It Won't Work.

There is a proposition before the Massachusetts Legislature to whitewash the memory of Oakes Ames. The Springfield Republican assails it with infinite scorn, and calls upon the Legislature to include Dorsey, Brady and all others who have used public trusts falsely, if Ames is now to be vindicated by the people whose good name he did so much to injure. The Republican prints extracts from his letters wherein he boldly boasted that he had corrupted Congressmen in order to interest them in his business and to the proposition of whitewash cries "shame!" But it might go still further and add that to avoid an honest statement with his own partners, Ames insisted that he had paid money in bribes to men whose palms were never crossed by one of his dollars. His vindication would be fostering old slanders upon the names of innocent men; men too, the lachets of whose shoes Oakes Ames was not worthy to unloose.

The Eureka Leader has figured out that the subdued sounds which issue from a sea shell when held to the ear comes from the vibration of the blood in the finger ends. The falsity of this theory can be very easily demonstrated. Put the shell on the table and then place your ear to it, and the sound is the same as before.

The County Commissioners of Eureka County have been arrested for not counting the money in the treasury as directed by the statutes.

A STRANGE CASE.

A Man With Bugs in His Stomach

A few weeks ago there came to one of our local physicians a logger from Marlette & Polson's camp, named Richard Anderson, who is afflicted with one of the strangest maladies which ever puzzled the skill of a physician. The man complained of curious pains in his stomach accompanied by exerting itchings which rendered sleep impossible. The Doctor was at a loss to know what to call the malady until he finally administered a powerful emetic, and to his astonishment discovered that the unfortunate man had bugs in his stomach known as the cinex lectularius whose bites were driving him to distraction. After three days of repeated emetics the man was cured and went back to work. It appears that about a month ago he left some bread in his cabin for several days while off on a trip to Cascade Lake, and on his return ate some of it. He took but a couple of mouthfuls, when he discovered some fine, white eggs upon its surface, and threw the remainder away. This bread, upon which were the minute eggs of the cinex lectularius, evidently did all the mischief. These pestiferous insects are a small flat bug, which infests the cabins and loggers' camps in the Sierra Mountains, and is sometimes found in the lower altitudes. Being flat they glide into every conceivable crevice and can live with out air. The particulars of the case will be forwarded to the New York Medical Journal.

Just the Thing for Nevada.

The very latest is reported from London and is termed the "talking" quadrille, or laucers. An amusing dialogue is kept up between the dancers, somewhat in harmony with the movement of the figures. Of course the words are written beforehand, generally by some amateur poet, and are learned by heart. A variation of this quadrille is one in which a certain number of the guests are only in the secret, and these keep up an amusing interchange of epigrams, gay talk, or feign a quarrel, which generally ends in a hearty laugh. A few nights since this delightful innovation was introduced for the first time in Hawthorne by the editor of the Water Lake Bulletin. It went in first-class shape until one of the Mount Cory miners thought that one of the dancers was talking rough to his sister and knocking the man down dragged him out of the back door and mauled him nearly to death just as those in the secret were getting ready for the "hearty laugh." The people still think that the dance can be run successfully in Hawthorne, but the inhabitants need educating up to it.

Shoe Your Horses.

The best informed horsemen shoe their animals at least once a month and some even oftener. There are several good reasons for this. When a horse is shod with calks that keep his toes well up it is bad if the calks wear down to the level of the shoe thus throwing the hoof too far forward and giving him a stumbling habit. Many a good stepper has been spoiled entirely by his parsimonious owner allowing the shoes to remain on too long. Again, it is held that after the nails are too long on the hoof the rust injures the fibre and is the beginning of nearly all hoof diseases. Horses that are shod once a month are always good steppers and seldom have anything the matter with their hoofs, a portion of a horse's anatomy which requires the greatest possible care.

The Sunday Closing Question.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE APPEAL: Can you tell me why the merchants of this town insist on keeping their stores open on Sunday in defiance of the strong public sentiment to the contrary? It seems strange to any one who ever lived in the East, where the Sabbath is seldom broken, to see stores open for customers nearly all day Sunday. Can you tell me why any man who has been raised in a Christian land, among Christian people, keeps his place open on Sunday while so many people are religiously wending the way to the sanctuary to the solemn call of the church bells, Yours, A LADY READER.

[Probably his object is to sell goods to those who are not going to church.—Ed. APPEAL]

Senator Jones is expected here to-morrow.

IN BRIEF.

Ex-Recorder F. D. Turner is Deputy Assessor.

Lovi Dagne, Coiner of the Mint, has a very sick child.

Bishop Blanchard will shortly open a revival boom in Hawthorne.

H. M. Yerington is in San Francisco. He will return to-morrow.

John P. Mader is temporarily stationed at the Mound House for the V. & T. R. R. Co.

Captain A. W. Pray, the Glenbrook pioneer, was in town yesterday.

Every one will be glad to know that Joe Platt will remain in Carson.

T. J. Edward's new residence will be of stone. He evidently means to stay here. Work will be commenced at once.

A letter received here says that Baldwin, the smooth, thieving clerk of Gillson & Barber, was recently seen in New Mexico.

Jimmy Fair only remained on the Comstock one day. Wonder whether he was afraid of his precious hide?

Those who like to play "E—even for a starter" will be interested in knowing that a $30 keno pot will be played for this evening at Sweeney's saloon.

The law firm of Reddy & Bennett have given up their office here. Mr. Bennett will locate at Bridgeport, Cal., and General Reddy at San Francisco.

The APPEAL has received complimentary tickets for the Twilight Club ball, on Friday evening May 11th, and filed the same away in a specimen book.

Scarcely a day elapses now but one or more wealthy San Francisco mining operators visit Virginia City. This looks as there is something in the wind.

Cagwin & Noteware have just opened at their branch store, next to the postoffice, an assortment of new style window curtains, comprising the Dado and other novel patterns.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Thaxter will be pleased to learn that the condition of their daughter, Bertie, was greatly improved yesterday, and hopes are now entertained of the child's ultimate recovery.

The San Francisco Bulletin, in speaking of the late Joe Wasson, pays him the somewhat left handed compliment of saying that he was a great lover of pugilism and knew the history of even the most obscure bruisers that ever lived.

Sheriff Swift's mine, in Silver Glance District, is doing finely and he expects shortly to have some bullion from there to ship to the Carson Mint. The way things keep going, it will not be long before the Mint will be able to run on bullion produced right around Carson.

A San Francisco gentleman visiting Carson, yesterday, states that there are hundreds of different rumors at the Bay relative to Jim Fair's domestic infidelity. The sympathy is all for Mrs. Fair, who is regarded as a good and pure woman, while on the other hand, all denounce the Senator for his insincerity in all of life's relations.

The Shoshones and Bannocks Reported Hostile.

The Idaho Avalanche publishes the following received at that office from a correspondent at Castle Creek, under date of April 19th.

"I have this moment been informed by an Indian (Panguich) that the Bannocks and Shoshones are on the war-path again, and will soon fight. I inquired of him how soon, and he said in one month. Much more was told me, but I have not time to write, as I am looking for the mail carrier every moment."

At the request of the writer we refrain from giving his name. While there may be no truth in the statement of this Indian, it will be well enough for the settlers to be on the lookout for the reported hostiles.

Our private opinion is that Panguich or the correspondent, or both are a trifle off.

Postponed.

The concert advertised for tonight has been postponed until Wednesday evening next, on account of sickness in the family.

A CHEAP NEWSPAPER MAN.

A Well Known Character Turns Up Again.

For years past the press of this State have exposed the doings of a "Cheap-John" newspaper fraud named Mark W. Musgrove, who travels about the country starting little hand bills which he calls newspapers, takes advertising for about a dollar a column and skips out leaving his creditors in the lurch. He has just turned up again in Idaho and will probably run about there two or three years before he reaches the end of his tether. The Butte Miner says:

The fellow, Mark W. Musgrove, who has been advertised over and over again as "the newspaper bilk," has squatted at Rathdrum, Idaho, for the time being. "Mussy" tried his old game of raising a bonus and then selling out to some poor printer, taking his notes secured by well fixed citizens, and before leaving camp realize on his notes at a small discount, thus leaving the community and his successor broke, as far as aid to a print shop is concerned. He boasts that he has "started" more papers than any one else in the West, but he only "starts" them for the purpose of bilking the community. He is not a person who could settle if he would and wouldn't if he could. He exhausts himself in a little while and has to drift along. A recent issue of a Nevada paper says "he has played his li game at Beaver, Utah; Bodie, Cal.; Pioche, Ruby Hill and Ward, Nevada; Yankee Fork, Idaho; Salt Lake, Butte and other places, and has at last turned up in the woods of the Cœur d'Alene, the Panhandle of Idaho, to bilk another neighborhood. One of his brags is that he can start an office on less type than any one else, and his whole stock in trade, wherever he goes, is about $300 worth of type, etc., and a bag of wind. In the Territory of his last adoption, he put in such an outfit at Bonanza City, collected a bonus, collected the advertising and subscriptions in advance; in veiling young Jones from Idaho City into buying his outfit by exaggerated statements about the value of the field and business; took his note for $1,500, indorsed by Pfeiffer Bros. and Wm. Norton; sold the note before leaving the camp, and lit out. The whole thing was worth about $300; every thing collected in advance and, of course, Jones had to close it up in a few weeks.

In answer to the Assessor's small dairyman yesterday remarked that all his taxable property consisted of three cows, two calves and a pump. He further replied that he sold 100 quarts of milk daily. The question arises, what, under the circumstances, is the taxable value of the pump?
