NOT A HOMESTEAK BUT A HOME

TWO causes contribute to the permanency and prosperity of Tonopah. Primarily, of course, are the richness and continuity of the ore bodies, which never presented a better appearance nor had greater prospects for development than at present. But the other cause is far from being a negligible one. It is the efficient and scientific manner in which the ground is explored, the ore extracted and the milling processes conducted.

It was indeed a high compliment that Tonopah was paid yesterday by two gentlemen from Pachuca, Mexico, who are visiting the camp and studying conditions here. The property which they are operating is, with the possible exception, of course, of Tonopah's banner producers, the greatest silver mine in the world, its hundred and thirty stamps and thirty tube mills treating high grade ore from a twenty foot ledge opened up for a depth and length equal to that of any mine in this district.

Yet these gentlemen, skilled as they are in mining and metallurgy, come to Tonopah to seek, and they say they have found, the latest word in mining and ore reduction. Praise from such a source is valuable, as their standing carries conviction. One of the mills in this camp is pronounced the most efficient they have found in their visit to the various mining districts, and they may be assured that the others are conducted on similar lines.

It is little wonder that trees are being set out and concrete sidewalks laid in Tonopah, that municipal improvements are on permanent lines. Tonopah is here to stay and we should congratulate each other that this is not an ephemeral camp, but at the same time we should each and all seek to have this permanency more fully established by our individual acts, building for tomorrow, rather than merely for today, and convincing ourselves that we are not here for a homestead but for a home.

THE DUTY OF NEVADA

THERE are 531 votes in the electoral college, of which it will require 266 to elect. The Democrats claim Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and Virginia, as absolutely sure to give Mr. Wilson their solid vote. These states have a total of 118 votes in the college, and history bears out the Democratic claims to these states. Some of the more enthusiastic Democrats claim Texas this year, while others put it in the doubtful list. But even with Texas' eighteen votes, the most enthusiastic of the Democrats count 136 votes for Mr. Wilson.

On the other hand, the Republicans claim California, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Idaho, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Maine, New Hampshire, North and South Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin, and Vermont, which states have a total of 240 votes in the college.

The historical records of the country bear out the above segregation as the ABSOLUTELY SURE Democratic and Republican states, respectively. Although neither Mr. Wilson nor Mr. Hughes has enough votes in the SURE column to be elected, we find that Mr. Wilson needs 130 votes from the doubtful states to bring about his election, while Mr. Hughes needs but 26.

The doubtful states are Arizona, Connecticut, New York, Delaware, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, Montana, New Mexico, Nevada, Nebraska, New Jersey, West Virginia, and Wyoming, which have a total of 155 votes in the college, even leaving Texas with its 18 votes as sure Democratic.

We know that Texas is largely dissatisfied with the Wilson policies, and that it is by no means sure, and we of the west think Arizona and New Mexico are reasonably safe in the Republican column. However, after giving the Democrats credit for all they claim, it appears to us that Mr. Hughes has a much better chance to secure 26 votes out of 155 doubtful than Mr. Wilson has to land 130.

The campaign battles will be waged in the doubtful states with the greatest energy. The most powerful speakers and men of influence will charge back and forth across these states.

The campaign in Maine was a bitter one. Every member of Wilson's cabinet that could talk was hurled into the Maine campaign to back up the most powerful politicians and greatest speakers of the Democratic party. The Democrats staked all upon Mr. Wilson's popularity, and LOST in a total annihilation of the party in Maine. Maine was one of the doubtful states until she rose in her might and removed the brand of doubt.

Nevada has but three votes in the college, but the old battle born state, that Lincoln made, deserves to come positively to the front as a Republican state and shake the disgrace of Democratic doubt from its shoulders and say to Mr. Hughes: "You need but 23 votes, not 26."

PREVENTION BETTER THAN CURE

NEVADA expected, at least hoped, to escape the dread malady, infantile paralysis, which has taken the toll of thousands of innocent little lives in the east and which has now spread from coast to coast, but it is learned that the invasion has taken place. Let Tonopah take immediate precautions. The teachers in the public schools should each become thoroughly familiar with the first symptoms so that any possible case may be detected in its first stages, before it becomes communicable. The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure is particularly applicable to this situation. It would be criminal negligence to permit children to be exposed needlessly. Undoubtedly the school authorities will act in this matter and receive the hearty co-operation of teachers and parents. There is no occasion to be needlessly alarmed over the situation, but the prompt measures taken at Reno should be an object lesson to Tonopah.

THE STROLLER

BY L. B. (LETSON BALLETT)

For some years I have occasionally written short articles for publication in various papers under this head. Some have been intended to amuse, and some to make the readers think. Never are they intended to offend. Friendship comes from kindness, and I think I have many friends among the readers of this paper, and I hope to make more. If my views differ from yours, I grant you the right to your views just as freely as I claim the right to my own. If your politics differ from mine, you have every right to your own convictions, the same as I have to mine, and I will still be your friend, without regard to politics, religion, race, color, nationality or occupation. I shall pay for this space at advertising rates and thus be sure it will not be crowded out by more important matter.

When the influential Republicans, taxpayers, business men, and citizens, came to me and asked me to accept the nomination for SHERIFF and ASSESSOR, on the Republican ticket, I declined to consider it, but when they insisted that I must make the campaign to break up the ring of MACHINE POLITICIANS that are entrenched in the courthouse, I yielded. They told me that the burden of taxation was growing unbearable; that it was getting worse and worse every year; that the money all disappears with very little, if anything, to show for it. That they had borrowed $20,000 just a few weeks ago, to have money to spend during the campaign, and that the taxpayers and citizens who were living here could not stand it any longer.

Considering it from every standpoint, I decided that if the citizens really wanted to rid themselves from the burden of excessive taxes and eliminate the ring of machine politicians, that I would lead the fight for them, for the PUBLIC GOOD. I looked into the matters as a Specialist in Economic Science (Efficiency Specialist) and I find that the overhead expense of conducting this county's business is fifty per cent higher than necessary, and thousands of dollars are wasted in expenditures that have been ill advised and incompetently directed. Voters, I am at your service; I'll guarantee to deliver a high percentage of efficiency or will accept no pay.

To oust the gang of machine politicians, we must have co-operation—we must all pull together.

Two years ago I was chairman of the Republican County Central committee, when the fusion proposition was proposed. The Republican County Central committee rejected the proposition by a strong majority. A few thought we should call a mass meeting and decide it by the party and not by the Central committee. The mass meeting was called and the room was packed with "machine Democrats" to carry the fusion resolution. In that way it was carried, much to the dissatisfaction of three-fourths of the Republicans of the county. The Republican Central committee refused to handle the campaign, which left the fusion candidates select a half dozen friends as a FUSION CENTRAL COMMITTEE. In this way the fusion ticket won, but the Socialists put up a candidate that three-fourths of the Republicans voted for in an effort to break up the ring. Many Democrats that were disgusted with "machine control" voted for the Socialist, and he lacked but a few votes of winning. This year the solid Republican vote and hundreds of the anti-machine Democrats will vote for the Republican candidates, to break up the "gang control."

The motto of the Republican party is "THE SAME EFFICIENCY IN PUBLIC OFFICE THAT IS DEMANDED IN PRIVATE BUSINESS AND A REDUCTION OF THE TAX RATE." The Socialist candidate, if they have one this year, will not draw any Republican nor Democratic votes, and without three-fourths of the Republicans and three hundred Democratic votes he cannot hope to be a serious factor in the coming election. A VOTE FOR ANY ONE BUT THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE IS A VOTE FOR HIGH TAXES AND THE CONTINUATION OF THE MACHINE CONTROL.

Voters, with your co-operation I'll lead the fight to break up the gang's control of county affairs.

INVESTIGATION OF HOW WOMEN PLAN TO VOTE

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—James R. Garfield of Ohio, in charge of the woman's vote bureau at western Republican headquarters, left Chicago today for a trip through the west to study the political situation as it affects harmony between Republicans and Progressives and to ascertain which way women will vote on national issues in November. He will visit Wyoming, Nevada, North Dakota, Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Colorado and Nebraska.

DR. COWDEN returned this morning from a visit to Reno and San Francisco.
