

SAFE AND SANE CELEBRATION OF WAR SAVINGS FOURTH OF JULY

the town of Tonopah. In the course of his remarks Mr. Cooke said that the mining companies had signified their willingness to make deductions from the pay checks. The committee had refrained from visiting the mines but, next week, the speaker said, special committees will canvass every miner working in the district.

Frank T. Dunn delivered the eulogy with his characteristic force and eloquence and Thomas Lindsay, chairman of the board of county commissioners, read the Declaration of Independence. The band played the national anthem and the crowd dispersed for dinner.

During the afternoon the young folks were entertained with games and various contests for which the committee had hung up cash prizes that served to sweeten the day's pleasures. While the fun lasted it was fast and furious and the little ones seemed not to pay any attention to either heat or dust, both of which elements were present in quantity. The Indians were remembered in the program by contests which offered special inducements for the dusky visitors from distant points in the county.

Both morning and afternoon saw the swimming pool crowded with young and old of both sexes who entered into the enjoyment of the new shower before and after the plunge. The new intake was not quite completed but was put in good running shape before night so the pool is ready now with a constantly changing water supply.

The grand pageant reserved for the last was well staged and the actors and the actors all acquitted themselves in the best of style. The difficulty of studying out the allegory was smoothed over by an announcer keeping the crowd posted on each development of the tableaux on the stage. The parade was not a gorgeous feature but the attendance on the grounds was one of the most representative observed in Tonopah for good judges estimated the crowd at

SHIP LAUNCHING STIRS PEOPLE

CHIEF FEATURE OF THE CELEBRATION AT TWO LEADING PORTS

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, July 5.—The United States yesterday launched a greater tonnage of ships than was lost during the whole progress of the European war, Secretary Daniels said in his address at the Fourth of July celebration of Tammany society. More than 400,000 deadweight tons, he said, was going into the water from American ship yards as part of the Independence day celebration, while the total of American tonnage destroyed by submarines is estimated at 352,223, including 67,815 tons sunk before the United States entered the war.

(By Associated Press.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—While cheers burst from the throats of thousands of spectators and while Charles M. Schwab, director general and Charles Piez, general manager, of the emergency fleet corporation, looked on, shipbuilding plants of San Francisco bay yesterday began the greatest ship launching event in all history. The seventeenth launching included nine great freighters and eight swift destroyers.

VIENNA GETS COMFORT FROM THE PEACE LINE

(By Associated Press.) VIENNA, July 5.—(Official)—Continuation of fighting in the delta of the Flava was reported yesterday. Artillery fire is extraordinarily heavy in many sectors of the southwesternly Austrian front. The breaking down of enterprises launched by British storming troops near Asiago is announced.

(By Associated Press.) WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE (Thursday) July 4.—The Fourth of July was a quiet day in sectors occupied by American troops from Woerve to the Swiss border. Even the artillery and air services were less busy than usual, cloudy weather and poor visibility hampering them.

between 3500 and 4000. The few benches at the disposal of the committee and Manager Mussett could not accommodate more than 300 people and the early birds secured choice positions over half an hour before the show began. As the parade arrived at the park where the setting for the pageant had been arranged on the hillside with a background of trees, the Elks marched in a body to the stage singing the new

ANNIE LAURIE REAL PERSON

American Girl of Same "Lil" Gives Facts of Origin of the Popular Scotch Song.

More than once has the question as to whether Annie Laurie, the subject of the ever-popular and everliving song bearing her name as title, was a real person or mere fiction.

A letter has come to hand that was written by Miss M. E. Riddle, daughter of the late Judge Riddle, for many years a circuit court justice in this section, says a writer in the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times. The Riddles were of Laurie ilk, as Scotch folk say, and they had gone to some considerable pains to get the story of the song straight, as there had been considerable contention about it. Here it is:

"Joan Riddell (the name later spelled Riddle) was married to Sir Robert Laurie, the first baronet of Maxwellton. One of their daughters was Annie Laurie, celebrated in Scotch song.

"Annie Laurie was famed for her beauty and cleverness, and was a social favorite in all the country round about, so it was not at all surprising that she captivated a Mr. Douglas of England, a man of culture and of letters, who composed the song bearing her name.

"But seeing that the course of true love does not run smoothly, she married a Mr. Gurgesson, leaving Mr. Douglas to his hunting and his verses.

"To this day many pilgrims go to Maxwellton, drawn thither by the much-loved song, 'Annie Laurie.' Many also visit Craigdoonoch, where she spent her married life in comfort."

Winter's Discipline.

He who marvels at the beauty of the world in summer will find equal cause for wonder and admiration in winter. It is true the pomp and pageantry are swept away, but the essential elements remain—the day and the night, the mountain and the valley, the elemental play and succession, and the perpetual presence of the infinite sky. In winter the stars seem to have kindled their fires, the moon achieves a fuller triumph, and the heavens wear a look of more exalted simplicity. Summer is more woolly, . . . more versatile and human, appeals to the affections and the sentiments, and fosters inquiry and the art impulse. Winter is of a more heroic cast, and addresses the intellect. The severe studies and disciplines come easier in winter. One imposes larger tasks upon himself.

How to Tell Age of Eggs.

There is a simple method of ascertaining the age of eggs, based upon the fact that the airy space at the broad end of the egg increases with its age. Now, when the egg is placed in a tumbler of water in which any amount of common salt is dissolved, it will, with increasing age, tend ever more to assume a position with its longitudinal axis in a perpendicular direction. A fresh laid egg will lie horizontally on the bottom of the vessel. An egg from three to four days old will rise with its broad end, so that its longitudinal axis forms with its horizontal axis an angle of 20 degrees. At the age of eight days the angle increases to 45 degrees, at the age of two weeks to 60 degrees, and at the age of three weeks to about 75 degrees. When the egg is more than a month old it will float perpendicularly on its small end.

American war hymn, "Hail! Hail! the Gang's All Here," and "Auld Lang Syne." Helen Mitchell presided with her usual grace and beauty as the goddess of liberty on a float especially constructed for her throne. The display was under direction of Prof. H. R. Cross, who deserves great credit for the perfection to which he brought the young performers in the short time at his disposal.

MINERAL COUNTY UNITES AT MINA

Mineral county had a joint celebration yesterday at Mina, where the citizens of Hawthorne and from Luning gathered to celebrate in an old-fashioned speechmaking feast. At the same time the county closed its war savings stamp campaign with a rally that brought the total up close to the quota. A grand stand had been erected under the trees in front of the hotel and various orators regaled the citizenry with various features of the meaning of patriotism. One of the best attractions was the Red Cross drill. Ben Luce, who was one of the speakers, said he never saw an affair better arranged or one in which the people appeared to take such an interest.

United States senator, in opposition to E. E. Roberts, is the statement appearing in the Reno Gazette yesterday.

His announcement was made in a letter to H. J. Humphreys, chairman of the Republican state central committee.

Walter Lamb was born in Reno on April 13, 1878. He attended the University of Nevada and later went to Washington where he graduated from the law school at George Washington university. He also took a special course at Harvard.

He was private secretary to Senator Newlands and in 1904 was secretary to Thomas Taggart, afterwards United States senator.

Following the campaign of 1904, Lamb returned to Nevada where he became interested in mining in the southern part of the state and operated in Goldfield, Manhattan, Tonopah and other camps. He has been closely identified with mining activities in Manhattan and Tonopah and became editor and principal owner of the Tonopah Miner five years ago.

In his announcement to Chairman Humphreys, Mr. Lamb says:

"H. J. Humphreys, Esq., Chairman Republican State Central Committee:

"The purpose of this communication is to advise you that I have decided to contest the ambition of Congressman E. E. Roberts to become United States senator from our state, and I beg the privilege of requesting that you regard this letter as the formal announcement of my candidacy for the United States senatorial nomination against Congressman Roberts in the coming primary election.

"This determination has been reached only after the most serious deliberation, and I confess with many misgivings and serious reluctance.

"I have felt and strongly hoped that some other Nevadan, feeling deeply as I do the terrible meaning of the great war to our country and our state, might come forward as a candidate against Congressman Roberts' ambitions, and vigorously defend the honor of Nevada, whose loyalty to the nation in the present tremendous struggle in defense of liberty, justice and humanitarian ideals is being so seriously impugned throughout the country in consequence of the apparently unpatriotic votes of Congressman Roberts in the house of representatives.

"It shall be my purpose to see that the congressional activities of Congressman Roberts, and their effect regarding our states' standing for patriotism and loyalty, are fully exposed, and I have full confidence that Old Nevada will survive the ordeal of the war with no blot on her proud record of patriotism, which in the civil war placed her in a position second to none in the union for patriotism, loyalty, courage and all other virtues that make a sovereignty great and worthy to endure.

SAFE AFTER NARROW ESCAPE FROM AUTO

Little Nick Malkovich had a close call last evening at the corner of Main street and Brougher avenue when a big automobile driven at a moderate speed knocked the boy down and ran over him. The two wheels on the right side passed over the boy's limbs and it was commonly believed that the victim was seriously injured. This was disproved by the appearance of Nick an hour later playing on the street.
