Struck It.

About three years ago, James Black, well known in this city, went to Salt Lake and located in business. He sunk $5,000 in a few months, and the last time the writer saw him he was striking out for the Sawtooth district to see if he could find a mine. He had a six-shooter, a miner's suit, and about seven dol-lars in his pocket. He has just sold a mine, in which he owned a half-interest, and has $30,000 in his pocket.

The Grand Central will open at Tahoe on the 14th.

COL. CAVANAUGH'S REWARD

He is Tendered a Position on Gen. Matthewson's Staff.

The APPEAL is glad to note that Col. Cavanaugh is to be retained in the active service of the State on the staff of Brigadier General Matthewson, the fiery Comstock soldier. Not long ago Governor Adams, Commanding Chief of the State militia, reduced Col. Cavanaugh to the ranks for his refusal to work for the Adams ticket in the fall elections. Cavanaugh had all his life been an uncompromising Democrat and stood by the ticket through thick and thin—mostly thin as the re-wards for his services were never properly recognized by the party who only sought to reward the men who on all occasions were ready to throw up their hats for Jewett Adams. Mr. Cavanaugh once went to Lieutenant Governor Adams to get assistance from him in a county fight. Mr. Adams said he had no interest in a county fight and would not subscribe a dollar. Here Mr. Cavanaugh expressed in pretty plain terms, his ideas on the proposition and openly announced that he would never again support Mr. Adams for any office. In the Fall primaries he kept his word and for his independence was bounced from the Governor's staff. Mr. Cavanaugh is an old Nevada soldier of the local militia and served on Governor Blaisdel's staff as well as Governor Kinkead's. He is ever ready to respond to the call of duty, whether to risk his uniform in a coal burners riot in Eureka county or to repel an Indian foray on the border. His sword, which hangs over the mantle piece, is al-ways brushed for a local parade. As soon as this faithful and efficient soldier was degraded to the rank of a common private, General Mat-thewson with a quick eye for mili-tary competency tendered him a commission on his staff which was accepted. This will be a cause of general rejoicing as we cannot lose from the service of the State any man who fills his uniform so advantageously or sits a charger with such consummate gracefulness as Col. Peter Cavanaugh, proprietor of the New York Cracker Bakery of this city.

Dr. Lee, Cap. Lyons and Col. Cavanaugh, all on Governor Kinkead's staff were not retained by Adams, although as a matter of courtesy Kinkead retained a num-ber of Bradley's appointees.

One for the Lawyers.

The Stockton Herald thus plants a good one on the probosis of the legal fraternity:

The struggles of the rural editor with the plural pronoun have fur-nished amusements from time im-memorial. He speaks of "our wife" and "our hat," and writes himself always as "we." But the country journalist's absurdities in the use of "we" are rivaled by the lawyers, who identify themselves with their clients. Yesterday for example, a prominent Stockton at-torney, representing the husband in a divorce suit, asserted of the plaintiff that she had "1-ft our bed and board." The gentleman did not mean, of course, that he had at one time been in the habit of shar-ing the couch of the defendant, but his language had that meaning. Lawyers who are as thick as three in a bed with their clients laugh as heartily as anybody over the bun-derings of the poor rustic newspa-per man, but their own adulterous familiarity with the royal pronoun is often quite as ludicrous.

The Twilight Social.

The dedication ball of the Carson Guard armory will take place at the armory to night. It will be for the benefit of the Carson Guard and there is no question but that the affair will put money into the cof-fers of the Guard's treasury. The city ought to give the company an ovation, for these sharp shooters have been able to go down to Cali-fornia and wrest the bronze trophy from the same sharp shooters who helped America secure the cham-pionship of the world at Creed-more. Carson has several reasons, if not every reason, to be proud of this company, and should show their good feeling toward it by giv-ing the Twilights a fall house this evening.

The people of Reno have evi-dently settled down. It has been a month since they asked for the Capitol, the State Prison and the Orphan Asylum.—Bodie Free Press.

IN BRIEF.

H. M. Yerington and wife came up on the morning train yesterday.

The Footlight has been chosen as the official county paper of Storey for the month of May.

Vic Muller, Jr., has gone to work for Schulz & Co., and with his long white apron on, cleaving meat, looks more like a butcher than his boss.

J. T. Davis, for nine years chief clerk of the C. P., has accepted a position as agent at the Mound House for the C. P. R. R.

Capt. Matthewson was at the Ormsby House all day yesterday collecting revenue. He dragged the town of about $1,000.

Some of the regular license pay-ers complain that several parties in the city are behind hand. Every man who owes a city license should be made settle up at once.

Mr. Joe Platt has made arrange-ments with San Francisco houses and will open out next week in Morris' old place, next to Wells, Fargo's office.

Strawberries have touched 20 cents a box. The cause of the break is not known, but it is sup-posed that porphyry has been struck somewhere.

The impression is general in Car-son, perhaps more especially along the Main street, that the man who runs the Hot Springs wagon would do better if he bought a horn which plays in another key.

The discriminating people of Hawthorne will drink nothing but Klein's beer and the Mount Cory schooner's hold about a quart. The people there will not tolerate an ordinary beer glass under any cir-cumstances.

Yesterday was one of those murky, drizzly days that makes everybody think that the world is coming to an end, but is the sort of weather that makes the Carson Val-ley ranchers come into town and get drunk with delight.

The APPEAL acknowledges the re-ceipt of an invitation to attend the Tercio-Millennial of Santa Fe, New Mexico. It celebrates the 333d anniversary of the settlement of Santa Fe by the Europeans. There will be games, parades, barbecues and horse racing for two weeks.

The boys think that since Sam Wright has finished such a nobby undertaking establishment he ought to give a housewarming, ball or something to celebrate the event. The latest novelty is an adjustable coffin that can be made to fit any corpse, having a range from three feet to seven and glass windows in the side.

A Royal House Warming.

Last evening the Carson Guard opened their new armory and in-vised the citizens to participate in the festivities of the inaugural. The citizens responded almost to a man and the scenes of hilarity re-called the palmy days of the place, when George Fryer dispensed hos-pitality to his guests. It was a stag affair, so to speak. To-night is "ladies' night," last night was not. There was an abundance of good things in the shape of drink-ables, with speaking, singing etc., and the festivities were kept up until a late hour. Ex-Governor Kinkead made the opening ad-dress. The armory has been put in splendid shape and may safely be considered one of the best on the coast and constant improve-ments will be made from this on.

Flower Seeds.

During this moist weather is just the time to purchase flower seeds, grass seeds and the like and plant them. The earth is now just in the condition to receive the seeds and the growth of the plants would be assured.

Ode to the Hog.

Mr. Patrick Brannan, bet'er known in literary circles under the nom de plume of "Overland Pat," sends the APPEAL the following de-lightful verses on the vindication of our American pork in Berlin:

ODE TO THE HOG.
When Ireland hears the news about the hog,
A touch of joy will thrill the Irish bog.
For what man who loves the town of Cork
Can live in happiness without his pork?
Can Ireland grapple with the British "bloods?"
Without some bacon to go with its spuds.
Come forth O'Reilly, Kelly and Mc-Manus,
With shamrock crown the Hog Ameri-canus.

A FLASHING EYE.

How Mrs. Fair's Dark Orbs Looked to a "Chronicle" Re-porter.

The S. F. Chronicle has the fol-lowing report of an interview with Mrs. Colonel Fair:

"Yes," said Mrs. Fair, smiling rather wearily, "I must keep my original intention of saying nothing on my side of the case until it is actually brought into court."

No persuasive argument on the part of her visitor could alter this determination. She said it was a delicate subject; that she was more than satisfied with the attitude the Chronicle had taken in the case, and her fine eyes filled with tears as she spoke of the desperation that caused her to pose as an injured party when she thought of her children and especially of her daughters.

"The report has reached us," said the reporter, "that the Senator contemplated getting a divorce in order that he might marry some one else, and that he had proposed as terms the house on Pine street and $3,000,000 to you and make the children his sole heirs."

Mrs. Fair smiled and her eyes flashed. "I smile," she said, in ex-planation, "because no such offer could be made to wife and be ac-cepted with anything else except indignation."

Considering the facts that Mrs. Fair considers herself in possession of conclusive proof of her hus-band's infidelity and that his prop-erty has been closely estimated at between ten and twelve millions of dollars, most of it in United States bonds and real estate, the flash of Mrs. eye can be well understood.

BUTLER TUBULAR IRON FENCE POSTS. IRON RANCH FENCE.

The Boss Ranch, Farm and Vineyard Fence is now in the Market. It is built with iron posts and barbed wire; the post being made of wrought and cast-iron. The top of the post is made of one-inch gas pipe and pierced with holes through which a plain wire is inserted, which fastens the barbed wire to the post. The post is cast with three flanges and is twenty-one inches long. The flanges render the most immovable when inserted in any soil. These posts are placed two rods apart, with an iron stay between, and there can be any number of wires and any kind of wire used. Three men can build one mile of fence per day on good ground. Fire cannot burn it, cyclones cannot move it, and floods cannot wash it away. I sell fence at $1 per rod for three-wire fence, and $1.25 for five-wire fence complete, and to agents at reduced rates, which enable a good live man to make from $100 to $500 a month on an investment of a small capital in ter-ritory, and any one wishing to purchase any County, State or Territory, can get a bargain by calling on or writing me of his desire.
