

DEATH OF WIFE OF MINE ENGINEER

Mrs. Fred C. Frey died early Friday morning at Oakland, Cal. Many residents of Reno will remember Mrs. Frey as Gertrude McIntosh, prior to her marriage to Mr. Frey, shortly after his graduation from the University of Nevada with the class of '94. Mr. Frey accompanied her husband to Mexico and South America where he attained distinction as a mining engineer.

Five years ago, Mr. Frey was induced by a Holland syndicate to take charge of a gold mine on the Island of Sumatra (Dutch East Indies) and here his wife and family accompanied him. Mrs. Frey contracted a tropical fever while living in Sumatra. About a year ago she returned with her husband to America in the hope that the change of climate might restore her to health, but without avail.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Frey leaves to mourn her loss two children and many other relatives and friends.

PALM PRINTS CONVICT SLAYER

CARSON CITY, Sept. 7.—Ben Kuhl, Elko county murderer, must die for the brutal and premeditated killing of the driver of the Jarbridge-Twin Falls stage at Jarbridge about two years ago.

His compulsion in the crime, Ed Beck, must serve a term of life imprisonment.

The state supreme court swept aside all contentions raised by attorneys for the condemned man. The decision directs the district court of Elko county to fix a time for the execution of Kuhl by the warden of the state prison.

The Kuhl case, which has been pending in the state supreme court for several months, has been considered one of the most important from a legal standpoint ever submitted. This is because it raised for the first time in the history of criminal jurisprudence the question of the identity of criminals as well as the question of the qualification of finger print experts to testify as palm print experts.

In rifting the mail sack Kuhl left a bloody imprint of the upper portion of one of his palms on an envelope. This came into possession of the district attorney and when comparisons were made with a print taken of Kuhl's palm while in the county jail, finger print experts declared that there was no question about the two prints having been made by the same palm.

In considering the points raised on appeal, chief among which were the admissibility of palm prints as a means of identification and of finger print experts to testify as palm print experts, the supreme court used every available authority on the subject of finger prints.

350,000 POUNDS SUGAR FOR NEVADA

Nevada's allotment of sugar for September is only 350,000 pounds, and according to the food administration the strictest economy must be practiced by the people of this state if they expect the sugar to last during the month, says the Gazette.

"Many cases are known where households have purchased sugar for preserving and then have used this sugar for table use and cooking," says the food administration. "All such cases will be carefully investigated and the rules strictly enforced. The rule of two pounds of sugar per person applies to every one in the United States, and no hardship whatever is caused if common sense and thrift are observed.

"Sugar means ships; ships mean soldiers; soldiers by the hundred thousand now are worth millions later; the end of the war is brought nearer with every pound of sugar you save."

FARM FOR EVERY SOLDIER IS AIM OF THE ADMINISTRATION

Secretary Land announces that the preparation of a program looking to providing farms for returned soldiers has been given into the hands of A. P. Davis, director and chief engineer of the reclamation service, who will have general charge of the work and with whom will be associated Elwood Mead, H. T. Cory and Frank W. Hanna. Mr. Mead was formerly in charge of the land settlement work of the state of California. Mr. Cory is the engineer who had charge of closing the Salton sea for the Southern Pacific, and Mr. Hanna is one of the most prominent engineers of the west. Mr. Weymouth, chief of construction for the reclamation service stationed at Denver, will report on possible irrigation projects. Mr. Corey on the swamp and cut-over lands of the south and Mr. Hanna on the swamp and cut-over lands of the north.

"We can have a job at good pay for every soldier who returns from France," said Secretary Lane, if congress will give us the financial support needed. And while at work the soldier can be making a home for himself for which he can pay the government in forty years time. This plan has received the endorsement of so large a percentage of congress and the press of the country that it appears to be a probable program; it certainly is a practicable one. We have but $200,000 now for the preliminary surveys and reports, but this will be increased undoubtedly by the incoming congress. There is enough waste and undeveloped land in this country to give every soldier a farm, but of course no such program is contemplated because all would not want farms."

TEN WEEKS TRAINING FOR OVERSEAS NURSES

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Ten weeks only are required to train young women who really want to go overseas as Red Cross nurses.

The demand for nurses' aids and lay women helpers far exceeds the supply, according to the announcement just made by the Pacific division headquarters of the American Red Cross. Applicants must pass a physical examination and must be at least 25 and not more than 40 years old.

A six weeks' preliminary course followed by 240 hours training in an approved hospital fits the young women for service.

School superintendents have been asked to start courses which will make possible the formation of Junior Red Cross student nurse cadet corps in high schools and junior colleges. According to Mrs. Harry A. Kleugel, director of the Junior Red Cross bureau, Pacific division, the proposed courses will give six months' credit in accredited California hospital training schools.

ONE DAY'S BUSINESS AT CAMP KEARNEY

(By Associated Press)
CAMP KEARNEY, Cal., Sept. 7.—"No lost motion" and "do it now" are phrases which well might serve as mottoes for the personnel office here in induction into military service of more than 4500 draft recruits who are now pouring into this cantonment. The aim of those charged with turning this raw material into soldiers is to finish all preliminary work for each man as rapidly as may be, much of it before he arrives here, and then to push him successively through four large and one smaller machines from which he will emerge a soldier, ready to be turned over to the officers charged with his instruction in the arts of war.

As each train arrives it is met by Captain Irwin W. Munger, personnel officer. The recruits are detained and lined up, each local draft board's quota separately in alphabetical order. Captain Minger checks the lists of men sent to camp which are furnished by the draft boards against the men in that group to see that none are missing. Then the men are marched to the receiving office.

Factory methods are in evidence in this office, where behind each of the ten desks is a specialist. As he passes down the line of desks each recruit receives one of the group of papers which forms record in the army. Many spaces are left blank, but his name and other data are put on them at this stage of the proceedings. When she leaves this office, all his papers except one are clipped together in a specified order and he carries them with him from officer to officer and board to board until, when he is accepted as a soldier, he turns them all in.

RENO MEN ARRESTED ON SEDITION CHARGE

H. M. Gillham, a cook employed at the Washoe lunch counter, was arrested Friday on a charge of making seditious remarks and was placed in the county jail. According to the complaint Gillham said: "This is a Wall street war. The Germans are voluntarily retreating in order to get out of the diseased sections. They are going to higher ground on their own accord. They will get the United States eventually. If it wasn't for the fact that the Germans were winning, the United States would not call for a new draft of men from eighteen to forty-five. The people won't stand for that. The United States ordered a new draft to avoid strikes. I hope they get every American transport that goes over."

Al Stoop, Louis Cavaki and Dominic Pizzo are witnesses and signed the complaint.

Gillham is an American citizen and resides at 428 Maple street.

CALLED TO RENO BY REPORTED ILLNESS

Michael L. Caffery, who is one of the oldest employes of the Belmont, left for Reno this morning in answer to an urgent telegram that his son, Clement, was seriously ill. The father thinks the cause of the illness must be a hemorrhage arising from a former operation. The boy is enrolled at the University of Nevada and is twenty years of age. He has been engaged three years pursuing his studies as mining engineer and this was his last year at the university. For two years Clement put in his summer vacation at the Belmont mill and last year he extended his practical mining and milling experiences by working in the concentrator plant at Ely. Mrs. Caffery has made her home at Reno for the past six years so as to be with Clement and another son while they were advancing through college.

ROMANCE AND HIGH ADVENTURE AT THE BUTLER

An exciting quest for gold, which was lost when a treasure ship went down, comes into the plot of the "Treasure of the Sea" which is the feature at the Butler today. The heroine, in the person of Miss Carey, stumbles across the wreck of an ancient merchant ship laden with gold bullion, which had gone down in a storm with the loss of all hands and which the incoming tide had finally cast up on the sand. With the passage of years the skeleton of the trader had settled deep, and succeeding storms had buried its rotted ribs and worm-eaten keel under tons of sand. By a freakish prank, a hurricane, sweeping over the burial place of the ship blows the sand away, causing the grave of the wreck to yield up the gaunt carcass with its golden cargo. How the heroine and hero of "Treasure of the Sea" battle for the gold and question as to who wins the treasure is revealed in scenes which make this picture an exceptionally fine entertainment. Also today a comedy filled with laughs, yet containing a real pulsing human and convincing story. It is "Ladies First," the new Mack-Sennett laugh maker.

DESTRUCTIVENESS OF BRITISH RAIDS

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 7.—Evidence of the destructive character of the British air raids upon Thionville, Germany, is afforded by aerial photographs which have just arrived from France.

The first photograph, which was taken during the raid on Thionville, July 18, shows the starting of a big fire caused by bombs, among the rolling stock to the east of the freight station. The second photograph, taken by British airmen over the same place on the following day shows charred remains of several trains visible upon the track. The freight station and nearby buildings have been burned. The original fire developed into a huge conflagration, which was only arrested ultimately on the river bank.

RICH ORE FOUND IN MINE AT CORNUCOPIA

Ed Peacock, a well known mining man, arrived Saturday from the Cornucopia district in Elko county, where he spent the greater part of the summer. He states that he has a fine showing of ore uncovered in the workings and that there is a large tonnage of milling ore piled up on the different dumps. During this last siege of work he says that he has proved the existence of another and much richer vein on his estate. The values are mostly in silver, but samples taken from the vein carry as high as 8000 ounces in the white metal to the ton.—Humboldt Star.
