LOS ANGELES JAIL BREAKERS ARE RECAPTURED

Former Tonopah Mine Operator Killed in Tuolumne County

OLD RESIDENT MEETS INSTANT DEATH IN MINE

Roger Knox, Early Day Resident, Killed by Fall in Black Oak Mine, Near Sonora

WAS REAL EMPIRE BUILDER Drops Two Hundred Feet While Assisting in Examination of his Own Property

Oldtime residents of Tonopah were shocked and grieved when the news flashed over the wires last night that Roger Knox, early day mining operator of this district, had met instant death yesterday afternoon when he fell from the 800 to the 1000 level of the Black Oak mine of the Mother Lode at Soulsbyville, Tuolumne county, Calif.

Mr. Knox, who is a brother of Charles E. Knox, was for a number of years interested in the Montana Tonopah Mining company, and was connected with its development when the mine worked among the big producers of this section of the state. He left here about 12 years ago and since that time had given his attention almost exclusively to the operation of the Black Oak mine, in which he and his brother are the principal owners, and which is one of the oldest properties in Tuolumne county. During his residence in Tonopah he was interested in various other properties and will be kindly remembered by all the older residents. He was extremely popular with all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, and his demise has cast a gloom over the homes of those who knew him so well for his sterling qualities of integrity and honesty of purpose.

Roger Knox and his brother, Charles E. Knox, were assisting in making an examination of the Black Oak mine for a party of New York investors, when in some accidental manner he lost his footing on the 800 level and fell the full length of the 200 feet to the 1000 level, and when rescuers reached his body life was found to be extinct, death having resulted instantly.

In addition to his brother, Charles E. Knox, deceased is survived by a widow and three children, the latter residing at Soulsbyville.

GERMANS GROW GRAPES ON AMERICAN STOCK

NEUSTADT, Bavaria, Oct. 18.—German grapes are now being grown here on vines with American roots. In waging war on the phylloxera, a tiny louse which feeds on the roots of grapevines, the state school for vineyard construction at Neustadt has hit upon a grafting plan which promises to save Germany's wine industry millions of marks.

It was found that the vine louse had no appetite for the American roots. Importation of entire American vines was not regarded feasible, wine experts declaring drinks made from the American fruit would find no market among Germans, but experiments proved the lice-proof roots could be successfully grafted on the German vines.

The old method of pruning vines to rid them of the lice-infected parts will now be supplanted, it is expected, by a general rebuilding of vineyards, using the newly developed German-American plants. Considerable work already has been done along this line.

TAX RATE APPROVED BY TAX COMMISSION

The Nevada tax commission approved the county tax figures as submitted by the various counties at a meeting Monday night, and in the list of counties it is shown that Nye county taxpayers pay the highest rate in the state with the exception of Ormsby county. Nye county tax is 2.31 mills, which would bring the state and county tax for Nye to 3.13. Added to this must be credited the town tax of .107, which brings the tax rate to residents of Tonopah to 4.20 per cent.

TURKS RECEIVE SETBACK ORER ALLIED MISSION

Kemalist Gendarmerie Forbidden Right to Enter City of Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 18.—The allied missions reached an unanimous decision forbidding the Kemalist gendarmerie destined for Thrace to enter Constantinople. The British navy has been ordered to stop all vessels bearing the Turkish national flag police. The order produced keen disappointment among the exuberant Turkish population, which had made preparations on a vast scale to welcome the Kemalists.

BULGARIA NOW DUMP GROUND OF REFUGEES

Flood of Exiles From Eastern Thrace Has Been Steady for Last Six Days

PHILIPPOPOLIS, Bulgaria, Oct. 18.—Within the last six days this city has become a great refugee center. The flood of exiles from eastern Thrace suddenly began last Friday, and since then the stream has been continuous. The arrivals are principally Armenians who fled at the first news of the impending return of the Turks. Many were robbed en route by Thracian bandits.

DEPORTATION CASE PROBE CONCLUDED

It is now up to federal authorities at Washington to decide whether Claus Martens, under arrest in Tonopah as a radical agitator, shall be deported. Secret operatives of the department of justice sent to Tonopah to investigate the case have submitted their report, which is understood to incorporate a recommendation by Frank T. Dunh, district attorney of Nye county, that Martens be deported as an undesirable alien.

The investigation disclosed that Martens, who was born in Germany, came to the United States in 1907, but made no effort to acquire American citizenship until 1919, when he declared his intention in San Francisco. Martens was commissioned as a delegate and organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World in June of this year. Records found in his possession show that he enrolled several men as members of the organization at Tonopah during the last few months.

NO DEFENSE IS EXPECTED FROM JOHN H. MILLER

Next Governor of Nevada Never Had Any Connection With State Bank & Trust Co.

WAS NOT EVEN A DEPOSITOR Attempt to Belittle Character of Republican Candidate Is Dismal Failure

The moonshine sheet lays great stress upon an editorial appearing in the Bonanza under date of March 16, 1921, and tries to make political capital out of the article at the expense of Hon. John H. Miller, your next governor. In answer to same the Bonanza can only say that John H. Miller did just exactly what the moonshine editor or you or I would have done under the circumstances in reference to the not very important case in the session of the legislature.

John H. Miller was not a stockholder, director or depositor of the State Bank & Trust company, was that institution went into the hands of a receiver Frank P. Wildes was desirous of being appointed to the position and he was successful. When it came time to qualify, naturally it became imperative that he secure suitable bondsmen. John H. Miller and Wildes had been lifelong friends and Mr. Miller was induced to qualify. Unlike many men, he had faith and confidence in his friend, Wildes, to make good, and when he learned that the affairs of the bank were being juggled along he was in a position where he could not withdraw, even had he so desired. But John H. Miller is not a man to go back on his word, even though it might cost him every dollar of his earthly possessions. He remained on the bond, is still on the bond, and if the courts should ultimately decree that Wildes had been derelict in his duties and has misappropriated any of the funds in his possession, the people, and especially the defrauded depositors, may rest assured that John H. Miller will pay every cent he is ordered to produce.

The faults of Langson and Wildes cannot be laid to John H. Miller. He has simply stood by his friend, Wildes, and if Wildes is decreed guilty of misappropriation of funds, then John H. Miller will do the next best thing and produce the amount that the courts may decide he should pay for being a Good Samaritan. The integrity of Mr. Miller personally cannot be impugned either by insinuation or innuendo. The people of Nevada know him too well to listen to the claptrap of a depraved editor's mind, and if the moonshine sheet thinks it can harm him one iota, the slur should be erased from the scribe's mind. Mr. Miller is the sole of integrity, and because his views do not coincide with another is no reason why he should be censured.

The Bonanza may have disagreed with Mr. Miller on many subjects in the past, but it agrees with him at this moment that he can save the state a vast sum of money yearly over the Boyle-Scragham administrations of the last eight years, and it is for this reason that it is supporting Mr. Miller to the very best of its ability in his efforts to be elected chief executive of this state. It knows him to be honest in his convictions and honest in his dealings with his fellow man. It knows that wild extravagance has prevailed under democratic misrule and it further knows that such a state of affairs will never exist when John H. Miller is elected governor on Nov. 7 and takes his oath of office on Tuesday, Jan. 2, 1923.

FORTY THOUSAND MARCH IN GREAT LEGION PARADE

By Unanimous Vote Decide to Continue Fight for the Soldier Bonus Bill

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 18.—Demand for a roll call that the "world may know where we stand on the bonus question" was followed by a viva voce vote affirming the report of the resolutions committee, which declared the legion will "continue to fight for legislation until it is enacted into law." The division called for by Commander MacNider resulted in the announcement the vote was unanimous. One delegate who voted "No" by mistake cried out his apology when hundreds of delegates yelled out "Who is he?" The legion marched in parade this afternoon and over 40,000 men "fell in."

Through miles of narrow streets the veterans of 1918 marched today. Fluttering in the autumn air and borne by men who carried them to victory four years ago were the national colors, flanked by the silken banners of the legion posts from every state, from Alaska, Hawaii, canal zone, Porto Rico, Philippines, Great Britain, Africa and China.

Col. C. R. Forbes, director of the United States veterans' bureau, who came here as an invited guest of the American legion and Commander MacNider, has left New Orleans with his entire staff and canceled arrangements to address the convention tomorrow. The repeated open charge that Forbes had come here at the instance of President Harding to "play politics" is understood to have been the reason for Forbes' departure.

GREAT JEWEL THEFT OCCURS IN CHICAGO

WAS LEFT LOCKED IN AUTO Thieves Told Victim They Had Followed Him From St. Louis to Make Haul

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Max Moser, New York salesman, who told the police last night he had been robbed of $300,000 in unset diamonds, was questioned again today at the detective bureau, where he was held until this morning while the police investigated his story.

Moser said he was leaving the Congress hotel, on Michigan boulevard, last night he had been robbed of $300,000 in unset diamonds, was questioned again today at the detective bureau, where he was held until this morning while the police investigated his story. Moser said he was leaving the Congress hotel, on Michigan boulevard, with Charles J. Morris, representative of a New York life insurance company, when three bandits jumped on the running board of Morris' automobile and made Morris give up the wheel, which was taken by one of the robbers, whose own car was waiting across the street, driven by a fourth bandit, who followed. Outside the downtown district the bandits stopped, Moser said, and took the pouch containing the diamonds, declaring they had followed him from St. Louis to obtain the stones. The robbers then locked Morris in the car and escaped, according to Moser.

WEST PREPARES ALL-STAR BOYS FOR GRIDIRON

Greatest Football Games in All History Will Be Played at Pasadena This Fall

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—Selection will be made probably within two or three weeks of the Pacific coast conference football team that is to represent the west in an inter-sectional game to be played at Pasadena, Calif., New Year day under conference auspices.

University of California has represented the west in the last two east-west games at Pasadena, and it is probable that the Bear team again will be in the New Year day game, although there is a chance that some other conference team will nose out the Berkeley eleven for the honors. The western team will be named by the conference as soon as the football season is advanced far enough to permit officials to pick a representative eleven. To date California appears to have the same drive that carried it to the championships of 1920 and 1921 and already Bear rosters are picking their team for its third pennant year.

Penn State, it is said, probably will represent the east, although no definite announcement has been made. Penn State is coached by Hugo Bezdek, former University of Oregon star. Last year Bezdek brought his team west and defeated the University of Washington at Seattle.

Two years ago Ohio State, champion of the Big Ten conference, came west and was defeated at Pasadena by California. Last year Washington and Jefferson represented the east and held California to a scoreless tie on a muddy field.

Another east-west game already arranged for Dec. 30 will be between Stanford and Pittsburg in the Stanford stadium. Glenn Warner, noted football mentor, is coach at Pitt; and is advisory coach at Stanford.

It was forwarded to the secretary to be read late today at a meeting of republicans at the Washington court house, Ohio.

MIGHTY HUNTERS HAVE SUCCESS QUEST DEER

After five days of strenuousness that do not fall to the lot of the average person, a party of hunters consisting of E. W. Blair, cashier of the Tonopah Banking corporation, J. E. Thompson, well-known attorney; W. E. Devan, Reno banker, and W. M. Waddell, New York broker, arrived home last night. The trip took them beyond Fish Lake valley into the mountainous wilds and although only one buck was secured, each and every member participating in the hunt thoroughly enjoyed himself. The crack shot was J. E. Thompson and his prize weighed exactly 116 pounds.

"It was great sport," remarked Mr. Waddell, who has fallen in love with the west, "and it's me for the wild and woolly henceforth. No one in the east really knows what real scenery is unless they have been to that section where we staged the hunt."

Mr. Waddell, who is here in the interests of the New Gibraltar Mining company, did not relate of his horseback experience, but his friends told of how he became tired and sore after the long ride. He was moving slowly along on the "gentle animal" with the reins loose when he accidentally kicked the horse in the flank. The result was that it took the balance of the day for the other members of the party to overtake and overhaul him. He stuck to the saddle, however, and now feels he is in condition to compete with any buckaroo on the desert.

The party has the distinction of being one of the successful hunting expeditions of the present year, only three bucks having been reported killed during the present season which has now drawn to a close.

EX-EVANGELIST AND PALS ONCE AGAIN IN JAIL

Made No Fight to Prevent Being Captured When Surrounded by Sheriff's Posse

WILSON'S PLANS WERE KNOWN

Trio Found Hiding in Home of Ex-Convict Close to Where Stolen Auto Was Left

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—The jail breakers, Herbert Wilson, former evangelist, mail robber and convicted murderer, Adam Blazek, convicted murderer, and Guido Spignola, convicted robber, were recaptured after 24 hours of liberty. They were taken without a struggle in the home of an ex-convict, no far from where an automobile they stole was abandoned. Information of their presence here was obtained early today by a deputy sheriff and Sheriff Treager, and the posse surrounded the residence and effected their capture with no same suddenness the trio had surprised the jailers in their break yesterday morning. The capture resulted from the use of plans Wilson had formulated for concealment after the attempted break last April and which was frustrated by the sheriff's tactics and in which Herbert Cox, Wilson's partner, was killed. The trio was captured in the place where they planned to hide last April. The same mysterious gang found of the former evangelist as exhibited since he became known to the authorities was present in Wilson's apartment to his captors. There was no confusion and Wilson and his fellow captives peacefully surrendered when they saw the large number in the room around the house.

Wilson's first question was concerning the condition of the slacker, Henry Furrer, whom he rendered unconscious in the break yesterday morning. He smiled and expressed satisfaction when informed that Furrer was not seriously hurt. The three were taken quietly to the sheriff's office, where the preliminary questioning brought forth little information. Sheriff Treager announced a thorough investigation into the sensational escape will be conducted.
