SPECIAL TOWNS FOR TUBERCULAR SOLDIERS

(By Associated Press)

ATLANTIC CITY, June 16.—Special reconstruction towns may be established by the government in the near future, where soldiers suffering from tuberculosis can regain their health and at the same time work at light trades to fit themselves for a full return to industrial life, said Colonel Estes Nichols, commandant of the United States army general hospital No. 16 at New Haven, Conn., in an address at the annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis association today.

"This is being considered," he says, "as a part of Uncle Sam's plan for vocational re-education which, since the armistice, has for its purpose the fitting of men disabled by the war for new occupations in civil life."

The idea of special communities for these men and their families has been advanced by Captain F. A. Waugh of the United States army sanitary corps, and would be for the purpose of bringing over the gap between sanatorium treatment and full return to industry.

"These towns," said Colonel Nichols, "might be located upon lands in the national forests. This would permit of the setting up of attractive and healthful woodworking industries for the patients and afford an opportunity for them to retain permanent control of land holdings after they were cured."

"No matter where these towns might be located proper medical supervision would be necessary," he said, "but, whereas, medical treatment has first place in sanatorium care of sufferers from tuberculosis, productive industry would take precedence in the proposed reconstruction towns. These communities would require financial assistance at first but might eventually become self-supporting."

Surgeon B. J. Lloyd of the United States public health service said the building of the Panama canal was but a day's work in comparison to the task of eradicating tuberculosis.

"The tuberculosis problem, when reduced to its lowest terms," he said, "means the germ of tuberculosis on the one hand, and the new-born babe on the other. Inasmuch as no baby is ever born with tuberculosis, if the two could be kept apart there would not be any tuberculosis problem."

Dr. Lloyd emphasized the need of a division of tuberculosis in the United States public health service. This, he said, would permit of co-operation correlation of the activities of all bodies and departments of the government engaged in tuberculosis work.
