REPUBLICAN CURIOSITY AROUSED.

CARSON, March 16. h. EDITOR APPEAL: I notice in the Tribune of this evening an advertisement of the Republican State Central Committee. I would like to ask by what authority the Committee insert their campaign advertisement in a Daily Varden newspaper. Yours, A REPUBLICAN.

[The advertisement alluded to was first inserted by the Committee in the Enterprise of yesterday morning with the following at the bottom, "Republican papers throughout the State please copy." Should papers of any other stripe desire to insert the advertisement they will probably be allowed to do so at their own expense, as they did two years ago. Ed. Appeal.]

CALL FROM CAPT. SAM.—Capt. Sam, our genial friend of Plute habits and associations, called at the APPEAL office yesterday for the purpose of saying goodbye before leaving for Austin. The Chief chatted on the political situation and wanted to know about the Senatorial campaign. He was posted as to the aspirants for that office, and expressed the unqualified hope that R. M. Daggett would not get the place, stating that all the old pants that Daggett had given him were too big, and if he was the right kind of man he would have had them taken in a few reefs. He liked Billy Woodburn because he found no trouble in assimilating himself to the Woodburn shirt. His first last and every time choice was the reporter of the APPEAL for any position within the gift of the people. After indulging in this flattering endorsement of the same, he struck us for four bits and announced that he was going to Austin to look after his relations who have been indulging in some terrible spees of late. He was accommodated with a bogus half dollar and went on his way happy and contented.

A COMPLICATED CASE.—Yesterday morning Sheriff Fitch brought in a prisoner from Elko county named Lopez, who has two sentences hanging over him. He was sentenced to two years in the State's Prison for horse stealing and also to be hung on April 16th for murder. The officials are in a quandary which sentence to carry out first, and have brought the man to Carson to have the snarl disentangled by the Supreme Court of the State. The APPEAL has always been disposed to assist people in a quandary and would suggest that by ordering the man hung next month will carry out one sentence, after which he can be buried for two years in the State prison yard. If, after his term has expired, he objects to further sojourn with Batterman he can be allowed to take his traps and leave if he wants to. The fact should also be taken into consideration that his expense to the State during his incarceration will be slight. Beyond seeing that his grave is kept up to the standard green there will be little if anything to do for him.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—The Royal Illusionists had a slim house last night but gave their entire performance as advertised. Thoru the conjuror, is a remarkably clever magician, but being a foreigner cannot keep up the running flow of small talk so necessary with an American audience. He is withal a pleasant fellow, but his German accent is a drawback and he talks too much. His tricks are not excelled by any conjuror that has ever visited this Coast, but in the profession of magic a glib tongue and quick wit is as much of an auxiliary as a quick and practiced hand.

UNCLE SAM'S SCRIPS.—The United States Government has filed the papers with the Clerk of the U. S. Circuit Court of a suit against the El Dorado Lumber and Fume Company for the sum of $87,000 for the value of timber alleged to have been taken from Government land by Yerington Bliss et al., owners in the El Dorado Company. There has been another suit entered against Yerington, Haigne and Bliss for $12,000 to recover for timber taken from Government land.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—In the U. S. Court yesterday the case of Jones & Kinkead vs Pacific Lumber & Fume Co. was on trial. The plaintiffs claim $6,500 for certain bills of exchange given by some woodchoppers which the company declined to accept. The case was tried in Reno last year and won by the plaintiffs. It was then appealed to the Supreme Court, the decision reversed and the case transferred to the U. S. Circuit Court. The jury will be instructed to-day.

THE PARKINSON CASE.—The case of R. R. Parkinson, convicted in a lower Court of illegal voting and false registration, and before the present Court on a writ of error, was called in the U. S. Circuit Court yesterday. Gen. Clarke, the defendant's counsel, was suddenly taken quite sick and obliged to be taken home. He is said to be threatened with paralysis. The case was continued until today and will be further continued if counsel is unable to attend to it.

FARMING IN MASON VALLEY.—Already the horny fisted agriculturist of Mason Valley has begun to worry the soil of that section with a view to future productions and emoluments. The Mason Valley farmer is a wakeful, stirring man, who grapples the ground with an under hold even before the frost leaves it. With such perseverance at the plow backed by good sagebrush brawn the safety of the country becomes more and more assured.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BROOKS.—Mrs. Brooks was buried yesterday from the Episcopal church. The regular choir joined the services and the funeral was largely attended.

OUR LATE SPRING.—On every side one hears the growls of those who cower and shiver before the bitter winds of the present backward Spring. A year ago the trees were putting forth their tender buds, and the hills were showing a tint of green. We had a long summer and it wound up in a glorious autumn. It was high time for the winter to begin when the warm breezes still dallied with the golden leaves of the forests, and the skies glowed with the tints of the rose. The wild flowers lingered in the valleys and the haze of the Indian summer hung along the horizon and veiled the landscape in a warm and yellow mist, at a time when our Eastern neighbors were crowding about their fires. None of us thanked Providence for these lavish favors; we thought we had a right to all the splendid weather we could enjoy and went right ahead with the gaieties of life, never for a moment questioning but that the delights of autumn had always been thus prolonged. Now comes the retribution in the form of accumulating snows, the ceaseless sweep of bitter winds which chill the bone and marrow, lowering skies full of tempestuous menace, bills from coal dealer and the wood man falling in thick and fast, rheumatism and colds, pneumonia booms and the devil to pay generally. We have no right to growl at these things; one who is not thankful for good weather must not curse the foul. It is but the regular law of recompense which is universal. He who presses the lips and waist of the maid until the small hours of the morning must delay his rising until almost noon to get even, as ye who have been there know. We cannot drink champagne or beer, and stuff our stomachs with switzerland until 3 o'clock in the morning without losing a portion of the day. Every pleasure in life (except running a newspaper) has its counterpart in depression and pains mental and physical. The boy who eats too much molasses candy pays for it in a revolution which turns the paradise of the eating into a state wherein the devils of a rebellious stomach make his life a hell for the time being. We stray from the beaten path of the subject in an aimless, vagabondish sort of way which Farmer Treadway would pronounce "shiftless," but the fact remains that when we bask in the sunshine of a delayed autumn, we must expect to wince beneath the scourge of a backward spring.

SERIOUSLY ILL.—A letter received yesterday from San Francisco, by Mrs. W. S. Byrne, brought the sad news that her brother, Edgar H. Drake, a young man who spent a couple of months in Carson last summer and made many warm friends during his stay, is lying at the point of death. Mr. Drake has long been a sufferer from consumption, and his death has been expected for some months past.

THE REFORM CLUB.—Last evening there was a rousing meeting of the Reform Club and Dr. McKenzie delivered a stirring address. It was a farewell gathering and the most spirited of the course. Dr. McKenzie leaves the Club much stronger than when he found it, and will now spend a few weeks wrestling with the gin fiend on the Comstock.

Miss Maria Solter will lecture at Theater Hall on Sunday evening, March 21, on Swedenborg, the Swedish clairvoyant, another Columbus, who discovered an unknown world and described the "Debatable Land," who has also given an account of the manner and customs of the people of the moon and the planets. The lecture begins at 8 o'clock sharp.

The city has presented a rather lively appearance for some days past owing to the influx of jurors, witnesses and lawyers, brought together by the meeting of the U. S. Circuit and District Courts. The hotels are all full, the active and skilled barkeeper corrals the nimble two-bit piece and the mercenary boot black charges a quarter for his shiners.

William Williams, the man who was arrested day before yesterday for stealing a coat from one of Winston's barkeepers, was convicted in Justice Cary's Court yesterday. He will be sentenced to-day. Williams is but two months out of the State Prison.

DIED.—In this city, March 16, 1880, W. H. Bailey, a native of Maryland, aged 64 years. Funeral services will take place at the residence of deceased on King street, east of the Capitol, to-morrow, Thursday, March 18 at 3 o'clock p. m.

Denis Ackley was arrested yesterday by officer Powers for vagrancy. He has been considered a suspicious character for some time, and parents have complained of him for attempting to induce young girls to walk with him in secluded places.

Mrs. Lane, the wife of the belligerent shoemaker who worked sometime in the chingang, has succeeded in obtaining a divorce from her husband and now enjoys the delights of single blessedness and the care of six children.

The snow is now twenty feet deep at Lake Bigler, and Emerald Bay is reported frozen over. This has never before happened since the country was settled by the whites.

William Mooney, the leading Livery man of the Comstock, is in Carson. His face still glows with good humor and the hue of the Nevada sunset.

Some people are mean enough to assert that Thorne & Darwin's performance is a ghost of a show.

Capt. Overton, of the Virginia Water Co. is in the city.

WE CAN'T TALK

Without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them let us use that standard dentifrice, SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless. No tartar can enrust them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if SOZODONT is regularly used. It is a botanical preparation, and its beneficial effects on the teeth and gums are marvelous, as it removes all discolorations, and renders the gums hard and rosy.

NOTICE.

All parties holding bills against Frank Boskowitz will present them for payment on or before the First day of April, and all parties indebted will call and pay at the same time without further notice.

MUSICAL.—Miss Lizzie Davis, of Virginia City, teacher of the violin, comes to Carson every Monday and remains until Wednesday. A. Marston, photographer, or at the Arlington House. Lessons in dancing given by Brown & Davis at Arlington Hall every Tuesday from 11 A.M. till 9 P. M. Social every night after dancing school.

A DRY GOODS DREAM.—A woman who goes into M. Cohn's emporium drifts off into a dream of rare and beautiful feminine finery. She sees the best product of foreign looms piled up on the counters, lace, draperies, illusions and elegant toilette materials, such as only the rarest skill can produce and which women of taste admire. The secret of the success of this house lies in the fact that M. Cohn knows how to select the best and is never imposed upon by the eastern houses who work off their inferior goods on inexperienced persons.

ATTENTION!—The greatest wonder yet discovered in medicine is Mrs. Dr. Howe's celebrated rheumatism, neuralgia and toothache cures. Would you rather suffer the pain of having a tooth drawn than buy a bottle of Mrs. Dr. Howe's toothache medicine? Mother should not be without it for their infants. A few drops in a little sweetened water to swab a teething baby's mouth will instantly relieve the little sufferer. The medicine does not cauterize, and is very pleasant. Sold by all druggists.
