BETWEEN the returns from Maine and the returns from Arkansas the g. o. p. leaders see the necessity of dropping the "dollar fund" plan and falling back on the well-tried and long established campaign of "fat frying."

MR. LITTLEFIELD still claims that Mr. Gompers' opposition aided him. But it is quite likely that none of the other republican congressional candidates will seek to have Mr. Gompers enter their districts in opposition.

IN Maine before: "The issue is Roosevelt." In Maine after: "The issue was wholly local."

Mr. Taft said that Roosevelt was the issue in Maine. But that was before the Maine election.

THE nearer republicans get to democratic principals the more they can boast of doing something for the people.
