GOING TO BUILD 10 TON MILL

High Leonard, manager of the Lone Mountain Divide company, is now engaged receiving plans for the construction of a ten-ton mill at Lone Mountain near the head of Paymaster canyon. The work should be under way shortly after the first of the year and the mill will be in operation by February. The company has developed an extensive ledge of highgrade which has been coming in at the rate of 100 tons a month but after careful consideration, it was deemed best to hold the ore at the mine until such time as a mill can be built. The equipment has been bought and there is nothing to interfere with outdoor work on the southern slope of Lone Mountain where there is not a trace of snow. The mill will be operated as a straight cyaniding plant as there are no refractory elements to overcome. The company has arranged to secure an ample water supply from Paymaster well.

JAMES LICK BATHS ARE CLOSED FOREVER

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9.—The James Lick baths, famous San Francisco landmark, have closed forever. DON ROBISON MEETS DEATH AT MCGILL

Don Robison, 17 years old, who was employed at the concentrator at McGill, was caught in the ore bins by a slide of rock Sunday evening which resulted in his death shortly after he had been removed from his perilous position. It seems that the ore became clogged in the feeder and that the young man was using a bar to loosen the jam when the slide came which covered his lower body to the waist. A rope was given him and he tied it around his body beneath his arms and then he was pulled out of the rock by friends, and died immediately thereafter.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 9.—The president's proposal to the striking coal miners, as announced this afternoon by Attorney General Palmer here, provides for immediate return to work by men under the 14 per cent advance and the appointment of a commission to investigate and wages to conform with the increased cost of living.

Palmer's announcement was made immediately after the miners went into session to consider the proposal agreed upon at the Washington conference. The attorney general expressed confidence that the miners would accept and that work would be resumed in the mines immediately.

Palmer gave out the memorandum and also copies of the president's proposal, both of which were agreed to by Acting President Lewis and Secretary Green of the mine workers Saturday night.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 9.—Hearing on charges of contempt of court filed against eighty-four general and district officials of the United Mine Workers of America was postponed until next Tuesday on motion of the government's attorneys when the case was called today. WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Secretary Wilson today sent a telegram to John Lewis, acting head of the United Mine Workers, urging the miners to accept President Wilson's proposal for a settlement of the coal strike. C., Dec. 8.—Factors from far northern trading posts, explorers of the Arctic wastes, red jacketed Royal Northwest Mounted police constables and traders and trappers who live along the northern rim of the continent will be present, according to word received here, at an inquiry to be conducted at Ottawa by the Canadian government into the possibilities of the Canadian Arctic and the sub-Arctic as a grazing country.

The hearing was called as a result of a proposal made by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, explorer, that the government develop herds of reindeer and musk oxen on the northern wastes. Wool and meat from the animals could be raised for the outside world markets, Stefansson claims.

GENERAL COLD WAVE 39 BELOW AT BUTTE

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—The most severe weather of the winter which, with below zero temperatures, and further depletion of the diminished coal reserve, gripped the western part of the country today. Zero temperatures spread over Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Dakotas, northern Iowa and parts of other western states.

NIVLOC MINE OPENS $400 ORE

A wide vein, veins in which give assay returns as high as 600 ounces silver, has been opened in a cross-cut driven over 300 feet from the bottom of the 420-foot shaft of the Nivloc Mines company, operating eight miles southwest of Silver Peak. At 150 feet from the shaft this cross-cut entered the footwall of the main vein and continued in the vein for fifty feet, assays of from $15 to $80 in silver being obtained for this width, with nineteen feet on the footwall assaying $18. The crosscut was then continued an additional 125 feet, penetrating three veins in this distance.

The Nivloc was formerly the Nevada Cottonwoods Mining company and the claims and equipment have been sold four times at sheriff's sales. Eight years ago it was bought by W. A. Colvin, a New York and Chicago broker, and since then the money for operation has been furnished by him. He finally secured control two and one-half years ago and formed the new company, the name Nivloc being reversed. The first work on the claims was done twelve years ago.

FIVE BELOW AT 7 A. M. TODAY

Reliable thermometers on Main street showed readings of five below this morning between 7 and 8 o'clock, although the official temperature as registered by the United States weather bureau did not go below 4 above. The difference is due to the fact that the latter instrument occupies a sheltered position, while Main street is the lowest section of a deep gulch where the rarified atmosphere rushes down from the tops of Mount Oddie, Brougher and Butler and settles down on the street. The expectation that the mercury would touch zero during the night was not reached for the reason that the northwest air current swung around after midnight and warm air came in from the southeast on a moderate breeze. Fortunately the night was still, without a whisper of wind. The cold wave is general, ranging from Missouri to the Pacific coast. In the latter region some new cold records were established and it is feared that heavy losses were incurred by fruit growers as Sacramento reported a temperature of 29 degrees, which could not be combated by smudging. The reading at noon today in Tonopah was 20 degrees.

These claims are situated within a mile and five-eighths west of the Arrowhead Mining company's property and were located by George W. White of Warm Springs. Mr. Herman has associated himself with E. NAVY PICTURES SEEN TONIGHT

An interesting and instructive moving picture film, showing the life in the navy, including the spectacular firing of broadsides at night and many other high-power action scenes, is to be screened at 10:15 at the theatre tonight.

Chief Yeoman Howard N. Smith appears with an explanatory lecture. The film shows the boys in blue at work and play, scenes from the various training stations and trade schools, on board ship, the big guns booming at both day and night firing, the searchlight in action and the famous destroyer flotilla at work in the English channel.

The film is both interesting and enticing to young men, and particularly enlightening to mothers whose boys are somewhere out on the deep sea ready to strike in the name of their country.

W. J. Yeager, chief gunner's mate in charge of the navy's recruiting station at Reno is accompanying Chief Yeoman Smith with this film through the state of Nevada.

The navy needs many thousands of men from all walks of life and men with trades may enter in their respective lines and receive good positions from the start, and men without trades may enter and the navy will teach them a trade. The service is offering fifty different trade lines and also a short term enlistment of two years.
