

FLORENCE NOW GIVES ACCOUNT AS PRODUCER

Eight Leased Blocks of Ground Promise to Produce Large Amount Ore Near Future

Eight leased blocks continue to be developed in the Florence and occasional shipments are being made. Recently sent out 333 dry pounds settled for at $2681 per ton. Hain and Giles are expected to make a good shipment soon. Brocklebank, who is working in one of the 221 bonanza places is getting better assays, is saving ore in fair quantity, and is now considered to have a good chance to find a real orebody. The most important development work on the largest scale is being done in the blocks ad Red Hill blocks, both of which are searching for ore below the 2000 level. The early days, says the Goldfield Tribune.

The most interesting place in the blocks is the Jumbo drift, which is close to where ore should be found. The condition of the vein is improving, indicating a good chance for opening ore. The drift is in a two-foot width of soft vein water consisting of crushed quartz and talc. The Baby crosscut is being driven on the original course in broken, faulted ground. After passing through the south end of the Jumbo vein, the Daisy drift was continued on the original course and about 29 feet it has entered a new vein, which it is thought, may be part of the Daisy system.

The Red Hill, on the 700-foot level, is still crosscutting south from the Red Hill shaft, and three veins have been penetrated. It is expected that more vein matter will be found farther east and a drift will be driven on the hanging-wall. A drift will be driven north of the No. 1 vein according to the present plans. Only low assays have been obtained thus far, but the general conditions are reported to be excellent.

Donald and Giles, on the 150 of the Reilly continue drifting south into the hanging-wall of the "glory hole" slope in an attempt to open the extension of the ore mined some time ago above this level.

Road, on the 258, is crosscutting east into the hanging-wall just south of the Engineers stop. He is getting very encouraging assays and is cutting seams of "high grade." On the 442 Road is raising on a streak in the main Little Florence vein and is getting occasional good assays.

Brocklebank also on the 258, is working on a streak in the foot-wall of the main vein. Conditions have been much better this week, as the streak is getting wider, and better assays are being obtained. A shovel sample taken a few days ago gave $77.

Hollen is prospecting generally over his block. Stedman is prospecting at the south end of his block. The Subbeam has not yet resumed work.

GERMAN GIRLS CROSS BORDER SEEKING WORK

Estimated That Twenty Thousand Have Already Crossed Line Into Holland

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, June 20.—(By Mail).—Holland frontier, made notorious during the war as a favorite exit from Germany for fugitive prisoners of war, is again coming into the limelight through the surreptitious crossing of young German girls anxious to get Dutch employment. It is estimated that Germany is already poorer by 20,000 female servants as a result of this practice.

With high wages and attractive working conditions, Holland has become something of a "promised land" for German frauleins qualified as housemaids or cooks. Twenty to 25 guilders a month are paid beginners, while the more efficient receive from 40 to 50. Such pay means from 2000 to 5000 marks monthly at the present rate of exchange, about 10 times more than help of this kind receives in Germany.

Amsterdam firms and dwellings have acquired about 5000 of the emigrants and there are about 3000 at The Hague. Most of them have been drawn from the Rhineland and Westphalia, where labor exchanges have been established at various places in cooperation with Dutch exchanges. Women's organizations in the western German provinces are actively opposing the exodus because of the shortage of help in households and on farms.

EXTENSION IS SHOWING LARGE RESERVES ORE

Bullion Shipment of Past Week Was Within Keeping That of Past Months

SHAFT SINKING IN ORDER

Some Trouble Experienced During Week With Pumps, but Matters are Again Normal

Progressiveness marks development that is going forward at the Tonopah Extension Mining company, and the production is being increased gradually as the scope of operations is broadened. During the last half of June shipment of bullion aggregated $4,580 ounces, having a value of $74,000, which was in keeping with the output made during the past few months.

During the seven-day period ending Friday night, June 7, work on sinking from the 2000 level of the Victor shaft was delayed owing to pump trouble, but everything will be in readiness to continue sinking without interruption from this time forward. The physical condition of the mine is reported as being excellent, and large bodies of ore are being exposed throughout the various mine workings. The official report of operations follows:

McKane Shaft.
"1200 level—1203 west drift was continued in Extension breccia. 1203 raise was continued in Extension breccia.

"1840 level—Sump crosscut was advanced 15 feet.

Victor Shaft.
"1539 level—Stoping is in progress on Murray vein.

"1760 level—1718 crosscut was advanced 9 feet in Extension breccia. Stoping is in progress on Murray vein.

"1804 level—1803 west drift advanced 19 feet on 5 feet of ore. 1809 west drift advanced 15 feet on 5 feet of ore. 1819 west drift advanced 13 feet on 5 feet of ore. 1811 west drift advanced 12 feet on 4 feet of ore. 1809 west drift advanced 5 feet on 4 feet of ore. Raises 1808, 1809, 1810 and 1812, Murray vein, were continued on full faces of ore. Stoping is in progress on Murray and Anchor veins. Work in shaft was delayed on account of pump trouble. Development 194 feet."

WU TING FANG PROVED LOYAL TO HIS COUNTRY

Interview Given Out Before His Death Showed He Sought Recognition at Home

(The following interview with Wu-Tingfang was given a few days before his death, which was recently announced by cable.)

CANTON, South China, June 4.—(Associated Press by Mail).—The former Chinese minister at Washington, Wu-Tingfang, received today the correspondent of the Associated Press and set forth the reasons why he believed the powers should recognize south China. He presented the cause of the Chinese republic in this regard during a long interview in which he explained also the vital differences between Sun Yat Sen and Chen Chung-ming, and dwelt upon China's financial difficulties.

Dr. Wu, who is now the civil governor of Kwangtung province under the southern government, received the correspondent in his Canton office. He answered every question asked him with great care, and was interested in seeing that his answer was correctly transcribed.

"For nearly five years south China has been practically independent, and for about two years we have been existing as the republic of China," Dr. Wu said. "During all this time we have been running our government without assistance from the outside world, and the outside world is not going to help us until we gain some form of recognition."

"How are we going to build up a modern government without being able to contract loans and without being able to make treaties in other words, without recognition by the other government in the world? We are so handicapped that we are almost powerless, and if we continue to sit and wait, we will be waiting until doomsday. We must force the powers to recognize us. As soon as they do this, our civil war will stop, and the people of Kwangtung and south China will set up a model government."

"At present we are in reality a de facto government," Dr. Wu continued. "For months this government has been functioning perfectly. During all this time we have been dealing with other governments, although unofficially. I am addressed as governor by the foreign officials of other governments in this part of China. We are constantly dealing, unofficially, with consular and other officials of foreign countries as though we were a permanent government. After the overthrow of the

BABY BUGGIES NOW LACKING IN PETROGRAD

Thousands of Kiddies Out For Air during Summer Carried in Arms of Mothers

(By Associated Press)

PETROGRAD, June 16.—(By Mail).—The sunshine of summer makes evident Russia's lack of baby carriages. There are no trim nurses wheeling babies along the park paths, and only rarely is a perambulator seen at all.

Thousands of babies, out for an airing, are carried in their mothers' arms. Occasionally one sees semi-Oriental women from the steppes and Turkestan with their infants strapped across their backs, like the American Indian papooses.

Russian babies of the peasant type die by thousands in the hot summer and their tiny bodies know few or none of the cooling comforts of screened and shady porches. The use of ice for keeping milk is practically unknown.

But thousands of the hardy little infants go wherever their mothers do; seem to sleep contentedly on their mothers' breasts in crowded fox cars or under dripping eaves on rainy days when the parents like huddled bundles of rags in the shelter of buildings.

Manchu dynasty the newly established government existed for only 13 months before it was recognized. Much longer than this have we been proving ourselves able to run a stable government, but due to the continuous counter efforts of the Peking government, we are still unrecognized.

"Our government represents not a few thousands of people, but many millions. Other governments in the world which have not existed as long as ours, and which do not represent nearly so many people, have been recognized by the powers. I might also add that most of the overseas Chinese favor the southern government. But because of propaganda not favorable to our case the foreign powers pay little attention to us. So you see we are forced to fight for our existence."

BOLSHEVIK SPREADS AMONG RUSS BOYS

(By Associated Press)

WARSAW, June 16.—(By Mail).—The Warsaw police have uncovered here an organization for the spreading of bolshevik propaganda among school boys. Twenty-four boys under 20 years of age have been arrested, and the papers seized reveal branches of the organization all over Poland.
