

MORNING APPEAL.

THURSDAY, MARCH 18, 1880

TIME-TABLE OF THE VIRGINIA AND TRUCKEE RAILROAD.

Table with columns for Leave Reno, Leave Carson, and Arrive at Virginia. Includes sub-tables for UP TRAINS, DOWN TRAINS, and PARE FROM.

STOCKS.

In the early Board yesterday things were all a few notches above the quotations of the day before. Northern Belle was firm at 18, and Eureka Con. at 17 1/2.

The defeat of the Gorley bill, the squelching of Kearney, and the evident disposition of the Legislature to deal fairly with the stock business, have created a much better feeling among the public, and a speedy improvement in business is confidently expected.

BRIEF MENTION.

The police arrested another vagrant yesterday afternoon.

District Attorney Harris, of Storey, was in the city yesterday.

The Bric-a-brac Club of this city now numbers two members, and is still increasing.

The prospects of spring have brought sixteen base ball clubs out of their hibernating quarters.

The Au Fait party comes off to-night at the Opera House. Tickets can be secured of Treasurer Cavanaugh.

Carson Lodge No. 4 K. of P. meets this evening, at 7:30. All members of the order are requested to attend.

David Crosby, of the firm of Breed & Crosby, Virginia City wood dealers, has been stricken with paralysis.

Yesterday was quite warm and pleasant and the trees put forth their green shoots in honor of St. Patrick and O'Neil Ireland.

Williams, the man who stole a coat from one of Winston's barkeepers, was sent to jail for fifty days yesterday by Justice Cary.

Matt Canavan, one of the solid commissioners of Storey county and Superintendent of the New York mine, was in Carson yesterday.

The careful housewife goes to Cheney's for choice groceries. In this much the levelness of the housewife's head is hugely commendable.

The following passengers arrived on the southern stage yesterday afternoon: Mrs. Levy, Mrs. C. Williams, M. Walker, Mrs. Jones, J. Hill.

The query as to who struck Billy Patterson now takes a back seat and the interrogation as to who struck Tom Clark assumes its proper importance.

R. L. Fulton, editor of the Reno Gazette, was in Carson yesterday, and while here carried a good many subscribers for his very readable newspaper.

In the case of Jones and Kinkead vs. the Pacific Lumber and Flume Co., tried in the Circuit Court, the jury were instructed to find for the defendant.

A California Judge has decided that pigeon shooting is not a cruel amusement. There is certainly very little cruelty about it in Carson where the birds are so seldom hit.

Last night was warm and pleasant with symptoms of good weather. Yet the APPEAL knows of no reason on earth why the snow should not be at least a foot in depth to-day.

Dan De Quille, of the Enterprise has interviewed a Chinaman on the "Gem Puzzle," and ascertained that it was a children's pastime with the Chinese about 4900 years ago. This intelligence will prove a serious set back to the puzzle.

Thorn & Darwin did not make much money during their stay in Carson. In the present dull times one night of a show is quite sufficient. The local shows, at the cheap prices of admission, rather spoil the dough for the traveling exhibitor.

There was a time when a wily husband would blind the eyes of his wife by making disparaging remarks about the personal appearance of the new servant girl, but now the shrewd American housewife penetrates the thin gauze of such delusions and secures hired help with a cross eye, a game leg and scald scars all over her face. Those who passed through the Chicago fire preferred.

A CARSON EDISON.—A Carson man has just succeeded in obtaining patents on the following articles:

Pew mirror. This is a revolving adjustable mirror which can be fastened on to the side of the post of a church pew and set as to enable the pew holder—whether he has paid his pew rent or not—to see anybody coming into church without turning the head. Every woman should have one.

Letter writer's companion. This is a pen which contains ink in the handle, and a writer by pressing a rubber bulb can squirt three tablespoon fulls of ink into a man's face who looks over his shoulder. The ink contains chemicals which mark a man for life.

Head cooler. This affair is an apparatus which fits nicely on the head and contains a space for twelve pounds of ice at the top. It is worn on the head while writhing with the Gem Puzzle. County rights for the above valuable inventions will be sold at this office to live responsible agents.

A CHINESE LAWYER.—In the trial of Reinstein vs. Price in the District Court yesterday during the examination of some Chinamen it was found necessary to have an interpreter. After considerable wrestling between the attorney and the interpreter Tom Stevens entered the breach and showed himself fully able to contend with the matter at issue. He showed that he was more of a Chinaman than the interpreter or witnesses and after an exhaustive talk in Chinese between Tom and the Chinaman the testimony was stricken out.

BOSKO.—Attention is called to the advertisement of Frank Boskowitz in another column. He calls upon his creditors to come up and get their money and those owing him to skip to the front at once with the coin of the realm. Bosko is a man of business pure and simple. He pays what he owes and collects what is due him with equal promptitude.

ART.—A mania for painting has become rampant in Carson during the past few weeks. There are several teachers of the art in the city who give lessons to parties who are desirous of learning to paint in oil. There are now probably over fifty people in Carson, mostly ladies, who while away their leisure time daubing brown clouds on blue back grounds and filling the fore grounds of any color, with red, green and yellow trees. Almost any school girl in Carson can tell all about the relative values of Vandyke brown, yellow ochre, deep chrome, permanent blue, Chinese vermilion, and Indian red, and the dealers in brushes, paints and palettes are driving a thriving business in consequence.

Perhaps most of the amateur artists and those who contemplate plunging recklessly into the art will be glad to know that ordinary paints now retail for 12 1/2 cents a tube, somewhat of a decline from former prices, and camel hair and bristle brushes have fallen in like proportion. One of the greatest incentives to a study of painting is cheap material, for no one cares to waste square yards of canvass and collapsible tubes by the dozens to do work which only disgraces the rooms they are hung in. The study, however, is a pleasant one and there is no reason why out of the many people in Carson who are now trying hard to learn to paint, some one may not become famous and several more than passably good artists. Even if all endeavors are unsuccessful and dozens who are trying to learn, fail utterly, the effort is not thrown away, for the time is occupied, and spoiling paint and canvass is immeasurably superior to reading Ouidas novels or gossiping about one's neighbors. O'neome future day the APPEAL will run a column a la San Francisco Chronicle on "decorative art," in which the best work of Carson artists will be faithfully set forth.

A POLITICAL FABLE.—An American Eagle, sitting on a branch of a sturdy Republican Oak, happened to drop a twig across the back of a Dolly Varden Pelecat occupied below in the task of obliterating his stripes that he might pass for an honest house cat. Feeling himself hit the startled animal turned a series of clumsy somersaults, filled the air with foul odors, vacillated improper names to the Bird of Freedom, and called upon the shades of Chase, Seward, Lincoln and Garrison to attest to the correctness of his political stripe. Failing to obtain any response he began to barrow in the ground, vainly endeavoring to ascertain the whereabouts of some lost dates and documents, vowing never again to notice the Eagle.

PLUMMER GETS IN A GOOD ONE.—Those who know Professor Plummer, the elocutionist and character delineator, and know how much he dislikes "shop talk" in private company, will appreciate this, from the San Francisco Call: Plummer was quietly conversing with several gentlemen, when a disciple of Danderey tapped him on the shoulder, and in a patronizing tone said, "I beg pardon, but aren't you the gentleman who makes faces?" Plummer took a deliberate survey of his dandyship, and quietly said, "Pardon me, but isn't it the man that makes brains you're looking for?"

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS REWARD.—Gen. Clark in the Enterprise of yesterday offers a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the three men who attacked his brother, Tom Clark, some months ago in Virginia City. He will give $1000 for the batch, or $333 for any single one of the gang. It is rumored about the city that Pete Fitzgerald openly announces that he is the man who committed the assault and defies anybody to prove it. It is not at all probable that the reward will ever have the effect of throwing any more light on the subject.

WILD CAT SHOT.—Night before last Thor Wilson, a mechanic living in the north eastern part of the town, heard a noise in his hen coop and going out, shot a wild cat four feet and eight inches long from tip to tip. He nailed the predatory cat just as it was clearing the hen house door, handicapping it with a load of buckshot. It had a fat chicken in its mouth and would have been in the hills with its booty had Wilson been a second later. It is quite rare for wild cats to forage about hen roosts.

THE PARKINSON CASE.—The case of R. R. Parkinson (the man who was convicted some months ago in the U. S. Court of illegal voting and false registration) was argued before Judge Sawyer last evening on a writ of error. Gen. Clarke, who had recovered from his attack of sickness made his opening argument for the defense. The lateness of the hour prevented any decision in the case last night and the argument will be continued this afternoon.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—St. Patrick's day passed off in Carson without any special observance. The Irish citizens taking into consideration the deplorable condition of affairs in the old country did not deem it expedient to indulge in any public festivities, as the starving people across the water are more in need of the money. The memory of the revered Saint, however, was kept alive in the hearts of his followers.

ITALIAN ARTISTS.—A pair of Italian children, one of whom twangs the harp while the other wrestles with a fiddle, are in Carson furnishing street music. It is really quite enjoyable, and the beauty of the performance is that it is optional with the audience as to how much they pay for the entertainment.

REINSTEIN VS. PRICE.—The suit of Samuel Reinstein vs. William Price for $4,650 is at present on trial in the District Court. The suit is brought to recover a balance due on wood to a party who sold his claim to Reinstein. The case will probably be concluded to-day.

DEPARTURES.—The following persons were passengers on the southern-bound stage yesterday: Mrs. Wilson, Chas. Heal, L. Coblitz, E. M. Piteber, August Cates, Geo. Call, A. Koneke, R. D. Edwright, M. Fargo and wife, C. Blackburn, K. Ausburn.

BURGLAR ARRESTED.—Officer Hawthorne received a dispatch last night from Reno giving a description of a negro named Smith who was wanted for burglary. He found the man about 8 o'clock in a saloon on South Carson street and lodged him in jail.

WE CAN'T TALK

Without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them let us use that standard dentifrice, SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless. No tartar can encrust them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if SOZODONT is regularly used. It is a botanical preparation, and its beneficial effects on the teeth and gums are marvelous, as it removes all discolorations, and renders the gums hard and rosy.

A. Marston, photographer, or at the Arlington House. Lessons in dancing given by Brown & Davis at Arlington Hall every Tuesday from 11 A. M. till 9 P. M. Social every night after dancing school.

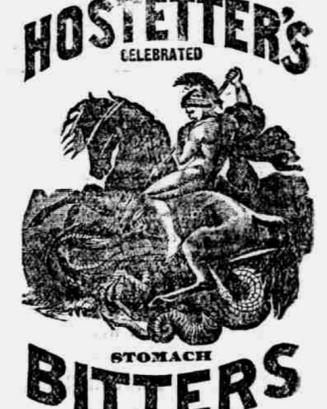

A DRY GOODS DREAM.—A woman who goes into M. Cohn's emporium drifts off into a dream of rare and beautiful feminine finery. She sees the best product of foreign looms piled up on the counters, laces, draperies, illusions and elegant toilette materials, such as only the rarest skill can produce and which women of taste admire. The secret of the success of this house lies in the fact that M. Cohn knows how to select the best and is never imposed upon by the eastern houses who work off their inferior goods on inexperienced persons.
