POLITICAL WISEACRE IS MERELY DUMPHOOL

It is not a matter of course that a man who is a political wiseacre is also a dumphool. But it is a matter of course that a man who is a political wiseacre is also a dumphool. ## FREIGHT RATES AND THE FARMER

The farmer's problem is a serious one. It is not a matter of course that a man who is a political wiseacre is also a dumphool. But it is a matter of course that a man who is a political wiseacre is also a dumphool.

This statement was endorsed by several leaders of farmers organizations. M. R. Bonstedt, secretary of the South Nevada Farm Bureau Federation, declared that a period of five years must elapse under best conditions before farmers in production Western farms which have been forced out of operation. Many of these farms, formerly highly cultivated, were returning to range conditions.

A moment's consideration will convince anyone that there is no economic disturbance which can be confined to the interests of farmers alone. It is often gibberish repeated that the agricultural industry is based on all others and that all must share in the misfortune of the farmer. But in times like these many of the businessmen in their own enterprises are hardly in a position to sympathize with the farmer.

Even the farmers of whose interests so much is made now, unless we have the 1918-1919 experience as a guide, are not agricultural workers. It is a mistake to consider the farmer as a worker in the same sense as the factory worker. The farmer is a capitalist, and he is a capitalist in the same sense as the factory worker.

The farmer's problem is a serious one. It is not a matter of course that a man who is a political wiseacre is also a dumphool. But it is a matter of course that a man who is a political wiseacre is also a dumphool.

ENJOYED VACATION

CONDITION UNIMPROVED

Very little change is noticeable in the condition of George Andrews, pioneer hotel manager of this district, who is seriously ill at the "Home Operators' hospital, although hope is held out for the best.

Maybe Jack Demsey didn't want to go to France in light because he had a hunch as to the size of the horse.

THE LAST RESORT.

From the amount of fighting that has been done in the last decade it might be suspected that restless spirits such as are accustomed to seek army life for the excitement it provides would be well "fed up" and not at all eager to do more for a time. However, the announcement that the Spanish government will recruit a foreign legion to fight the Moors in Africa has caused the Spanish embassy in London and the consulate of that government in New York to be overwhelmed with applicants.
