DIVIDE CON. BEGINS SINKING; OVERSUBSCRIBED 200,000 SHARES

John H. Miller, president of the Divide Consolidated Mining company, has almost completed the preliminaries for intensive work on that property. This morning he wrote a check in favor of the Goldfield Consolidated Mining company to pay for a 100-h.p. motor which has been delivered on the Empire group which the company controls. Work has already started in sinking the main working shaft which is located on Empire No. 4 and in a few days construction will be made with the power line which runs within a quarter of a mile of the shaft thus giving the company immediate use of the cheapest and most effective power for making a record in sinking. Richard Finn is in charge and those who know of his work on the Belmont and other big properties know that he will get through the caprock in jig time.

The question of placing the stock of this company has not given the slightest concern to the promoters as the first day the books were opened the subscriptions called for something like 200,000 shares over the allotment. The Divide Con. group adjoins the Brougher Divide on the northwest and covers the extension of the main Divide fissure. The shaft is sunk near the cropping of the big ledge and was chosen with the object of cutting into the vein within a short distance on deep levels. The plant has a capacity for sinking to a depth of 1200 feet. The compressor has a capacity of eight drills. The officers of the company include the best known operators of Nevada, as follows: John H. Miller, president; F. M. Manson, of the Western Ore Purchasing company, vice-president; J. E. Adams, secretary and treasurer; F. E. Miller, assistant secretary and treasurer. These officers and William Walters and Richard Finn form the directory. The company is incorporated with 1,500,000 shares of which 750,000 remain in the treasury. The stock will be listed in San Francisco in the course of the next ten days or two weeks.

TONOPAH TURNS OUT EN MASSE TO SEARCH FOR A MISSING CHILD

When Tonopah does anything it does it right. This was demonstrated last evening when the camp was aroused by the report that two and a half-year-old Mary McKay had wandered away from home and had not been seen since 1 o'clock when she followed her brothers to school. At first a desultory search was made in the belief that the baby had been taken into some home but, as the hours passed and nothing was heard, the parents became fully alarmed. The Elks were notified and several searching parties were started out from the Home as early as 5 o'clock. They scoured the desert and adjacent hillsides without finding a trace. The ground around the dump behind Brougher mountain was examined and all the way down the western face until the searchers were almost convinced that the toddler had fallen into a disused shaft.

At 11 o'clock it was decided to sound a general alarm and the hoarse siren of the Tonopah Extension soon woke up those who had gone to bed. The fire truck with siren blowing chased over town spreading the news of a lost child. In front of the Mizpah hotel a member of the mine company used a megaphone with dramatic effect and soon had a dozen squads out scouring yards, alleys and the surrounding hills. At 11:40 three men headed by Eugene O'Connell were carefully combing the approaches to Mount Butler when they heard a shrill piping voice in the darkness, exclaim "Hello." The O'Connell squad had been sweeping the ground in circles with their flash lights and were within a few feet of the missing baby although they had not yet brought her within the radius of the lights. They knew they had the fugitive and quickly reached the spot where the child was patiently sitting at the side of a location monument apparently not a bit disturbed by her loneliness. Five shots, the signal agreed on, were fired to notify other parties that the child was found and at 11:50 the big siren of the Extension announced the fact with nine distinct blasts which called in those who may have been looking around the outskirts of camp. Every member of the William Oms company, men and women, joined in the search.

The child wore only coveralls and a little light jacket and it is wonderful that she should not have perished from exposure but, as it happened the weather changed early in the evening and it was comparatively mild. Miss Mary is all right today without showing any bad effects from the exposure.

COUNTY AFFAIRS BOTHER LEGISLATURE TOO MUCH

CARSON CITY, March 1.—Speaker Fitzgerald of the assembly introduced yesterday a proposed constitutional amendment which will take the authority to fix salaries of county and township officials out of the legislature and place it in the hands of the county commissioners. The speaker takes the position which is accepted by most of the members of the lower house, that such matters have no place in the legislature and should properly be handled by the county commission.

FLAGS HALF MASTED IN HONOR OF J. S. AUSTIN

Flags are lying at half mast from the staffs of the Tonopah Mining company principal shafts today in honor of the late president, J. S. Austin, whose funeral occurred today at Ardmore, Penna.

PRACTICE CLASS YELLS

Before adjournment at noon today the students of the high school indulged in some terrifying class yells which had been devised for their soul racking effect on their enemies. They will be given a trial at the ball games in Goldfield and, if approved, will be repeated at the Tonopah return game.

FRANK MEYER IMPROVING

A closer examination of the injury sustained by Frank Meyer showed that he was not suffering from a compound fracture but from the fact that one bone of the arm was broken and another dislocated which made the injury look bad at first glance. The burn which extends two inches is healing nicely.

BILLY MARSH HAS BILL FAVORING RANGT GOATS

CARSON CITY, March 1.—A season in which the festive goat may become a commoner in Nevada is established by a bill introduced by Marsh of Nye in the assembly. It is an amendment to the present law and in addition to specifying the days on which Mr. and Mrs. Goat may enjoy the freedom of the open range, decrees that Mr. and Mrs. Pig must be kept within an enclosure at all times of the year.

PERSONAL

CHARLES E. TAYLOR, president of the Rosetta Divide Mining company, is a visitor from Goldfield today.

DAN J. ROBB was a passenger today for Reno where he goes to attend the funeral of his nephew, John Robb.

R. W. CATTERMOLE, chief construction engineer of the T. & G. Railroad, is spending the day in Tonopah.

MRS. LENA DEVITT has returned from Seattle where she has made her home for the past six years and will remain here.

MISS LOUISE PARKER, commercial teacher in the Manhattan schools, is spending the week end with her mother.

MRS. O. SHEPHERD, of the Golden Rule, left this morning for Omaha where she was summoned by the serious illness of her husband.

DR. A. H. ELFTMAN, the well known geologist and mining engineer, came in to town today from the Divide, where he was superintending some work.

GEORGE KOLAK went out this morning for San Francisco with his little daughter, who sustained a serious fracture of the arm while playing at school and requires a special surgical treatment.

DR. J. R. CUNNINGHAM, until recently captain in the medical corps stationed at Camp Fremont, Cal., is home again, after having two months in southern California, taking a special course in medicine and surgery.

WENDELL JONES, son of A. H. Jones, superintendent of the Belmont mill, was among the troops arriving on the transport Asselta, which docked in New York Thursday afternoon. He was attached to the 316th engineers.

MISS EDNA SHIELDS, registry clerk in the Tonopah postoffice, returned last evening from San Bernardino, where she was called by the illness of her mother, Miss Shields, says that her mother is now out of danger and recuperating rapidly.

SAM WARBATH, former president of the Goldfield stock exchange in 1907, and one of the greatest boosters southern Nevada has ever known, is among the arrivals inter-camped in the Divide district. He came by the southern route.

MR. and MRS. ALBERT McFADDEN came in today and will resume their home in Tonopah. Mr. McFadden was discharged from the army at Fort Funston, Kans., a week ago. Mrs. McFadden will be remembered as Miss Gerie Rippinham.

C. W. HUGHEY and G. W. O'NEILL, agents of the department of justice, were passengers today for the coast. They were accompanied by Tommy Lynch, son of Thos. J. Lynch, who had developed an abscess of the right ear which required treatment by a specialist.

J. H. WILLIAMS, the Philippine veteran who serves as janitor at the postoffice and First National bank, appeared on the street today for the first time in three months, during which he was confined to his room by an old bruise received in the service reopening.

LOCATION BLANKS in triplicate, in book form, on sale at Bonanza office.

AMUSEMENTS

FILM MASTERPIECE AT BUTLER TODAY

Emily Stevens, the famous emotional actress, will be the attraction today at the Butler in "Kildare of Storm," a powerful drama of life in the south. The play was adapted from the novel of that name and created a great furor in literary circles when published by the Century company and read by millions of people. The story is that of a young girl who is compelled to marry a man on account of his social standing and wealth, whom she does not love. He is of the brutal, domineering kind who believe that women are merely the toys of men and he treats her accordingly, parading her before his friends on account of her rare beauty of which he is very proud, as he would a blooded horse or a favorite dog. She finally turns to the friendship of a young doctor and his mother; love develops between the young people and appalling consequences result. The plot is cleverly handled and is of sustaining interest, deeply dramatic and tenderly romantic. "Whose Life is Yours?" has also been selected. It is a screaming farce clean and wholesome and positively qualified to drive away the blues.

Tomorrow, Wallace Reed in "The House of Silence," a mystery photo play, and Ruth Roland in "Hands Up."
