MASS MEETING ON SALOON CLOSING

The special meeting of the Nye County liquor board was called to order this afternoon in the district court room for the purpose of hearing expressions from both sides of the question.

H. R. Cooke, president of the Nye County Council of Defense executive committee, was first to take the floor in support of the recommendation of the council to close saloons between the hours of midnight and 8 o'clock in the morning.

Milton M. Detch followed as the representative of the saloon men and real estate owners opposing the enactment of proposed restrictions as subversive of the rights which his clients acquired when they paid their license money to the county or town.

WILLIAM KEARNEY OUT FOR GOVERNOR

William Kearney, former state engineer, and one of the brightest men in his profession, is out squarely for the Republican nomination for governor. He proposes making the race on the direct issue that government is business and not politics.

of chaos in the Humboldt valley where every other farmer was engaged in a water fight without either he or his adversary having any clear idea of what they were fighting for. When Mr. Kearney got through with his adjudication of priorities peace was restored to the valley and the farmers found they had some time to spare from the courts to bestow on crops.

YOUNG SERBIAN PATRIOT DIES IN BATTLE FOR ADOPTED COUNTY

Vedo Kullacha, a nephew of Tom Kullacha, was killed in action July 1st, according to a telegram received last night by his uncle. The boy went out from Tonopah with the second quota of the first enlistment last September. He was not an American citizen and therefore could have claimed exemption from service but, in deference to the wishes of his uncle he went ahead to avenge the wrongs inflicted on his fatherland.

"I hope to see you soon, but we must crush the enemy before I can see you. Good-bye." The letter was written somewhere in France and nothing more was heard until last night when the uncle received the telegram from the adjutant general at Washington announcing the death. The message was received here at 1:30, addressed to a postoffice box, and it was not until late last evening that Tom learned the news as he was not feeling well and did not come down for his mail until a late hour.

AUTOMOBILE UNDERWRITERS HARD HIT BY THE HIGH PRICE OF GAS

NEW YORK, July 18.—High taxes on gasoline, in addition to heavy license fees, as proposed in the recommendations of the treasury department, means a material curtailment in the business of automobile insurance, in the opinion of underwriters. The business of automobile insurance has already been curtailed to a marked extent by the restrictions placed upon the manufacture of new cars as a part of the coal and steel conservation program and the restriction in the operation of existing cars that is expected to result from the imposition of the proposed tax measure will mean a further and more important loss of business.

Commercial cars as distinguished from passenger cars are not made subject to the increased license fee under the proposed scheme, but the fact that no distinction is to be made between the gasoline tax for commercial cars, and that for passenger cars is the subject of comment. Underwriters believe the increased cost will be just about important enough to use up the margin which permits the use of automobiles in business.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY WILL HELP MINING

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 18.—The geological survey provided for by the last session of the legislature will be in charge this summer of Prof. D. C. Livingston, head of the department of geology in the University of Idaho.

Upon the advice of George Otis Smith, director of the United States geological survey, the work will be devoted to helping increase the production of tungsten, quicksilver, manganese and molybdenum. Professor Livingston's plan for accomplishing this object, which has been approved by the state board of education, starts with a systematic survey of all districts of the state containing, or reported to contain, any of the above minerals.

WHAT'S WHAT

This newspaper got in the hole so much that we had to suspend publication until we paid the landlord, which we did. Also notice that we are starting on our second volume which is due to our having missed so many numbers that the first one became exhausted in pantomime.

INTERVENTION WOULD ASSIST THE ALLIES

NEW YORK, July 18.—There is an idea in Wall street that intervention in Russia might promote the cause of the allies greatly. As President Wilson seems to be more inclined to intervention in a military way rather than exert pressure entirely in an economic manner, the street is looking for an earlier end of the war than otherwise might be possible.
