STOCKS.

There was a slight change for the better yesterday, but things were not sufficiently strong to indicate that the spring rise was coming upon us like a thief in the night.

THE WELLS-FARGO POSTAL SERVICE

A BRIEF SKETCH OF ITS WORKINGS AND ADVANTAGES—HOW IT SYSTEMATICALLY BEATS THE U. S. MAIL—SOME GOVERNMENT CHARGES REFUTED

Yesterday afternoon an APPEAL reporter interviewed H. L. Tickner, the Carson agent of the Wells-Fargo Express Company, relative to the proposed abolition of its postal service by the United States Government.

THE CHARGES OF THE GOVERNMENT. Reporter—What are the reasons advanced by the Government for abolishing the service?

Tickner—It claims a good many things. First, that it diminishes postal revenues. Now this proposition is simply absurd. We pay three cents for every stamped envelope. The company on this coast has paid for some years past about $60,000 per annum for their envelopes, and the Government derives an income from every letter we carry.

Reporter—Do you send your correspondence free?

Tickner—Yes. This is allowed in our contract. There was a time when the system was loosely managed and taken advantage of by the employes of the company. For instance, a man employed here would have some particular friend employed by the company in Virginia City or San Francisco and would use an official company envelope for private correspondence. This practice, which at one time was quite extensively carried on, became known at headquarters and was strictly prohibited. As far as our own business correspondence is concerned, the same privilege is allowed all the Eastern Express Companies and has always been in vogue. If there is a reform to be inaugurated in this respect let it extend to all the companies in the United States and not to us exclusively.

Reporter—Are you not also charged with being a formidable competitor to the Government in the matter of postal patronage?

SOMETHING OF THE WELLS-FARGO METHOD.

Tickner—Yes, and this is the only charge that can be substantiated. Our postal service is the most complete thing imaginable, and we beat the U. S. Government from two to four hours in San Francisco distributing letters. For instance, a Wells-Fargo letter here is directed to a man in San Francisco. The train is boarded by two of Wells-Fargo agents at Niles Station, and by the time the Oakland boat is reached all of the Wells-Fargo letters are sorted out and placed in separate packages for the different districts in the city where they are to be delivered. The man who has charge of the letters is the first to jump on the wharf when the boat lands, and throwing the bags into a light wagon, which is waiting, he is taken as fast as the horses can go to the express office on Sanson and Hallock streets. He then throws these packages into boxes representing the different districts, and in less than a minute the packages are in the hands of men who start out on horseback, if the districts are remote, and on foot for those more centrally located; and in some instances the Wells-Fargo letters reach their owners before the U. S. mail bags have left the ferry docks.

THE INTERIOR SERVICE.

Rep—How many interior postal stations has the company?

Tickner—I cannot say without consulting the reports. Letters are delivered at places not regular stations. Almost any where that can be reached by a man on horseback or snow shoes; you can send a letter by Wells-Fargo to almost any place on the coast where the man to receive the letter can be found. Some men travel sixty miles on snow shoes in the dead of winter with but half a dozen letters to deliver, going to places where the U. S. mails never reach. I have known Uncle Sam's mail to pile up along side a river for sixteen days when a bridge was down, while the Wells-Fargo mail was taken over in a boat every day and the service suffered no interruption.

THE USE TO BUSINESS MEN.

The business men all over the coast use the Wells-Fargo service almost exclusively, because they find it quicker, surer and more reliable in all respects than the U. S. mail. If it were not, they would hardly pay almost double price for its privileges. The Chinese deal almost exclusively with us, and in some large offices Chinese interpreters are employed to deal with them.

Rep.—It is said that you carry over-weighted letters at less than the postal rates.

Tickner—Such is not the fact. We frequently send over-weight letters for leading business firms, but keep a strict account and notify them to pay the difference, which is done in all cases. There is no reason why the Government should attempt to interfere with us. Instead of diminishing the Government revenue we actually increase it. Thousands of letters are carried by us annually to remote points in the solitudes of the mountains and to hamlets and stations where the U. S. mail never reaches, and would not for years to come. Were it not for Wells-Fargo these letters would never be written, and the Government would derive no revenue whatever. I think the falling off of the Government revenue from its postal service is due mainly from the fact that people who use the mails use a good many postal cards where they formerly used letters.

AMUSEMENTS.

REFORM CLUB.—The entertainment given by the Reform Club last evening drew a crowded house as usual. A choice selection of songs, recitations, etc., were given, winding up with Mr. Byrne's burlesque of A Shalshperian Muddle. The cast and performance have already been noticed in the APPEAL, and last evening the only exception was that Mrs. Chesley took the role of the Queen, in place of Mrs. Byrne. She costumed the part well, and her appearance on the stage was pronounced "absolutely beautiful" by all connoisseurs of facial perfection. She played the part excellently, and her clear voice and careful reading of the lines—the slight break in the first scene being duly noted—enabled her to appear at the best advantage.

MISS SOLTER'S LECTURE.—To-night Miss Solter will lecture at the Old Theater on "Swedenborg, the Scandinavian Seer." Miss Solter's ability as a lecturer is well known in Carson, and those who attend will experience a real treat in hearing so cultured and entertaining a woman discourse upon so interesting a subject.

CAPT. JACK.—Capt. Jack, the Poet Scout, he of the broad brimmed hat and flowing locks, will open here to-morrow night in Life on the Border, a play abounding in wild scenes and incidents, gun-powder and excitement to a most startling degree. On Tuesday night there will be an entire change of programme, the piece being California Through Death Valley.

SO LIVELY AT THE START.—Some weeks ago a religious revival was begun in the county jail, and for a while the scheme seemed to carry with it all the elements of a crowning success. The movement was inaugurated by Jones, the forger, and the little heaven seemed about to influence the whole lump of iniquity. The vags, thieves and lawbreakers announced with one accord that they were seized with the true spirit of righteousness and proposed, if they ever got out, to lead a life of the strictest circumspection and in perfect conformity with the laws of the land, civil and religious. A few days ago Dave Blixer, more familiarly known as "Old Blix," was allowed to leave the retreat, his term of sixty days for vagrancy having expired. Last night his old comrades in confinement received the following characteristic epistle:

RENO, March 19.

DEAR PALS: When I was in jail with you fellows I was struck pretty heavy with the revival fever, and I rather guess experienced a change of heart. Now I've got out, temptations crowd on me pretty thick and I've gone back to the dark ways of sin once more. The first exposed hen roost I struck proved too much for me and I wilted, with two fat chickens and a tough rooster; subsequently repenting I let the rooster go. Have also cracked a safe here with good results.

After reading the above an air of heavy melancholy settled over the little flock, and Jones, who was so dejected that he was unable to pitch the tune for the evening hymn, remarked, "boys I allers told ye that Old Blix's religion was too lively at the start to be lastin'."

DOBSON'S DILEMMA.—Yesterday morning Dobson informed his wife that it would be necessary for her to sew a button on his pants and institute some needed repairs. She consented without a murmur and he laid combed in bed which the operation was in progress. When Mrs. Dobson does anything of that sort she empties the pockets from force of habit. Accordingly she removed from Dobson's pocket four dollars and fifty cents in small change and a bunch of keys, and forgot to return them to the cavernous depths. Dob went down town and seeing some friends from the Comstock called them into a saloon to partake of the invigorating cocktail. There were six men in all and when he attempted to settle with the barkeeper he was horrified to discover that his pockets were empty. He immediately filed a request to "check it," but the man being a stranger to him declined on various grounds, and ordered the whole crowd out of the place with invective and profanity. Dobson next went to get his mail but was unable to open his box as he had no key. When he reached his office the same difficulty presented itself, and on going home he found his wife out making calls, while the house was locked. In a fit of accumulated rage he rushed down to take the barkeeper to task for humiliating him in the presence of strangers, and the result of the interview was a blackened optic and some torn clothes on the Dobson side of the row. His wife is once more mending his raiment.

SEMI-ANNUAL INSPECTION.—To-morrow night there will be a public inspection of the Carson Guards at their armory, the occasion being the semi-annual muster and inspection of the company. Major Scoville, inspecting officer on the Governor's staff, will act on the occasion. Every man is expected to be on hand with his uniform in band-box condition, and his accoutrements gleaming like a mirror in the sun.

TRAP AND WING.—Hub Parker went below last night to take part in the pigeon shooting match at Millbrae, in which some of the leading crack shots of the coast, including Crit. Robinson and Joe King take part. Hub believes he can out shoot any man on earth with that new gun he won recently at the Recreation Grounds in San Francisco. If he should be beaten his demise by suicide need surprise no one.

An enterprising man has located the ground back of the Carson Guards' target range, and proposes to work it as a lead mine. It is a square location and he has struck a regular carbonate blanket ledge such as they have in Leadville. When the target practice begins he shuts down the works.

George C. Thaxter has on exhibition a new seed box made of birds eye maple. It holds enough flower seeds to make Carson a literal Garden of Eden. The box is of the finest workmanship, double decked, pigeon holed and labled after the most approved style.

Last night a flock of geese passed over Carson, heading for the Como mining district. They were doubtless guided in that direction by the new map of the locality published by Rose.

Ernest Hawley, who has been sick for several days, is convalescing.

WE CAN'T TALK

Without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them let us use that standard dentifrice, SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and spotless. No tartar can encrust them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if SOZODONT is regularly used. It is a botanical preparation, and its beneficial effects on the teeth and gums are marvelous, as it removes all discolored, and renders the gums hard and rosy.

NOTICE.

All parties holding bills against Frank Dolkovitz will present them for payment on or before the First day of April, and all parties indebted will call and pay at the same time without further notice.

MUSICAL.—Miss Lizzie Davis, of Virginia City, teacher of the violin, comes to Carson every Monday and remains until Wednesday. Adults or children wishing to become rapid and correct performers on the violin, and to acquire a profound knowledge of musical time and to read readily, also generally musical theory can get all necessary information as to terms etc., by inquiring of C. A. Marston, photographer, or at the Arlington House. Lessons in dancing given by Brown & Davis at Arlington Hall every Tuesday from 11 A.M. till 9 P.M. Social every night after dancing school.

A DRY GOODS DREAM.—A woman who goes into M. Cohn's emporium drifts off into a dream of rare and beautiful feminine finery. She sees the best product of foreign looms piled up on the counters, laces, draperies, illusions and elegant toilette materials, such as only the rarest skill can produce and which women of taste admire. The secret of the success of this house lies in the fact that M. Cohn knows how to select the best and is never imposed upon by the eastern houses who work off their inferior goods on inexperienced persons.

ATTENTION!—The greatest wonder yet discovered in medicine is Mrs. Dr. Howe's celebrated rheumatism, neuralgia and toothache cures. Would you rather suffer the pain of having a tooth drawn than buy a bottle of Mrs. Dr. Howe's toothache medicine? Mothers should not be without it for their infants. A few drops in a little sweetened water to swab a teething baby's mouth will instantly relieve the little sufferer. The medicine does not canterize, and is very pleasant. Sold by all druggists.

PROFESSOR LANGER'S MUSIC CLASS.—Prof. Langer, the well known leader of Piper's Orchestra, has started a music class in Carson. He has already received a number of scholars from the best families in the city, and his thorough methods of instruction give the best of satisfaction. He gives vocal and instrumental instructions and teaches on the piano and violin. He will give lessons on Wednesday of each week. Orders can be left at the APPEAL office.
