

ODDIE-ARENTZ PARTY SPEAKS DESPITE SNOW

Campaigning in Central Nevada Proves Strenuous During Past Few Days

AUSTIN, Nev., Oct. 23.—Campaigning has been desperate business in central Nevada the last few days. Members of the Oddie-Arentz automobile party have had their lives in their hands, figuratively, in more ways than one. Sometimes they have escaped by literal and lateral dashes. Lanches have been eaten from cold tin, in the midst of blinding, swirling blizzards on the desert. Summit have been climbed with the coat end of the big campaigning car swinging to the very edge of dangerous abysses. Trails, so-called highways, have been followed almost by instinct. Sight was obscured. Desolation was appalling. In an 80-mile trip not a consequence of any kind was encountered except a stalled car on the Austin summit. Yet progress had to be made.

The start from Ely for Eureka was made Tuesday noon, against the advice of experienced men. The county seat of Eureka was reached a few minutes before 8 o'clock. The scheduled meeting was held at the Eureka theatre, which was filled, man floor and gallery. A considerable delegation from Ruby Hill was present. Republican sentiment was decidedly strong, and speeches of Oddie and Arentz further stimulated it. Eureka and Austin have proved much alike, politically. An expression of a citizen of the latter place illustrated the idea. He said: "All the Republicans turned out and the three Democrats stayed at home."

The two candidates addressed high school pupils at Eureka before a part from that place was made at 12:30 o'clock. Again the journey was undertaken against advice. A mile and a half below the Austin summit the car staggered, dodged, and slid in the icy snow and finally stalled. Oddie and Arentz, believing themselves about two and a half miles from Austin, decided to walk and fill their speaking date.

The distance proved to be five and a half miles. The candidates arrived at the old camp after 9 o'clock. Their audience had dispersed, but a leather-lunged giant with a megaphone succeeded in re-assembling a considerable portion of it. Speeches were made in Hogan hall, concluding at 11 o'clock, and dancing followed. The automobile reached town after being helped through two deep drifts by a span of horses which had been sent out to drag in a disabled machine.

The very fact of the knowledge of Nevada displayed by Candidates Oddie and Arentz, which enabled them to complete the hazardous journey, has increased the respect in which they are held by old-timers of the Sierran state. Younger citizens express admiration of the stamina of the men.

Facts Refute Democratic Attack on Tasker Oddie

The people were much surprised on the morning of October 20 to see the Tonopah Times display its ignorance and petty partisanship by headlining an article with these words: "Appointee of Oddie Slashed Miners' Wages," and by then going on in the above article to give the inference that Tasker L. Oddie, when governor of this state, appointed a man as United States senator who had previously in Goldfield reduced wages from $5 to $3.50 a day. This article was purported to come from Ely and from Thomas E. Halley, the Democratic county chairman.

The framers of the article, for some reason or other, did not feel it advisable to mention the name of the appointed senator referred to; but as there has been but one man who operated in Goldfield who was appointed United States senator, we can see that the Democratic mud was directed at George Wingfield.

Now let us see what Mr. Wingfield has to say. As soon as he was apprised of the article he forthwith sent to J. H. Fulmer, at Ely, Nevada, the following telegram:

"Wages at Goldfield were never reduced from $5 to $3.50 per day. The Goldfield Consolidated Mines company signed with C. H. McKinnon, president of the I. W. W., who was later convicted with Haywood at Chicago, a contract for three years at $5 per day. This contract was broken by the I. W. W. in less than a week because the company refused to force their watchman and mine superintendents to join the I. W. W. There was no controversy over wages or hours, which is borne out by the fact that some of the I. W. W. leaders who were not in the habit of working, paid $20 per day to certain shift bosses for the privilege of working on the property so they could steal rich ore from the company. The same I. W. W. outfit boycotted the restaurants which fed the carpenters belonging to the American Federation of Labor. Grant Hamilton, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, appeared on the scene and helped the citizens of Goldfield rout the I. W. W. outfit. The I. W. W. had reported and murdered many men, including the murder of Silva, who fed the carpenters who belonged to the American Federation of Labor."

Can we believe, and does the Democratic party want the voters of the state of Nevada to feel and know that Charles B. Henderson is playing for the I. W. W. vote, and that the Democratic party is espousing the cause of I. W. W. murder and terror that was rampant in Goldfield in 1905?

The voters of the state can draw their own conclusions from the aforesaid telegram as to the facts of the case. The people of Tonopah want the facts to be known, and want the issues of the campaign and the relative merits of Tasker L. Oddie and Charles B. Henderson submitted to the voters on facts, and not upon vicious misstatements and misleading inferences.

There have been other appointments made by governors of the state of Nevada, and our present governor, Emmet D. Boyle, appointed Charles B. Henderson to the United States senate.

We would respectfully ask whether or not the said Charles B. Henderson at the time of his appointment was or was not the attorney for the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific railroads.

WHISKEY RING STIRS CHICAGO

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Confidential police files concerning alleged "whiskey rings" for illicit traffic were in the hands of the United States district attorney today. Additional developments today were orders for the arrest of three policemen and a former policeman on a charge of soliciting a bribe from a saloonkeeper and the arrest of two deputy internal revenue collectors and two other men charged with taking kick money from a saloonkeeper upon whose premises they found liquor. Another policeman surrendered and was held for the federal grand jury. He was said to have been driving a truck loaded with whiskey. Nine policemen previously were held to the federal grand jury in connection with the whiskey scandal. The police files were returned yesterday until an assistant district attorney gave Chief Garrity until 10 o'clock this morning to deliver them. Politicians took them to the federal building.

DESERT QUEEN MINER KILLED

Henry Hansen, a miner employed in the Desert Queen mine of the Tonopah Belmont Development company, was killed this afternoon about 3 o'clock by falling down a chute between the 700 and 800-foot levels. Exact details of how the accident occurred are not available at the time of going to press. Mr. Hansen was 31 years of age and had been in the employ of the Belmont company since the 14th of this month. He had resided in Tonopah for some time, being employed formerly at various mines. He was unmarried and his only known relative is a brother, John Hansen, of Prescott, Arizona, who has been notified of the accident.

THIS SPACE HAS BEEN PURCHASED BY THE FRIENDS OF TASKER L. ODDIE

Who is the real friend of the working man?

Is he a Mine Superintendent who, in going through the mine, stops to talk to his men, calls all those he knows by their first name, investigates carefully their working conditions, and asks each one how things are and how he is doing? Tasker L. Oddie did that while Mine Superintendent for the Tonopah Mining Company at Tonopah.

Is the working man's friend a man who sees to it that his men get the best wages and who is not content with the prevailing scale if he feels that it is not enough? Tasker L. Oddie has done more to raise the wages of miners than any other mine operator who ever operated in the state of Nevada.

Is he a friend of the working man who takes his men in his own car once a week for a good swim and then to a big fat dinner? Tasker L. Oddie, while operating at Lucky Boy, took his men once each week to Walker Lake for a swim and then over to Hawthorne for a sumptuous meal.

Who helped, financially and otherwise, the early business man of Tonopah? Tasker L. Oddie. Who gave them more help during lean and cloudy days? The same Tasker L. Oddie.

Judge a man by what he says and by what he does in his everyday life, not when he is in politics or when he is aspiring for political preference. Tasker L. Oddie has always been a man among men, a miner among miners and to all people a friend.
