PROFESSOR KILLS DEAN; COMMITS SUICIDE

(By Associated Press)
SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 1.—J. Herman Wharton, dean of the college of business administration of Syracuse university, was shot and killed today by Holmes Beckwith, professor of financial insurance subjects in the college. Beckwith then turned the gun on himself and committed suicide.

Beckwith had been unpopular with the students and it was said petitions had been circulated among the student body asking for his removal. In a statement, Chancellor Day declared it was his belief that Wharton died trying to prevent Beckwith from committing suicide.

(By Associated Press)
Dr. Beckwith was a first lieutenant of field artillery in the world war. He joined the Syracuse university faculty last September and was head of the department of finance insurance. He formerly taught in Colorado college, Iowa college and Northwestern university. He was given an LL. D. by the University of California and Ph. D. by Columbia, and was a bank examiner in California.

OPERATE MILL AT MAYFLOWER

PIONEER, Nev., April 2.—Whatever cause for dissatisfaction Mayflower stockholders may have had under past managements, they certainly have only cause for congratulations since W. J. Tobin resumed control. During the 18 months that he has been complete control a heavy indebtedness has been reduced, a large amount of development done, new orebodies opened, the 13-stamp mill put in good repair, and alterations made for more economic work, and a 1400-foot tunnel has been advanced to cut the Starlight vein.

The stamp mill has been thoroughly overhauled and there have been several changes made, all with the end in view of quick handling of ore and high percentage of recovery. A recovery of about 85 per cent is claimed, and the slimes are being conserved for treatment later by the cyanide process. The amalgamating plates are credited with a recovery of 60 per cent, and the Wilfley tables retain 25 per cent. As the slimes only carry 15 per cent of the metallic content, the cyanide process will not be introduced until later. A cyanide installation is now on the ground but will need some improvements before being adapted to economic handling of the slimes as they now come from the Mayflower mill.

Next to the overhauling of the mill possibly the most important work is the running of the Starlight tunnel to cut that vein. This work opens up new territory said to be most valuable, as high-grade has been opened at several points along the Starlight vein system. At present, during the mill test, only $15 ore is being hauled, but as soon as ready to start on 24-hour runs, some high-grade will be mixed with the main Mayflower vein ore in which there is $80,000 worth blocked out.

Half a mile distant from the Mayflower is the Reorganized Pioneer Mine company claims. In times past this mine was famous as a shipper and producer of high-grade ore. In addition to a large amount of good grade milling ore handled at the mill over $500,000 in high-grade ore was shipped. The 10-stamp mill was successfully operated for a period of four years.

The mine is fully equipped with a 40-horsepower Fairbanks-Morse hoist, 60-horsepower Westinghouse driving engine and a 3-drill Ingersoll-Sargent air compressor. The principal work at present is that of sinking the main shaft from the 600-foot to the water level which is expected to be

FAREWELL GIVEN REV. GRAFIOUS AND FAMILY

A farewell reception to Rev. H. L. Grafious and family was given at the Presbyterian church last evening. After a delightful informal program, W. P. Clendenin on behalf of the church and community expressed great regret at the going of the pastor and his family. He spoke of the high esteem and appreciation that the people of Tonopah held them in, and that many today are living on a much higher spiritual plane because of his virtuous, helpful guidance. On behalf of many friends he then presented a parting gift of sterling silverware. Rev. Grafious, with much feeling, expressed the heartfelt appreciation of himself and family at the support given and the results that have followed, closing with a reminder of the great opportunity that lay before them.

The ladies of the congregation served delicious refreshments. As a close the large gathering, with clasped hands, sang their farewell "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Tomorrow will be the last service by Rev. Grafious at the local church. Monday the family leaves for Reno, from where, after a short stay, Mr. Grafious will leave for Seattle, Washington, to locate.

reached at 800 feet. As soon as the permanent water level is reached, a station will be cut and cross-cuts will be started in a northwesterly and southeasterly direction. The latter will be extended in the direction of the Mayflower mine. The northwesterly crosscut will pass out under four stopes on the upper levels. As these stopes have in times past yielded over $200,000, it is to be thought that more rich ore will be found on the lower levels. It is the opinion of mining engineers that the lower levels will contain the rich permanent orebodies.

POLISH TRAINS HAUL GRAIN

(By Associated Press)
WARSAW, April 2.—Trains made up entirely of Polish rolling stock and manned by Polish crews began making regular trips into Rumania recently to bring grain to the new republic which suffered terribly in crop losses last year owing to the bolshevik offensive. Rumania was unable to deliver grain to Poland because of lack of usable rolling stock. This grain is milled into flour for the population of Galicia, Northern Poland, including Warsaw, receives its supply of flour chiefly from America.

Two trains a day, transporting about 25,000 tons of grain a month, are now making regular trips from central Rumania.

Experts have reported excellent prospects for Poland's crops next harvest, and it is expected that with a summer of peace the country will raise enough grain to supply all needs.

Money is a sort of shikaree after all—it goes into hiding when it is not needed.

Some gallible folks thought last year that the transportation problem had been solved.
