

President John Morgan, of the Southern mission of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, was in Chattanooga, Tenn., a few days ago. A reporter of the Louisville Courier-Journal interviewed him and sent the following telegraphic summary of his interview to his journal.

"Elder Morgan stated to your correspondent that in a few days he will leave for Colorado with over 125 converts to the Mormon faith. The majority are from Southern Virginia. He says that the Church has received over 300 additions from this section during the past few months. All converts from this locality are sent to Colorado. He does not wish many to leave this winter, as he fears it will weaken the Church. About twenty Elders are at work in his mission securing proselytes, and are meeting, so he says, with success."

Had the wife of old John Adams been alive to-day the friends of woman's enfranchisement would have found in her a staunch supporter. In 1764 that lady wrote to her husband as follows:

In the new code of laws * * I desire you would remember the ladies, and be more generous and favorable to them than your ancestors. Do not put such unlimited power in the hands of the husbands. Remember, all men would be tyrants if they could. If particular care and attention are not paid to the ladies, we are determined to foment a rebellion, and will not hold ourselves bound by any laws in which we have no voice or representation. While you are proclaiming peace and good-will to all men and emancipating all nations, you insist on retaining absolute power over wives. But you must remember that absolute power, like most other things which are very bad, is most likely to be broken.

Mr. Irving is playing in the English provinces, and was recently at Leeds for a six-night's engagement, which he began with "Charles L." His tour involves the use of a special train comprising four freight cars and as many cars for members of the company. The members are sixty in number, with thirty-five supernumeraries engaged in the various towns. For the pieces they are playing thirty-four suits of armor are needed and 700 dresses. Many of the principal scenes used at the London Lyceum Mr. Irving found it necessary to take with him.

A movement is on foot in Canada to sever all connections with England. In the next Dominion Parliament a proposition will in all probability be made to elect a Chief Magistrate or President at a salary not to exceed $20,000 instead of $50,000 as now; executive officers to be reduced from fourteen to seven, at a salary of $6,000 each, and civil service salaries over $2,000 to be reduced over twenty-five per cent. The great bulk of the people seem to be tired of supporting a Governor-General who does nothing but spend money.

The Comet, a daily newspaper published at Jackson, Mississippi—the organ of the bulldozing Democrats in that section—says editorially, in a recent issue: "If there is bloodshed on the 4th of next November, let no colored man say that he was not warned in time. If you are satisfied with the present government, stay at home. For if a conflict should occur you know who will be the victims."

"I remember," said a public speaker, "taking a little boy to the dome of the State House, hoping to please him with the superb prospect of earth, and sea and sky, and half a dozen cities. But far below him in the street his eye was taken by a sight that eclipsed all the rest, and he shouted in childish delight: 'Oh, see that pig!' How many people are like that little boy."

In devising a system of government for Alaska it might be well to take into consideration the patent fact that the national Democratic party has lost its capacity for governing. The Alaskan system might be arranged as a sort of governmental normal school where Democratic statesmen could be sent for a course of rudimentary instruction.

James E. Anderson, of Eureka, is steadily improving. He is now able to sit up for a few hours each day.

Judge M. Kirkpatrick will shortly leave Virginia to take up his residence at Salt Lake.

The Assassination in Court.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—At 10 o'clock precisely Judge Cox entered the Criminal Court-room and the court was declared formally opened by the crier. Immediately thereafter Guiteau was brought into the court-room by the Marshal and his deputies. He looked much better physically and otherwise than when he last appeared to plead to the indictment. Still he had the same restless air.

The court-room was crowded. District Attorney Corkhill, Porter of N. Y. and Davidge of Washington appeared for the prosecution, and Scoville and Leigh Robinson for the defense. Smith was present to represent the Attorney-General. One of Guiteau's first moves was to thrust his hand into one of his pockets and half take out a roll of paper.

Scoville however, in dumb play ordered him to put it back, and he did so. The District Attorney declared the readiness of the prosecution to proceed with the case. Robinson then arose to make a plea for still more time to procure evidence for the defense, which appeared to meet the approval of Guiteau. All the time Robinson was speaking Guiteau was carrying on what appeared to be a remonstrance with Scoville, who was apparently trying to quiet and suppress him. At the close of Robinson's speech Guiteau insisted on being heard. He said that he was not aware that a postponement was to be requested. He desired to be heard in his own behalf at the very threshold of the case. So far as he was concerned he did not wait further time. He was ready to try the case now. Owing to the opposition of the prisoner to the application of Robinson for an extension of time, the Court stated that for the present the case should proceed, as far at least as the swearing of the jury was concerned, and they would consider the question of extension afterward.

Death of Mrs. Edwin Booth.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Mary Frances McVicker, wife of Edwin Booth, died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of her parents, No. 13 West 53d street. The remains will be taken to Chicago for interment. Arrangements for the funeral will be completed to-day.

The Tribune says: Mrs. Booth's mental disturbance, which became sadly obvious in her last days, made itself manifest to her husband long ago, and he has watched and tended her with patient devotion throughout the vicissitudes of painful and sorrowful years. Mrs. Booth was seriously indisposed when she went to England with her husband in June last, and while abroad she had the attendance of eminent physicians and everything was done for her that skill could compass, or affectionate care provide. After her return last summer her mental malady took such shape that her husband was compelled to keep out of her presence as much as possible, although his practical care of her never ceased. This unfortunate and distressing state of domestic affairs has led to the publication of many slanders against Edwin Booth, as obnoxious to truth as they are cowardly and brutal. In his affliction thus deeply aggravated by malice he will have the sympathy of all right-minded persons, no less than the consciousness of duty thoroughly, honorably and tenderly fulfilled.

"Twill cure your cold—Ammen's Cough Syrup.

Many Druggists recommend and try to sell which pays them the largest profit. Do not be deceived, ask for Ammen's Cough Syrup. Take no other. The remedy stands on its own merits. You can buy a sample bottle for 15 cents, and test it yourself. Larger bottles at 50 cents and $1. Ask to see larger size and read the wrapper.

For cough or cold there is no remedy equal to Ammen's Cough Syrup.

We think it unnecessary to go to a doctor and pay him to prescribe for a common cold. At the same time it is of the utmost importance to pay attention to it and get relief—or evil consequences may follow. We use Ammen's Cough Syrup. It has never failed yet to do all that is claimed for it, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our readers. If you have not tried this medicine, go to your druggist and ask to see a large bottle, and read the label.
