MILLIONAIRE WOMAN BEATEN DEAD BY SON

(By Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Mrs. Sam Satira Coburn, widow of Loren Coburn, a millionaire, was found clubbed to death in her home at Pescadero, near here, according to the police. She was 80 years old, and had received many threats since the death of her husband in November, 1918. The police said she had been advised by friends to retain a bodyguard.

The Coburn estate was involved in litigation for many years. This was based on the incompetency of Coburn. It was finally decided in his favor, but renewed by a nephew, Azro Coburn, when Coburn died.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., June 4.—

Sterling, who has been actively interested in handling the Coburn estate, found Wallace Loren Coburn, 63, the widow's incompetent step-son, dragging her body about the room. Coburn was unable to talk. A stick was found near the door of his bedroom.

WIDE VEIN CUT IN DIVIDE EX.

Divide Extension continues to be the sensation of the hour, both in its physical condition and in its status on the stock market, which latter is related elsewhere in this issue.

According to eye-witnesses and samples, the find is proving better than anticipated. The last shot in the west crosscut last evening shows $129 and the last crosscut shows from $75 to $80.

The footwall side of the vein is northwest of the shaft and the hanging wall side is southeast. Neither wall has been exposed and the total width of the vein matter thus far exposed is 50 feet.

Identical conditions prevail on this property as on the Tonopah Divide, excepting that this new strike carries greater values than the Tonopah Divide at the same horizon. The importance of this strike and development is the high content of silver-making for permanency. The company plans are to go to the 500 on shaft No. 1 and crosscut under this vein and also develop the vein through the Caldwell shaft. The Caldwell shaft is about 300 feet distant from the present shaft No. 1, which is 400 feet deep. At 500 feet depth or level the Divide Extension will be on a level with the Tonopah Divide 600 level and Brougher 500 level.

Death of Jack Hall Occurs At San Diego

(By Associated Press) AL FREVERT received a telegram last evening announcing the death of Humphrey John Hall yesterday morning at Warner's Springs, 89 miles from San Diego, where he went on the first of June. There had not been any intimation of any sudden decline and it is inferred that death was due to heart trouble of which Mr. Hall had complained before leaving Tonopah.

The deceased, better known as "Jack" Hall, was born February 18, 1862 at Owego, N. Y., and therefore was 57 years and three months of age when the last call came. Since 1882, the date of arriving at California, he was identified with the leading industries of Southern Nevada beginning with the borax marshes, where he spent a couple of years before removing to Belleville in 1884. Then he went to Hawthorne, Nevada, where he became interested in the Pamlico district. In 1891 he moved to California but returned to Nevada where he settled in Yerington about 1898. When the Tonopah boom began Mr. Hall joined the throng and boomers and came to this camp, reaching here in 1901 and engaging in the wholesale liquor business which developed into the Hall Liquor company. Foreseeing the development of the camp and realizing that thousands of people would establish their homes here Mr. Hall began building for the future by laying the foundations for the most substantial stone store building on the desert. The foundation was excavated in solid rock and as the magnitude of the undertaking began to develop the owner was criticized for sinking so much money in a mining camp. To all these strictures he had but one reply and that was that Tonopah was on the map and going to stay when other camps were in the discard. He had been in ill health for the past two years and removed to sea level where the heart action would not be stimulated to the dangerous extent found in Tonopah. "Jack" was the friend of every man he met and the prospector always knew where he could find a stake when in distress. Others had frequent recourse to the same benefactor who never was known to refuse an appeal for assistance. In this way he maintained a modest pension roll that included the names of some men who afterwards achieved success and these men never lost an opportunity for crediting their good fortune to the mild-mannered little man whose innate modesty would not permit him to disclose his own good works.

The deceased was in Tonopah three weeks ago with Al Frevert, his associate in business and returned to San Diego with the intention of coming back with his wife to Tonopah about the middle of June to start on a camping trip in the Bridgeport section. The editor of the Bonanza, W. W. Booth, and Mr. Hall were long friends, since they met in California where they were associated in business. Mr. Booth and Al Frevert left last night for Mina to take the train for San Diego to attend the funeral which will take place.

The body will be laid to rest in the cemetery alongside his young son, tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Hall was a man of generous impulses who never went back on a friend. His widow and relatives will have the sincere sympathy of every acquaintance in Tonopah and throughout Nevada. Among the intimate mourners are the widow, a sister, Mrs. Curtis O. Falk, living in Eureka, Cal., three brothers, M. Hall and Ed. Hall of San Diego, and James Hall of Owego, N. Y.

I. W. W. IDENTIFIED BY PITTSBURGH POLICE WITH THE PLOTTING

(By Associated Press) PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 4.—Evidence in the hands of the police show that the anarchists responsible for the bomb explosions in the homes of Judge W. H. S. Thompson, United States district court, and W. W. Sibley, chief immigration inspector, Monday were operating under orders from Russian radical headquarters at 133 east 15th street, New York.

Police Superintendent R. J. Alderdice said that John Johnson, president of the local Industrial Workers of the World, arrested yesterday after a fight with detectives, came to Pittsburgh two weeks ago at the instance of No. 1001 William Haywood, president of the national organization, who said that pass number, Alderdice said, Johnson is said to have named a Cleveland man as the bomb maker in a partial confession.

LIVELY TRADING WITH FAVORITES

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 4.—Sixty six seats are held in various parts of the country, but as far as known, no trading today was restricted almost to the three stocks affected by some good improvement in development. These were East Divide, which opened at 24, dropped to 20 and then strengthened on the close to 32. It is understood that the crosscut has reached what appeared to be the hanging wall after making a distance of 27 feet where preparations were made for drifting north and south. Later it was decided to extend the crosscut another 15 feet which will be done. Dividend was an active trader on the theory that the rich ledge of the Extension would reach it on the strike. Buying orders sent the quotations of Dividend from 36 at the opening to 5 at the close. With 45 feet at least between walls the Divide Extension is heralded as another Tonopah Divide as the steadily increasing values would indicate. The Extension opened at 93, and dropped to 70 and then ran away until it touched $129, where it closed strong. Total sales for the day were 105,900 in which Divide Extension was represented by 89,900, Dividend, 9,500, and East Divide, 28,000 shares.
