of California, San Jose.

The many friends of Mr. W. K. Freudenberg will be pleased to know that he has been appointed director of the organization for industrial preparedness for the state of Nevada, and associate member of the naval consulting board.
