TEARS MISSING AS CONSTANTINE QUILTS BUSINESS

Was Most Unpopular Ruler Among British People and Regrets Are Lacking

NOW DROPS INTO OBSCURITY
Press of Britain Not Lacking in Lambasting the Man Who Once Was Ruler

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The second government of Constantine of Greece has no tears, as he has no friends among the British public, owing to his repudiated German sympathies during the world war. "Paltry personage who has just returned after a decade of globo-trotting to reveal his associates at Stanford university and his activities at San Diego."

RARE MANUSCRIPTS BROUGHT TO COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Four rare and valuable manuscripts written 400 years ago in Lhasa, sacred to the Thibet and a center of Buddhist worship, were recently brought to this country by W. Y. Evans-Wentz, a scholar who has just returned after a decade of globetrotting to reveal his associates at Stanford university and his activities at San Diego.

The manuscripts are part of the esoteric teachings of Gnosticism and are known as the "Papyrus of Hermes." They are found in a volume three feet long by one foot wide by a foot in thickness. The covers of the heavy covers are richly illuminated by early Thibetan monks, made after the fashion of medieval illuminations of Europe. One of the deities, Rama, son of Buddha, with a crown on his head, is depicted. The manuscript was assisted in the establishment of a non-sectarian school called the Yoga Villalaya for the scientific study of religions on a scientific foundation, located on the Ganges river, near Hardwar, one of the holy cities of the Hindus. The plan is endorsed by the British government, which has allowed land for its use. Through exhibition of the sacred manuscripts in this country West plans to raise funds for an endowment to the school and for scholarships.

MOVIE PLAY GIVEN REAL WESTERN THRILL

LESPIC, Sept. 28.—The audience in a suburban movie theater was given a taste of real wild west action yesterday when a score of armed men believed to be communists raided the house and confiscated a film depicting alleged chaotic conditions in Russia and consequences of the military power of the soviet government. The raiders wore German military blouses.

IMPERIAL GROUNDS TO BE GIVEN JAPANESE

TOKIO, Sept. 28.—The imperial household department has announced that the Shinjuku imperial gardens, where each year the imperial cherry will be granted to the city of Tokio. Blossom garden party has taken place. Another garden is being sought for this year.

The Shinjuku park, which embraces 180,000 trees, hinders traffic between Yotsuya and Sendagaya and prevents extension of one of these stations. Four thousand trees were granted last year to the prefecture for construction of a middle school.

PERISHING AT SEA, AVIATORS RELATE STORY

Thrilling Experiences Related By Men Who Told Story Previous to Death

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Below us were sharks, near the land crocodiles. Would we float near enough to ground our inflated top hamper and signal someone ashore for risk swimming for it? Then our hopes were shattered, for an undercurrent caught our submerged planes and fashies, and faster than we could near the land we were pulled away from it. Quickly it faded and our hopes sank. We were utterly helpless and at the mercy of the wind and the tide.

The above sentences are taken from the long and thrilling narrative which records the terrible experiences of Capt. Norman Macmillan and Captain Matlines while aloft for 48 hours on a wrecked soapbox in the Bay of Bengal. They were engaged in a round-the-world flight organized by the Daily News.

"Suddenly we noticed an abomination in the trim of the craft," continues the narrative. "Round and round we tumbled, water pouring over us, banging on tooth and nail, and soaked by the repeated wash that broke completely over us. Evidently we were in a tide whirl."

Perhaps the most impressive thing in the story is Captain Macmillan's account of their abandonment by a native brig which passed near them when they were almost spent. "Mailbags could hear beautiful instrumental music," writes Macmillan, "and the sound of the pipes playing in tents in the distance. We did not mention this to each other at the time. We wore each afraid of that. Suddenly we saw a sail away down south. Was it coming up? Yes, slowly. A windjammer. Soon its yards appeared. Gradually it came along. Standing up, we could see the hull. It was all we could do to remain upright. We waved our distress flag, signaling the international 3, 0, 3. The brig was coming straight for us. She must almost run us down. She could not fall to see us. Was she changing her course? Surely not, but she was. She turned off half a mile away and steadily passed us within half a mile, with two men looking at us from the poop."

ELKS WILL ENTERTAIN DURING COMING WINTER

The Midland Lyceum Bureau, which appeared last year under the auspices of Tonopah Lodge of Elks will be with us again this coming fall and winter. The committee appearing will be entirely new and different from those of last year. Last year the Midland gave us all entertaining and pleasing numbers, and they come under a guarantee that this year's entertainment course will be superior to any in lyceum entertainments. The course will this year consist of seven numbers instead of five, as follows:

- Metropolitan Trio—Oct. 16, 1922.
- Chicago Orchestra Club—Nov. 29.
- Little Players—Dec. 23.
- Colonial Players—Jan. 29, 1923.
- Stewart Long (Lecturer)—Feb. 16.
- Theresa Sheehan Co.—March 19.
- Mozart Orchestra—To be assigned.
- Metropolitan Male Trio—A fine singing organization of male voices, also instrumental selections on organ, chimes. One of the best trios in concert work.
- Chicago Orchestra Club is an artist company, one of the finest in the entire Lyceum field. The instrumentation is ideal, harp, violin and cello, the finest of solo instruments. Virginia Rice is the harpist, plays a Lyon & Healy harp of rare brilliance and power, an instrument valued at a small fortune. Genevieve Mead is instrumental solos, readings of varied character dialogues, short one-act plays, character portrayals in make-up and costume. The Little Players consist of Carl S. McKee, baritone soloist, pianist an accompaner, and

GREATEST SHORTSTOP KNOWN IN BASEBALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Out on the field directing the defensive play that "nigger" John McGraw, the manager, nor his first assistant, Hugh Jennings, could do from their places on the bench, all season has been Dave Bancroft, field captain of the Giants of another pennant.

"Banny" is listed by many of the competent critics of the game to be the greatest shortstop in baseball today. The teams that have won pennants with a poor or even mediocre team at shortstop—the pivot of the defense—are few, and those that have come through winners of the world's series usually all had top-notchers.

TONOPAH BOYS MAKING GOOD AT UNIVERSITY

ARMISTICE DAY, Nov. 11 will be the third annual homecoming day at the University of Nevada. An effort will be made by the different committees in charge to have every alumni of the university visit the campus on this particular day.

Thomas Hickman, president of the Alumni association, is working in cooperation with the students' committee and has already outlined tentative plans. The morning will be devoted to showing the alumni over the campus, and each building will be open for inspection. A luncheon has been planned to be given in the gymnasium. In the afternoon the alumni will have a chance to see the varsity in action against Whitman college, one of the strongest football teams on the coast. A dance in the evening will conclude the day's program. Professor Hug, graduate of Tonopah high school, is a likely candidate for the Nevada varsity. Hug played all last year, proving his ability in the Nevada-Utah game.

The U. of N. Sagebrush, the university publication, says of Hug: "Hug is showing good form and in spite of his diminutive size will give the other backs a good run for their money in the speed burners' division." He will probably be one of the players to begin the game against the Ignition club.

Ogden Monahan, also a graduate of Tonopah high school, who has been trying for a place on the varsity for two years, was successful this week in securing a position on the team. The U. of N. Sagebrush credits Monahan as one of the best punters on the Nevada gridiron.

Gertrude Wright McKee, reader, improvisator, accompanist and crayon artist.

Colonial Players—It is seldom the Lyceum is able to offer a company of skilled musicians and at the same time a talented group of players. In the Colonial Players we have both. The program is divided into two parts. The first part is devoted to solos, duets and quartets featuring those classics of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. In the second part will be presented a beautiful one-act play of the colonial days.

Stewart Long, Lecturer—The lecture, "Reaching the Goal." Mr. Long is one of the younger generation of lecturers who is giving new life and vitality to the time-old truths. They are distinctly worth while. He has been on the platform for a number of years and has won his right to a place among the established successes of the Lyceum.

Theresa Sheehan Company—A smart, classy, up-to-the-minute company. A standard high-grade attraction with a popular program. Miss Sheehan Reader will be ably supported by Miss Martha Lynn Tripper, soprano, and Miss Vivian Des Jardins, violinist. Mozart Orchestra—The Mozart Ladies' Quartet, directed by Marie E. Viol, just returned from the Royal Academy of Music in Europe. The program consists of vocal and instrumental quartets, together with costume numbers, readings, trios, solos and duets. A banner number.

CANDIDATES ARE POPULAR AMONG STATE VOTERS

Republican Nominees Receive Great Reception at Firing Of First Campaign Gun

RENO, Nev., Sept. 28.—The republican party launched its campaign here last night before a large and enthusiastic audience. Charles S. Chandler was introduced by former Congressman Roberts and received an ovation. Chandler received constructive legislation of congress and President Harding insisted that to uphold the power of the administration republican representatives must be sent from Nevada. John H. Miller, nominee for governor, met a hearty reception and the audience applauded his outline of state economy. Harry H. Atkinson made a big hit at his initial speech on the state business administration. Grant Miller, nominee for congress, is in fine form and closed the meeting with cheers. All state nominees made short addresses and all were well received. The state tour starts today with Chandler and Grant Miller heading one party in the north, John H. Miller, Harry H. Atkinson and party leave for the south. Last night's meeting is conceded to have been one of the most enthusiastic openings in the political history of western Nevada. All state candidates of the party have made pledges of a business administration. Meetings will be held in Sparks and Carson today.

THREE STATES ARE IN FAVOR OF LIGHT WINE

Massachusetts, Ohio and California Voters Opposed To Prohibition

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A favorable vote on beer and light wines in Massachusetts, Ohio, California and Illinois this fall would convince congressmen the people in all sections of the country are in favor of beer and light wines. Ernst Knudt, president of the Royal Malt Beverage Dealers' association, declared today at their forty-seventh annual meeting.

FOOTBALL COACH IS AFTER BIG TIMBER

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 28.—(By Associated Press.) "I want nothing but hard workers and hard fighters on my football team," said Head Football Coach James Phelan to his Purdue football squad during the early days of practice, and since that time the belief has grown that, if nothing else, Purdue will have the hardest working and hardest fighting eleven in the history of the university.

Coach Phelan, making his debut as pilot of Purdue's football aspirations for the next few years, already has become popular with his squad and with followers of football here.

Purdue's two-hour practice period is crammed with work of every nature. Phelan draws up an outline every evening of the work that is to be done that night, keeps one copy himself and provide Ward Lamb and Von Bernuth, his coaching assistants, with a copy. Then the outline is worked out.

GREAT BEND LEASERS MAKING REAL MONEY

RUSSELL KNOWS NEVADA'S NEEDS LIKE A BOOK

Elko Man Made Many Friends in Tonopah and People Will Support Him Loyal

The newspaper fraternity of Nevada is happy in the thought that the republican party of Nevada has seen fit to honor members of the profession, and in George B. Russell, who is seeking the office of surveyor general, the voters have a representative that will be found equal to the occasion. As a native of Nevada George Russell knows the needs of the state. He was born on a ranch near Elko and after completing his high school education decided that he would become a printer. He earned the trade, and to his credit must be said that he is a thorough craftsman. Later he purchased a paper at Winnemucca which he successfully conducted for a number of years. Finally he got tangled up in politics and was sent to the legislature on two different occasions. In 1910 he supervised the government census and so competent were his efforts that he was congratulated by the president. For the last four years Mr. Russell has forsaken the newspaper field, much to the regret of the members of the profession and is now devoting his energies to lumber business, being in charge of a branch of the Elko Lumber company. A vote for George B. Russell spells business and Tonopah will credit him with a big majority on Nov. 7.

FAMILIES OF BRITISH SAILORS GET MONEY

LONDON, Sept. 28.—J. J. Havelock Wilson, member of parliament, general president of the National Sailors' and Firemen's union, has received official notification from the treasury that £5,000,000 of German reparations has been finally earmarked for distribution among the dependents of 17,000 British seamen who were done to death by the German sink-at-sight submarine campaign.

During the war merchant seamen on unarmed ships did not rank for pensions or compensation under any special conditions. Their work in maritime food ships was accompanied with real loss of life, and the prime minister, through Mr. Wilson, gave an undertaking that in the event of victory the first payment from German reparations money should be used for compensation to the dependents of this class of seamen.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—At the close of the afternoon meeting of the cabinet it was stated the situation is regarded as increasingly critical. The third meeting will be held tonight.

SITUATION NOW MOST CRITICAL SAY OFFICIALS

Political Developments in Greece Are Overshadowed by Action of Turks

REVOLUTIONISTS ARE ACTIVE

Former King Constantine Now Reported as Being Prisoner of Revolvers

LONDON, Sept. 28.—British government circles took a grave view of the situation in the Dardanelles, which is regarded as so critical as to overshadow the revolutionary developments in Greece. The opinion was expressed that there is greater prospect of fighting between the British and Turkish nationalists than at any previous time.

With a reasonably sized army of 3000 or 35000 men in Thrace or in the disposition of the British orders, now at Constantinople or Constantinople, it is not believed among military observers familiar with the situation that an entirely new phase of the whole near east situation is being approached.

ATHENS, Sept. 28.—It is reported that a section of the revolutionary army is induced with the idea of a public and the assassin of King George may be accompanied by many difficulties. An impressive proclamation demonstration occurred here last night. Revolutionaries have entered the city and occupied all strategic points and the industries.

Revolutionaries are proceeding with the formation of a new government. Troops arrived today from a long march, dead tired, some of them carrying machine guns on their shoulders.

CONSTANTINOPLE

Former King Constantine, who abdicated yesterday, is reported to have been imprisoned by the revolutionaries in Athens.

Turkish nationalists have notified the allied high commander they will not tolerate the certification of certain points in the so-called neutral zone along the Dardanelles. Commencement of work of fortification will be looked upon by the Kemalists as warranting military action of their representative, Hamid Bey, informed the allied commander, Brigadier General Harrington. Turkish troop movements continued yesterday and for the fifth time they violated the neutral zones.

PARIS, Sept. 28.—"I wish to be considered as dead," was the reply of Eleutherios Venizelos to the question as to the part he might play under the new government in Greece, says a Desvieux correspondent to the Petit Parisien.

France's near east policy as laid down in a note she sent to Kemal Pasha, with the other allies, has not been modified by the overturn in Greece, it was announced today after a cabinet meeting.
