

BELGIAN ARMY BETTER EQUIPPED THAN AT BEGINNING OF THE WAR

(By Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—The Belgian army is larger, better equipped and more determined today than it was at the beginning of the war, said Lieutenant General Leclere, military member of the Belgian mission in an address to the National Press Club. The general gave a graphic description of how twice, at Liege, and at the Yser, his countrymen held up Germany's hordes while the allies united in the rear, and told of the joy the Belgian soldiers would experience on sight of the American khaki.

"The king without a country," General Leclere said, "is the expression the German newspapers use to designate our sovereign. This is not quite accurate. There remains a part of Belgium still unviolated. The German hordes have not succeeded in passing the Yser. The Germans shall never conquer this small corner of our country."

Besides rehabilitating their army after terrible losses, the general declared, his country has set up munitions factories abroad, one at Havre with 15,000 workers and two at Richmond, and Letchworth in England, with 35,000, while the royal Belgian Lloyd, with $50,000,000 capital, assures transportation at sea. Special schools train the maimed and the cripples for whatever work their disabilities make possible.

The Belgian army now occupied a front of 22 miles with eight divisions, including two of cavalry. The land is low and flat, requiring millions of sandbags for defence.

Nothing remains, said General Leclere "in the battle zone where once there were great fields filled with cattle, smiling Flemish farms and green trees. The only bright note if I may so call it, are the graves of those who have poured out their blood for their native land, serving as an encouragement to their living comrades, to whom they say and incessantly repeat: 'Avenge us. Do your duty.'"

"Upon Belgium's first victory of the war at Liege the General dwelt at length. There, he said, his countrymen, barely 100,000 strong, met at least three times as many Germans, inflicted losses admitted by Germany to total 42,500 and paralyzed for 13 days the great invasion which after 40 years methodical preparation was expected to be irresistible.

"The Germans had organized a formidable war machine whose wheels were adjusted with absolute precision," he added. "The resistance of Belgium at Liege was the little grain of sand which threw the whole machinery out of gear at the very commencement, as it permitted the French to gain very precious time."

"In Africa," the general concluded, "we have met the Germans. Our colonial army, 18,000 colored troops before the war, was immediately increased to 23,000 and dedicated itself to inflicting a merited punishment for the unjust invasion of the mother country. Belgium has gained a territory of incalculable value with a population of 8,000,000 and an area twice as large as Belgium itself and offering the most favorable commercial resources."

MORE MINERS APPLY FOR WORK IN PLACE OF BUTTE STRIKERS

(By Associated Press.)
 BUTTE, Mont., June 26.—The Metal Trades Council of Butte informed C. F. Kelly, vice president of the Anaconda Copper Mining company last night that unless the men at the mines who are doing the work of the striking electricians are stopped, trades unionists employed at the mines will be called out.

Mr. Kelly replied that the men would not be discharged as the companies did not and would not recognize the Metal Mine Workers Union, which the company charges is controlled by the Industrial Workers of the World.

Three hundred additional miners appeared for work at the Butte mines yesterday, making the largest number applying for work in any one day since the strike was called on the mines by the Metal Mine Workers Union to enforce its demand of $6 a day wages and improved working conditions. The striking electricians ask higher wages. The electricians also demand that the Metal Mine Workers Union be recognized by the mining companies.

Mr. Kelley who arrived from New York, has taken charge of the labor situation.

The force now at work in the mines, it was stated, is able to produce ten per cent, or 100,000 tons of the normal output of ore.

Carpenters employed by the mining companies, according to a statement by the employers, are to make a demand in the near future for $7 a day, a raise of $2 over what they are now receiving. It was also said that the machinists are expected to strike in sympathy with the electricians. No member of the carpenters' or machinists' unions would discuss the reports.

The blacksmiths and helpers union is taking a referendum vote on the question of calling out its members employed by the mines.

The smelter at Anaconda was closed down last night on account of a scarcity of ore. Ore now produced will be sent to Great Falls for smelting.

AT THE PRESIDIO TRAINING QUARTERS MEN KEPT BUSY

(By Associated Press.)
 SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 26.—The men at the Presidio military reservation taking the three months intensive military course to prepare them for commissions in the American overseas armies to the number of 500 will have their first introduction to the roar of big guns. These are the men selected by officers in charge of the camp for service in the field artillery branch of the service.

Lieutenant Colonel Frederick W. Shaden, camp commander, has been notified by the war department that a battalion of field artillery of the California national guard will be sent to the Presidio for duty as a training unit for the student officers. The battalion, consisting of two or three batteries, will be stationed at the Presidio until the camp closes. The national guard men will bring all their artillery.

The news that the artillerymen will remain at the Presidio for the remainder of their training has been received with pleasure by them. For some time past there have been rumors designating first one point and then another in various parts of the country as being selected as the shooting ground for them and the uncertainty as to their future movements now is dispelled.

The infantrymen are busily engaged, as are the cavalrymen, in digging trenches and by next week they expect to have a model trench entirely completed in which they can be taught the manner of fighting from within them. This will include instruction as to the methods both of repelling an enemy making an attack upon them and in "going over the top" when an offensive is directed against the enemy. The ways and means of discharging hand bombs, trench guns and other offensive weapons from the narrow confines of the trench is included in the lessons. Lectures on all sorts of subjects are liberally interspersed so that the theory and practice go hand in hand.

The first batch of men have just returned from their five-day instruction on the government rifle ranges in Marin county, just across the bay from San Francisco. The second lot now is undergoing the same instruction. Approximately 350 men compose one of these squads and they will continue these five-day periods each until all the men have had their turn in the butts. Even the greenest of novices become reasonably good marksmen by the end of five days of continual shooting. Many men who never handled a rifle have suddenly discovered that they have the makings of natural riflemen.

CHINA'S TROUBLES NEARING AN END

(By Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—Early settlement of China's troubles was forecast today in dispatches to the state department telling of the beneficial effect of the recent American note. Other dispatches to the Chinese legation announced the formation of a coalition cabinet including representatives of the secessionists and Peking press reports giving additional details of the abandonment of military measures by the southern provinces.

The American note to China urging both factions to compose their differences, about which so much misunderstanding centered, was reported to the department as having created a very favorable impression in China.

Great Britain, Japan and France declined to follow this country's course of action on the ground that any suggestions from the outside would be apt to have a bad effect.

The settlement of the internal crisis will expedite China's entrance into the war, according to opinion here. All parties in China are said to have been in favor of war, but refused to enter it under the former leadership.

INYO TUNGSTEN MINE WILL BE DEVELOPED

A tungsten mill of 1000 tons daily capacity; the development of an enterprise so great that nearly half a million dollars will be spent before there is any possibility of return; the evolution of a tungsten proposition larger than all others combined of its nature in Inyo are early possibilities, says the Inyo Register.

Cooper Shapley is now in Los Angeles in consultation with the backers of the huge undertaking, and entertains no doubt that it will go ahead.

Claims owned by the Beauregards, Wm. Vaughn and L. E. Stroud are the basis of this proposition. Within the last two weeks options have been secured justifying capital in taking hold of the property.

The discovery was made last year. Its site is on the side of Mt. Morgan west of Round Valley, and near Morgan creek, better known as the north fork of Pine creek. The claims are at an elevation of 11,300 feet.

When found, molybdenum was the ore content that attracted chief attention. Tungsten is, however, the substance that is present in such quantities as to attract attention of capital. One per cent is the average on which calculations are being based, but Mr. Shapley states that there are, through the ore bands and streaks several inches wide of nearly pure scheelite.

Little development work has been done by the owners. Nature has developed the deposit to more complete extent than any reasonable amount of mining could do. The ledge matter stands out boldly, in a long and high rampart. In places it is broken by gulches two or three hundred feet deep, showing continuance of ore as far as they have opened it.

"No telling how deep it goes," said Mr. Shapley, and no very great matter. There is enough about ground to justify going ahead. It will take at least $100,000, maybe more, before any ore can be worked in the property's own plant. The outlook is that the thing is a go."

A two-mile tram line will be required to shoot ore down to where a mill can be located, probably somewhere near the Pine creek falls. Calculations are being made for a 1000-ton mill.

EXPLODING AUTO TIRE INJURES YOUNG LADY

According to the Eureka Sentinel, Miss Margaret Kitchen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Kitchen, of Ruby Hill, met with a serious accident Thursday afternoon. She put a quick detached tire on a rim and pumped it up to 65 pounds, and left it standing in the sun. Later in the afternoon when she attempted

She was immediately brought to Eureka to Dr. Roberts, who found both eyes seriously injured, and it was feared that she would lose the sight of the left eye. The doctor succeeded in removing the particles from the eyes and they have since been gradually responding to treatment.—Elko Free Press.
