BOY'S JAG ENDOWS HIM WITH STRENGTH OF YOUNG HERCULES

J. Grant Crumley has been cured of all traces of benevolence through an experience he suffered yesterday. According to developments it was nothing more than a case of booze but Grant says he never saw booze work that way and he admits he has had considerable experience in that line.

one car. The first act of the boy was to kick a hole through the top and otherwise disfigure the palatial auto in his struggle to escape. Crumley at last resolved to let him go and turn the job over to the regular officers of the law. He drove into Tonopah and notified Sheriff Thomas, who summoned a posse and went out to McKinney's Tanks where he found the stranger, who gave the name of Max Butler. He appeared rational until he was helped into the sheriff's car when he began a resistance that taxed the strength of George Hickernell, the 250-pound host of the Mizpah hotel, who tried to overcome the struggling kid by sitting on him but was tossed out like a feather. Eventually the courthouse was reached and Max Butler given a cell for the night. This morning he was quiet but could not recollect anything except that he and his father spent the day with another man going the rounds of Tonopah saloons. He said he drank whiskey, gin, highballs, cocktails and about every other kind of mixture that could be procured. What appeared to be a case of wall development insanity turned out to be nothing more than a dynamic desert jag. The boy was released this morning. He said that he and his father came from Los Angeles and are employed at Tybo. Young Butler is 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 135 pounds.

LAS VEGAS LINE TO BE JUNKED

Notice that the Las Vegas & Tonopah railroad, operating between Beatty and Las Vegas, is going to tear up the track between these two points and go out of business has been received by the Nevada railroad commission and, according to the interstate commerce commission to cancel all its tariffs, says the Reno Gazette. This road, known as the Clark road, was built into Goldfield in 1907, and ran from Las Vegas to Goldfield. Under the original plans it was to run to Tonopah, but the breaking of the Goldfield boom in 1907 and the panic of that year held up the plans and the road was never completed beyond Goldfield. In 1914 it consolidated with the Bullfrog-Goldfield road and operated over the Bullfrog-Goldfield line from Beatty to Goldfield. The junking of this road will leave but one railroad entering Goldfield from the south—the Tonopah & Tidewater—which will take over the Bullfrog railroad from Goldfield to Beatty. The entrance of the Las Vegas & Tonopah railroad into Goldfield marked one of the high spots in the spectacular career of that camp, and its completion was heralded with a big railroad day celebration. In its statement to the railroad commission the company says that the action of the railroad administration in routing freight over the Tonopah & Tidewater railroad, which is 100 miles shorter, has caused such a loss in revenue to the railroad that it can no longer operate at a profit. It is understood that the rolling stock and all the other equipment of the road has been sold. No action has been taken by the railroad commission in the matter, but according to Commissioner W. H. Simmons the road has a perfect right to abandon the line and in case the commission objected the only penalty would be the revoking of the franchise of the road. Since the road has entered into an agreement with the Tonopah & Tidewater to handle the business from Beatty into Goldfield and since Goldfield is still supplied with a railroad from the south, there would be no reason, Mr. Simmons says, for the railroad commission to object to the junking of the part of the road which will be torn up.

"KITTEN CHORUS" NOW WITH W. U.

"Here's a message," growled the W. U. operator. "Just a minute, please," squeaked a small feminine voice. "Bernice," she pipped to her co-partner, "is my hat on straight, and is there too much powder on my nose?" "Goodness, gracious, no," returned Blanche. "You're sweeter than a cauliflower." "Never mind the frills," cut in the operator. "This is no feasting party." The above may occur every day in the week from tomorrow on for there are to be messenger girls on the staff. It is, however, probable that none of the so-called "feminine touch" will take place during office hours for the company's motto is "service first, and decorations last." For the past two weeks the Western Union Telegraph company has been experiencing a shortage of labor. The only remedy was a re-adjustment of the messenger force, together with an increase of wages. Two applications from young women have been received and accepted. The first messenger girl will start work when the office opens in the morning. The other young lady will commence work a short time afterwards. The girls will be provided with caps. The problem of suits will be taken up later and it is advisable they will be given uniforms corresponding to those worn by messenger, elevator, and bell-hop girls working in the metropolitan cities. Messenger boys formerly received $42.50 a month. At the present time the company has increased the pay to $50 a month with eight hours as the maximum working day. The girls will only work days.

PERSONAL

JAMES C. KENNEDY, of Manhattan, was a passenger for the coast this morning. JOSEPH HENRY RIVERS, of the Campbell-Kelly foundry, left today for Reno. DAN LYONS, of the office staff of the Tonopah Belmont, returned from his vacation in California this morning. R. R. GARCIA and wife, who have been enjoying a six months' respite from business cares, returned today after having toured Washington and California. JOHN H. MILES, formerly deputy sheriff, is now employed by one of the soda companies at Keeler, Cal., where he is nicely situated in a comfortable bungalow owned by the company.

MAY BUILD RAILROAD TO SISKIYOU CHROME

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—Colonel William Boyce Thompson, multimillionaire mining man, who yesterday arrived in San Francisco on a business trip. In the party with Colonel Thompson are Colonel Raymond Robins, another mining man, who is interested in the mining activities of Colonel Thompson, and A. J. McNab, an engineer of Thompson, Nev. Colonel Thompson said he was here to investigate the advisability of building a railroad at a point between Yreka and Hornbrook and along the Klamath river, touching valuable chrome deposits, with the possibility of extending the line to Crescent City or Eureka. "You will understand," said Colonel Thompson in an interview, "that we are merely investigating the advisability of building this railroad. I think it can be classed as a war measure, and of course must have the approval of the government."

SWIMMING POOL TO STAY OPEN SAYS LYNCH

Reports were circulated yesterday to the effect that the swimming pool would close for the season tonight. This met with a flat denial from Thomas J. Lynch, managing director. "The swimming pool will remain open as long as any one desires to swim," said Thomas J. Lynch this afternoon. "It will operate the entire winter if there is sufficient patronage to pay running expenses. There is no truth whatever in the rumors." The only change that will be made about the plunge will be to dispense with the caretaker and thus save the expense of his wages. Anyone desiring the key after tonight can apply at room 202 State Bank building. Arrangements for receiving money can also be made at the same place.
