THE BOYS START ON ROAD TO BERLIN

Oh, the beauty, and the pity and the exultation of it all! To see the boys stand erect and blink manfully while wives, mothers or sweethearts cling to them in fond embrace. Tears mingled with cheers when the 319th volunteers went away this morning. Half the city saw them depart and stood with bared heads as they cheered and cheered.

Promptly at 8:15 the national anthem was played at the intersection of Main street and Brougher avenue. Then came the components of the parade. There were the old veterans, the men of the Civil war. Some had worn the blue and some the grey, but now they are comrades and patriots, just as are all loyal Americans. Ed Harmer of the G. A. R. was again the standard-bearer.

Then came the Elks, practically the entire local membership. It was an occasion that they might well celebrate, for there are forty stars already on their beautiful service flag.

Hats were off to the noble woman of Gettysburg Relief Corps and three roving cheers were given the Boy Scouts as they marched up with the precision of veterans. Then came school boys and girls galore with a multitude of flags.

The L. O. O. F. and Rebekahs were out in force to say good-bye to those of their members who loved America and would fight to give democracy to the people of the entire world and had enlisted in the engineers for this purpose.

A feature of the parade was the banner carried by Misses Margaret Ray and Thelma Scott. It bore this legend: "319 engineers, Tonopah to Berlin. This banner was later placed on the side of the car.

So many people were in line and so many hundreds marched on the sidewalks that the wonder is who stayed behind to keep the home fires burning. But just when everybody was keyed up for enthusiasm and shouting and laughter and all there came the plaintive, scuffling strains of "Auld Acquaintance." The band played in lower tone and Tom Wilbur's beautiful tenor rang out, the musicians carrying the obligato. That was when the tears came. People who barely knew the departing soldiers were visibly moved, while the grief at parting was not concealed by the old-time friends and those akin.

Other departures of soldier boys were impressive, but this was such a sincere and heart throbbing going away. Everyone of the multitude present realized that the slain will lie mountains high on the fields of France when the seven million men already in line of combat bark to the bugle call of battle in the most horrible crash and clash of arms in the history of the world. If any of the boys we bade farewell to this morning do not come back, we know that they will sleep in hallowed soil in Flanders' field.

Here is the roll of honor for Tonopah, Manhattan and Goldfield:

JOHN F. LIGHTFOOT

"Good-bye! Good-bye! Good-bye! Come back safe! Get the kaiser!" Then they cheered and cheered and cheered and all the bells rang and all the whistles blew as the boys of the 319th departed on the first stage of their journey to Berlin.

SEARCH WARRANT PROCEEDINGS QUASHED

CHICAGO, March 9.—The United States circuit court of appeals today quashed the search warrant which Judge Landis issued recently to permit government examination of letter files in the office of Henry Veeder, counsel for Swift & Co. The warrant was sworn to by Francis Henry, special counsel of the federal trade commission in the packers investigation.

The decision intimated Henry was on fishing expedition. It was found that under the constitution and statute specific papers wanted must be requested and petitioners under oath must furnish facts, not belief or surmises.

CATTLEMEN COMPLAIN OF LABOR SCARCITY

EL PASO, Tex., March 9.—War and the moving pictures have depleted the ranks of cowboys to round up, cut out and herd cattle.

W. L. Rmonett, secretary of the Panhandle Southwestern Stockmen's association, says the cattlemen are all complaining because of a scarcity of labor on the cattle ranches. The army has drawn heavily on the ranches for men, especially the cavalry. The draft took many more and the moving picture companies have commandeered other cowboys to make the western films.

This has led to the older cattlemen returning to the saddle for work on the range to take the place of the young men who have gone.

AMUSEMENTS

BUSHMAN AND BAYNE AT THE BUTLER.

A real Hallowe'en party in an old southern mansion is one of the novel features in "The Voice of Conscience," the Metro production co-starring Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, which will be the attraction at the Butler this evening. The party, replete with unusual novelties, was staged in a large ball room, decorated with joo-o'-lanterns, flags and bunting. With dominating prominence in the center of the room was a mammoth pumpkin, which provided the de luxe novelty of the evening. A little fairy entered the scene and when she waved a wand the pumpkin separated into sections and out flew a "baby angel." Eighty dancers participated in the party scenes and gay music was provided by a colored "jazz" band. In the midst of all the festivities the villain comes in and denounces the hero. Exciting scenes take place which are in vivid contrast to the previous moments of gaiety. The picture is filled with thrills and charm from beginning to end. But this is not all of the program today. Do not miss seeing the two-reel Mack Sennett Paramount comedy, "An International Sneak." It is worth the price. There has never been a "had one" yet—all record-breakers.

Tomorrow, Baby Marie Osborne, in "The Little Patriot," and Pearl White, in "The Fatal Ring."

COLLECTING FOX GLOVE.

(By Associated Press.)
CORVALLIS, Ore., March 9.—Since being informed that Uncle Sam's soldiers needed large quantities of fox glove for medical purposes, and that Oregon was looked to for a big supply, patriotic persons in the great coast regions of this state began gathering and shipping at their own expense, in such large quantities to the Oregon Agricultural college here that they have swamped the drying plant. Dean Zweifle has asked newspapers in the fox glove districts to notify people to dry out the product before sending it. One hundred pounds will dry to twenty. It is pointed out, thus cheapening transportation.
