BRYAN IS DEFEATED AT THE PRIMARIES

BILLY AND BROTHER SNOWED UNDER IN APPEAL TO NEBRASKA PARTY

(By Associated Press.) OMAHA, Apr. 22.—Late returns from the Nebraska preferential primary are increasing the lead given earlier to five opponents of William Jennings Bryan in the race for delegates-at-large to the Democratic national convention. Bryan is now in sixth place on a ticket of seven, only four of whom will be elected.

C. W. Bryan, brother of the former secretary of state, mayor of Lincoln, has been beaten for the gubernatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket, according to returns from more than two-thirds of the precincts of the state.

The nominee will be Keith Neville of North Platte, who is now leading Bryan by 10,000 votes. Bryan's campaign was conducted on a prohibition platform and the former secretary of state appealed personally to the voters in his brother's behalf.

Senator G. M. Hitchcock, candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, has been nominated by a majority of two to one over I. J. Dunn of Omaha. W. J. Bryan toured the state in opposition to Senator Hitchcock.

The Republican race for nomination for governor, which earlier returns indicated would be closely contested, is now going to A. L. Sutton, who leads S. R. McKelvie, his nearest competitor by 2,000 votes. Henry Ford of Detroit has a substantial majority over all other Republican candidates for the presidential nomination. Supporters of Albert B. Cummins, of Iowa, who is nearly 3,000 votes behind Ford believe the Iowa may ultimately win, for later prospects to report have cut Ford's lead appreciably to the advantage of Cummins.

For national committeeman, R. B. Howell, Republican, is conceded to have been nominated. Arthur Mullen and James C. Dahman are running so closely for the Democratic nomination which is likely to be in doubt until all the votes have been counted.

The result of the contest for delegates at large to the Republican convention is still in doubt.

AGED EXPRESSMAN INJURED IN RUNAWAY

JOHN ANDREWS, ONE OF THE OLDEST DRIVERS OF TONOPAH SUSTAINS INJURIES

John Andrews, the aged French expressman, who stands in front of the post office, was badly injured this morning by his horse running away and throwing him beneath the wheels. The injured man was taken to the county hospital, where he was placed in a private ward. Examination disclosed that the injuries were a dislocated shoulder a broken arm and a bad cut in the head which may prove serious owing to the advanced age of the patient who has passed the 80th milestone.

Andrews usually drives a couple of horses in double harness and never has had any trouble except in cases where either was driven single. That happened this morning when, with a single horse, Andrews was driving down Mineral street toward the railroad station. The animal became frightened at some flying object and with a jerk started to run. The sudden shock threw the driver into the roadway where he was struck by the front wheel and it is supposed, kicked by the animal. Two men who saw the accident sprang into the wagon and seizing the reins tried to check the runaway but could not bring the horse to a stop until they succeeded in driving it into the fence at Clendenning's corral. Mr. Andrews is one of the best characters around town. He has lived a frugal life and is credited with having amassed a small fortune.

EXTERMINATING RABID COYOTES

SMALL ARMY OF HUNTERS TAKE THE FIELD UNDER RABIES COMMISSION

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 22.—The appropriation by congress in the urgent deficiency act of $75,000 for the control of rabies among coyotes in the west has enabled the bureau of biological survey of the U. S. department of agriculture, to put 5 inspectors and 190 hunters in the field, in addition to its existing organization. These men are to serve in Oregon, Nevada, California and Idaho, and along the border in Utah. In addition to these measures the Nevada Rabies commission has signified its intention of expanding a large sum of money under recommendations made by the biological survey, and it is probable that other states will do likewise. Stockmen and ranch owners are co-operating by furnishing horses and forage free of charge. The importance of preventing the spread of the disease is fully realized.

The coyote has always been a pest to stockmen, but with the advent of rabies it has become a serious danger to persons as well as to stock. In many sections of Oregon, Idaho, California and Nevada, parents are afraid to send their children to school unless they are well guarded, and there is always danger that domestic dogs will be bitten by the mad animals and spreads the disease to the families of their owners. In Oregon and Nevada over 100 persons have received the Pasteur treatment for rabies within the past three years and stock interests have suffered severely. In one feed lot in Winnemucca, Nevada, a single coyote caused the loss of 23 head of three-year old beef steers.

Although this is regarded as the most serious, it is not the first outbreak of rabies among coyotes in the western states. In 1911 the disease made its appearance in Wallowa county, Oregon, and spread southward. This infestation still continues. In the spring of 1915 the disease made its first appearance in northern Nevada, and at the present time southwestern Idaho, northwestern California, and approximately the northern half of Nevada are infested.

The normal coyote is cunning, but cowardly and has a particular aversion to the scent of a human being. When stricken with rabies, however, it does not hesitate to snap at everything in reach and to attack men as well as dogs and cattle. In this condition it does not eat and consequently can not be killed by poisoned baits. In controlling the disease the bureau of biological survey purposes first to prevent its spread by killing off the coyotes along the borders of the infested districts. After this has been

ENGLAND TO BUILD HIGH TARIFF WALL

FREE TRADE EMPIRE BECOMES AN ADVOCATE OF PROTECTION SYSTEM

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Apr. 22.—The recent tariff agitation, growing out of the movement to cut off Germany's trade activities after the war has been checked by the announcement of Prime Minister Asquith in Parliament that the conferences of the allies going on at Paris would not deal with customs affairs, these being left for governmental action by each country. It has been expected that the conferences would take advisory action, in line with the recent movement of British chambers of commerce, for a tariff giving special advantages to trade among the allies and colonies, reasonable concessions to neutrals, and a solid wall against Germany. But the premier's announcement is taken to mean that while joint action against Germany is open to discussion, each country must be left free to frame its own tariff laws without any commitment on a tariff scheme at a conference. The London Morning Post, one of the most active in the recent agitation, urges that the prime minister's announcement arraigns the political against the business interests, and that the latter should press forward their movement. It says: "With a tariff wall round the British empire we shall be in a fit position to come to terms with our friends and to defend ourselves against our enemies. These questions are urgent and burning; they have been raised in a practical and pressing form by the exigencies of war. We believe it to be true that we must settle them or perish. There is every sign that the country now desires protection. No free trader dare stand up and say, in the face of the lessons of this war, that our present system of free imports shall be continued. They all make concessions to opinion, and many of our best free trade business men have been ashamed to announce their change of mind. It is the free trade politician who remains stubborn and unconverted. We are certain that the producers should be able to place before that able but somewhat elusive politician convincing proofs of the justice and the power of their cause. There is not time to be lost; if our industries do not dig themselves in now they may be overwhelmed by the new dangers of peace."

There is some advantage even to war. The importation of limburger cheese has practically stopped.
