

REGULATING CHILD LABOR OF CITIES

NATIONAL CHARITIES CONFERENCE ELECTS INTERESTING REPORTS OF JUVENILES

(By Associated Press.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 15.—Discussion of children's societies, industrial hygiene, juvenile courts, street trades regulation, small communities, public health nurses, and other civic and sociological topics today engaged the attention of the delegates to the National Conference of Charities and Correction.

Edward N. Clopper, Ph. D., northern secretary of national child labor committee, New York City, submitted a paper on "Street Trades Regulations."
"In twenty-eight states of the union there is no law governing street trading by children," he said. "In the other states the provisions are of great variety, though some have followed the usual custom of copying the law of some other commonwealth, without much thought as to whether or not its provisions were adequate."
"Kentucky has established the best and most logical standard in this country for both boys and girls in this work, the age limit for boys being fourteen and for girls eighteen years, for all kinds of street trading in cities, including newspaper selling. This seems logical because it is the general standard for boys in other common forms of employment and for girls the propriety of the higher age limit of eighteen years will hardly be questioned by anyone. Boys under sixteen years of age are not permitted to work at night which also corresponds to the restrictions of the ordinary child labor law."

"In Utah the age limit for selling newspapers is twelve years for boys and sixteen years for girls, but for some unaccountable reason, bootblacking is tacitly approved as an occupation for little girls by a reduction of the limit for them to twelve years."

Judge J. Wilmer Latimer, of the juvenile court of the District of Columbia, explained the recent tendency of juvenile court to dovetail more closely into the work of public schools. He also advised a more modern organization of the juvenile court so that criminal procedure would be entirely dispensed with and cases would be handled in chancery exactly as cases of dependency.

"Punishment of a child," said Judge Latimer, "should never be inflicted except for the purpose of correction, and experience has demonstrated to every parent that it is not always the most effective means of accomplishing that result."

DECLINE IN HEALTH DUE TO TROLLEY CARS

JAPANESE EXAMINER REPORTS ON GROWING WEAKNESS OF HIS RACE

(By Associated Press.)
TOKIO, May 15.—Street cars, too much schooling and too little exercise are the causes of a deterioration in the physical condition of the younger generation of Japan, according to the views of Colonel K. Okudaira, commander of a Tokyo regimental district. Basing his judgment on the results of recent conscription examinations at Tokio, the officer says he finds indisputable evidence of a decline in the health of the young men of the country, especially of the metropolis.

"The health decline is becoming a serious national problem," declared Colonel Okudaira. He said that while the results of conscription examinations for last year were not worse than those for 1913, and that on the whole the physical condition of the young men in Japan is deteriorating year by year. He added:

"Tokio is the worst of all parts of the empire in matters of health. This is partly due to the developments of the means of transportation. The increase of tramways means that the people do not get enough exercise. Another reason for the poor results of the conscription examinations in recent years may be the fact that owing to the progress of medical science even children of weak constitution are saved from sickness which otherwise would have killed them."

INTERNED SOLDIERS HAVE A GAY TIME

THOUSANDS OF THE DETAINED SOLDIERS HAVE LEISURE HOURS FROM FRONT

(By Associated Press.)

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, May 15.—A recent census of the belligerent troops that have crossed the Dutch frontiers to date and are now interned in this country amounts for 27,886 Belgians, including 350 officers; 1,589 Brits, including 54 officers; 144 Germans, including eight officers; 3 Frenchmen, all officers. Several thousand of the men at present are working and living as ordinary civilians in various parts of Holland, while the others are accommodated at internment camps. All the 54 British officers are out on parole, in accordance with the permission given by the British government, and they enjoy full freedom within the boundaries of the country. Most of them live at the Hague, or at the seaside resorts close by.
The men of the British naval reserve interned at Groningen have returned actors. No less than four district theatrical companies from the camp have toured the country amusing big audiences of Dutch people with their droll English humor, the proceeds going to flood relief and other charitable funds.

The actual cost to Holland of maintenance of the internment camps to date has been nearly $7,000,000, but this money will be repaid by the various governments concerned when the general settling up comes at the end of the war.

ITALIAN GIRL TAKES A TOLL OF DEATH

WATCHES THE AUSTRIAN FRONTIER TO SLAY ENEMIES OF HER COUNTRY

(By Associated Press.)

GENEVA, Switzerland, May 13.—From Brescia the Swiss Alpine troops in the Stelvio Pass have noticed a slim Italian girl aged about 18 armed with a rifle climbing the snow-covered path almost daily up to the Austrian frontier and spending most of the day there. One of the Swiss soldiers inquired what she was doing. The Italian girl replied fiercely: "They have killed my two brothers and my fiance and I am taking revenge. I think I have killed four Austrians but that is not enough. I shall continue shooting until I am killed myself." The Swiss patrol saw the girl with her rifle strapped to the shoulder disappears down the snow-covered path towards the valley.
