

EXTEND POWER LINE TO TYBO

VERY IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENT IN NYE COUNTY MINING

FORECAST AUSTRIA'S DOWNFALL

(Correspondence Associated Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 9.—Count Ottokar von Chudenitz Czernin, formerly Austrian foreign minister, is shown as a prophet who foreshadowed coming events and the collapse of the central powers with almost uncanny correctness, according to his now famous letter to the Emperor Charles written early in April, 1917, in which he urged that monarch to "make peace at all hazards or suffer the loss of your throne."

Parts of the text of Count Czernin's historic missive have been published but the complete text, as presented to the assembly at Westminster by Finance Minister Erzberger, has now appeared for the first time in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, the official German organ.

It shows among other things, that Czernin, alone of all Austrian statesmen, prophesied the entrance, two years before, of Rumania into the war on the side of the allies and predicted "almost the day of its outbreak." The letter also said the "expected" immediate French, British and Italian offensives and the forecast was borne out by what happened. Within a fortnight after the note to the ruler had been drafted, on April 16, 1917, the French began the great Soissons-Rheims drive, along a twenty-five-mile front, and the British had started the battle of Arras on a front extending to Lens. The Italians, a few weeks later, plunged across the Isonzo in the Carso sector for a distance of thirty-six miles, crushing the Austrians in their mad rush. In view of the reverses to the armies of the central powers and on the eve of America's entry into the war, Czernin urged the emperor to "make another detailed peace proposal and not be afraid to make great, even heavy, sacrifices." Russia, he thought, had lost its offensive power but the East of the West, he feared, might prove a stronger adversary than the prostrate bear.

"In Germany great hope is laid in the submarine warfare," he wrote. "I hold this attitude is deceptive. I do not for an instant deny the fabulous results of the German heroes of the sea. I admit admiringly that the monthly total of sunken tons is something akin to fable, but I go on record as declaring that the result expected and predicted by the Germans will not follow." It must be remembered at this time that German U-boats were at the height of their depredations on the sea. On October 28, 1918, the German admiral admitted the failure of the submarine warfare by recalling all the "tigers of the deep" to Kiel and Wilhelmshaven.

"I hope that the thought, unfortunately incorrect, that England would be compelled within a few months to make peace, will lose ground in Berlin," wrote Count Czernin. "Nothing is more dangerous than to believe those things one wants to believe, nothing is more fatal than not wanting to see the principle of truth, and to succumb to utopian illusions from which sooner or later there must come a fearful awakening."

NEW SYSTEM RAILROAD MANAGEMENT URGED

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Private ownership and operation of railroads in a number of regional systems under strict government control with strikes and lockouts of railroad employees prohibited, are provided in a plan for permanent railroad regulation submitted to the senate by the senate interstate commerce subcommittee.

Termination of the present government control, and return of the roads to private owners would occur the last day of the month in which the bill is enacted, the measure provides. The government would give no future guarantee of railroad income but the revenue would be limited to "fair" dividends based on the value of properties fixed by the interstate commerce commission.

The bill provides for creation of a new committee on wages and working conditions, composed equally of representative employees and employers, with wide authority in settling labor questions, subject to decision of the transportation board of the interstate commerce commission. Chairman Cummins of the subcommittee said the keynote of the bill is a plan for establishment of twenty to thirty-five regional rail systems.

Something is likely to drop in industrial circles this week if the arrival of half a dozen important officials is an indication of activity in settling the strike. The first name affixed to the register of the Mizpah hotel this morning was that of Ernest D. Boyls, governor of Nevada, who was preceded on Sunday by Robert F. Cole, labor commissioner and W. A. Burns, superintendent-elect of the Carson City mint and one of the executive board of the Mine, Millworkers' and Smelters' union of the American Federation of Labor. Another pair whose arrival caused some stir was that of Arthur M. Allen and Emory A. Morgan of Reno, representing the U. S. department of justice. It is not known that either of the latter was called to Tonopah by official duties but it is regarded as significant that they should appear at this particular time.

A rumor was current today that the independent Divide mine operators were about to resume but there was no confirmation of the report, which is credited to the revival of an old report which was effectually disposed of last week after a hearing with Joseph Lord, United States mediator.

VIRGINIA CITY STRIKE.
A report was current this morning that the miners at Virginia City had resumed work after walking out Saturday night, after arranging for operating the pumps during their strike. A wire from the old camp denied this and explained that the men were voting today on a proposed settlement.

AUSTRIANS SHORN OF PRESTIGE

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Sept. 2.—The Austrian treaty, as virtually completed by the supreme council, will leave the future of Austria very largely in the hands of the league of nations. The league would decide whether she be permitted to join Germany, as France, Switzerland and many other countries are opposed to such union. It would appear that Austria is destined to be a separate state.

There seems to be a general feeling of dissatisfaction in peace conference circles with the treaty, but the council agreed Saturday on a virtually all sections because there is a general weariness of the discussions. Under the terms Vienna, with its 2,000,000 inhabitants, seemed doomed to lapse into comparative commercial insignificance and must inevitably relapse into a residential city.

U. S. AVIATION OFFICER SHOT
FROM AMBUSH
(By Associated Press)
LAREDO, Tex., Sept. 2.—Two American aviation officers on border patrol duty were fired upon by a group of Mexicans, near here. Captain Davis McNabb, one of the officers, was wounded. His companion, Lieutenant Johnson, made a safe landing on the American side. McNabb was removed to a farm house and an airplane with a surgeon and medical supplies came to his aid from headquarters. The officers were flying low about sixteen miles up the Rio Grande. Suddenly twenty-five Mexicans opened fire from the brush and poured repeated volleys into the airplane. McNabb was struck in the head.

Revival of Rich Camp With Strong Backing

Tybo is coming back. This was officially confirmed by a telegram from New York stating that the Louisiana Consolidated company has been fully re-financed and is now in a position to carry out the construction plans of the original company. The reorganization is further confirmed by news that the directors have entered into a contract with the Nevada-California Power company for building a high voltage power line from Belmont to Tybo. The cost of the line is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000, as the distance is about sixty-five miles and standard construction will be employed the full distance.

The line between Belmont and Manhattan will have to be re-laid with heavy insulators and heavy wire to 4-0 or the 65,000 volt circuit by the high tension lines.

SECOND RICH STRIKE ON THE SPANISH BELT

Another strike in the Consolidated Spanish Belt mine that equals the finding of the Ernst vein reported Saturday is announced from its headquarters of the company by Superintendent R. M. Hampton. The discovery this time is on an upper level where the famous old orebody known as the Barcelona ledge was mined up Sunday afternoon and Saturday morning at Tonopah. This supper surpassed the brightest expectations as they ran even higher than was found in the sulphide ore of the Ernst ledge. One picked sample gave 50 oz. gold and 122.20 oz. silver, while another picked sample gave 14 oz. gold and 54.70 oz. silver. The best showing in the estimation of the management was a sample of three feet of the face which ran 16 oz. gold and 126.30 oz. silver. The full face, 156 feet, gave a total of 14 oz. gold and 54.70 oz. silver, which would break down at the rate of $647.

The strike was made in the south corner No. 4, from San Pedro ledge of 4 ft. to 100 ft. from the main shaft extending with the shaft on the 145-foot level. This restores the former Barcelona orebody which was as famous fifty years ago as the latter day Molokas of Goldfield or the Tonopah divide which "began the boom" in that district. It was found the Barcelona ledge that San Pedro took out his richest ore and a study of the early records of the fact and the discovery, which was made in places a width of fifty feet. In the present instance the vein matter extends for a width of 100 feet with the strike holding up close to the pioneer high grade which was one, one grade of ore that it would pay to mine.

By setting the Barcelona and San Pedro ledges at about the same level the management establishes a higher grade which will be developed as rapidly as arrangements can be made to hoist out the ore.
