CONDITIONS OF NEVADA COPPER MUCH BETTER

For some time past it has been the policy of the Nevada Consolidated Copper Company to increase its forces at the mines and smelter, where an indication that the present depression has passed. It is the general consensus of opinion that the country will resume operations in the spring, but on a somewhat limited scale. In comparison with past operations, says the Ely Record, "The Nevada Consolidated will this week finish the shipping of all its surplus copper stock from Mexico, which however, does not mean that the surplus has been sold, but that the surplus which the various companies were confronted a year ago is gradually being reduced and the time will soon arrive when it will be necessary for them to replenish their stock of metal on hand. Usually three months' time must elapse from the time the ore is taken from the mine until the metal is refined and ready for the market hence the companies must commence operations soon, otherwise the stocks in the east may have become depleted."

FINDS CONDITIONS BETTER THAN IN 1920

E. D. Stinson, traveling agent for the traffic department of the Southern Pacific railroad, with headquarters at Reno, is visiting in Tonopah today and speaks very enthusiastically concerning general business conditions in this territory. "Very much better than last year," is the way in which Mr. Stinson expresses himself, when asked about the trade in the territory served by the well known rail system. "We should not attempt to make a comparison with the years during the war," said Mr. Stinson. "Those times were abnormal, but in comparison with last year, I find that everyone throughout Nevada with whom I come in contact has a much better feeling over the present situation than they held a year ago. It is very satisfying, and presages the more prosperous times that are at hand."

ALLEGED TO HAVE SOLD HOUSES NOT HIS OWN

The case of the state of Nevada vs. Frank Bellis, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, is being tried in the district court this afternoon. Bellis is alleged to have sold two cabins to James McGuire to which he had no title. The jury impaneled to hear the testimony in the case is as follows: R. H. Craft, W. H. Bozarth, E. F. Kinsella, Hugh Holmes, J. E. Bevis, W. H. McAllister, Donald Thompson, Emmeline Kinsella, John Sellstrom, Elmer Tansey, Andy Sorenson and D. Cordingly. Some time will be consummated in which to take all of the testimony.

PHONE CALLS DELAY XMAS MAIL SORTING

During the past few days the telephone at the post office has been deluged with calls from everywhere in Tonopah inquiring as to whether there were packages on hand those for the person calling. Hundreds of calls were received yesterday and the frequency of their receipt was responsible for considerable delay on the part of the office force in properly sorting the very heavy mail that accumulates before Christmas. Every effort is being made by the efficient force that Mr. McQuillen has employed to do everything possible to sort the great quantities of mail matter coming in and going out every hour, and it will materially help the delivery of Christmas packages for those interested in their receipt to call in person at the post office rather than to bother the clerks by calling them from their work to inquire for a package. Mr. McQuillen desires it announced that this restriction on the use of the telephone applies only to the holiday period, and that after the immense accumulation of Christmas mail is disposed of, he will be more than glad to answer questions over the phone.

HIGH GRADE STOLEN FROM MINER'S CABIN

Some person whom George Banovich believes must have been in distress appropriated twenty-one sacks of high grade ore from the Queen of the Hills property on Willow creek. The ore was left in the cabin at the time operations were suspended about three months ago, but Mr. Banovich was informed the other day that some one had made away with the same. It develops that a prospector from that section recently sold a ton of ore at one of the mills in Tonopah that contained values of nearly $200 a ton, and it is suspected that he is the guilty party. At any rate the Christmas spirit prevails in the heart and mind of Mr. Banovich, and he says he is not going to bother himself about solving the mystery. "Maybe the fellow needed the money," he remarked.

UNIVERSITY LADY STUDENTS ARRIVED THIS MORNING

This morning's train from Reno had as passengers the Misses Margaret Griffin, Gladys Douglas, Ethel Robb, Georgia Money and Jane Kerwin, students of the University of Nevada, returning to Tonopah to spend the holidays with their parents.

AMUSEMENTS

WILLIAM DUNCAN & BEN TURPIN AT BUTLER TODAY

William Duncan and Earl Johnson, co-stars in "Whore Men Are Men" which will be shown at the Butler today, are expert riders and all-around athletes—both enjoying all forms of out-door sports.

In this production, which deals with the Death Valley Gold mining region of California they are given every opportunity to display their skill in handling horses, rifles and performing other stunts that only those who keep physically fit can do.

The story deals with the efforts of a girl to solve the mystery surrounding the death of her father and the struggle of a youth to find the man who made way with his mining partner. Although in both cases the missing man is one and the same neither the boy nor the girl are aware of the fact. At times each thinks the other working against him or her. They are in love and often jealousy magnifies the differences. "The other girl" takes a hand in affairs and instead of spoiling the pudding helps draw matters to a pleasing conclusion.

EXCURSION RATES
