

The winning of a suit for $96 by the APPEAL against the county of Ormsby was a victory for a business principle. It cost as much to bring a suit as the money involved, but had it cost ten times as much the suit would have been brought all the same. The suit, while nominally an affair of this office, was on behalf of the Nevada Press Association, and the Association furnished the money to prosecute it. If necessary, the Association was prepared to take it to the highest court in the State to establish what it costs to advertise in a leading newspaper. In every case where a Board of County Commissioners attempt to cut down newspaper bills to Cheap John rates similar suits will be brought. The press of Nevada has for years past been advocating living wages for all classes of people who earn their living by their own industry. The journals of this State have insisted on $1 a day for miners and equally first-class rates for mechanics, artisans and skilled workmen, as well as common laborers of all descriptions. Should it not, therefore, be equally solicitous of its own pay for work performed? For several years past the County Commissioners of Ormsby have made a persistent fight against the press. They have paid all classes of services the rates demanded, but when it comes to newspapers they have farmed the work out to cut-throat bidding until they were able to find parties who would do it at less than actual cost. Yet in a county campaign the very papers which they have ground down, they were glad to have come to the fore and materially assist in their election. A few weeks ago the jury in the Coombs trial had to be boarded at the county's expense. The Commissioners asked the Ormsby House to feed the jurors, witnesses, etc., and send in its bill. It did not ask the other hotels to enter into competition or cheap two bit restaurants to send in bids. The bill of the Ormsby House was $280. It was paid in full, although no doubt there are second-class eating houses in Carson who would have fed the same men for $100 and $180 might have been saved. The price paid was the usual rates of a first class hotel. A few days after the bill was paid the county had a register list to print and called for bids. A bid of $6.50 for three columns of advertising was accepted. As the APPEAL pays its printers, that amount of matter could not have been put in type for the amount paid for it. The APPEAL bid was higher from the fact that to have printed three columns of matter just so much paying advertising would have been displaced. Messrs. Jones and Cheney of the old Board have always been the most savage adherents of the Cheap John policy with newspapers. With the new Board Mr. Jones works tooth and toe nail to accomplish this result. The APPEAL is not running a cheap newspaper, nor will it take cheap advertising. The circulation of the paper is larger than ever, its columns are filled with cash advertisements, and it is recognized by business men in Carson as being worth so much money to them. No one who advertises in the APPEAL pays any more or less for the same space than another. Our rates are based upon the business, circulation and prestige of the paper, and persons who do not care to pay these rates will be obliged to look elsewhere. This paper pays cash on demand for all it gets in Carson and all who patronize us pay cash for what they get. Our space is worth to us as much as Mason & Co.'s coffee, Harris Bros' sugar, Muller & Schmitt's tea, or John G. Fox's envelopes. Messrs. Jones and Cheney, backed by ex-District Attorney Bartine, held that the APPEAL should charge no more for its advertising space than the Bee, and cut down the bill to the Bee's rates. This foolish experiment has resulted in an extra bill of costs to the county and the court has decided that those gentlemen allowed their zeal to overbalance their common sense.

The press on which the Bee was printed cost $75. The material would not to-day bring $10. The press on which the APPEAL is printed is worth $1000. The APPEAL is a live, paying institution and the Bee is dead.

FRAUDULENT LAND ENTRIES IN COLORADO.

Fraudulent Entries.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—On March 1st, Secretary Teller directed the Commissioner-General of the Land Office to investigate certain alleged fraudulent pre-emption cash entries of land in Denver District, Colo. The Commissioner-General of the Land Office, in transmitting the report of the investigation to the Secretary of the Interior, says that it seems evident from the report and other papers, that all of said entries are fraudulent and illegal, and made for speculative purposes. This Secretary concurring in this view, the Commissioner has transmitted copies of the papers in the case to Attorney-General Brewster, recommending that criminal proceedings be instituted against Elijah Latham, Philip L. Murray, James R. Weldon, Samuel Snyder, Samuel Hawley, Isaac N. Gamble, Henry Brown and James Wilson, and that suits be instituted to vacate the patents for the lands issued to them, if in his (Attorney-General's) judgement, such proceedings and suits can be maintained.

The Feeling Against Dunn

CHICAGO, May 22.—All the papers denounce in the roughest terms the parade of Jero Dunn, the slayer of Elliott, in the Grand Opera House and there is a movement here among leading people to taboo the theater during the engagement as Nick Roberts, manager of the troupe, was the one who marched Dunn to a private box. James O'Neil, the actor, told Roberts last night that he would cancel his engagement if Dunn was again allowed to occupy a private box. The jurors who were paid $30,000 for their verdict, the money coming from Dunn's wife, will be obliged to leave Chicago, as they can no longer conduct business in the city.

Chinese Mode of Fighting.

VICTORIA, May 22.—It is now asserted that the Chinaman reported killed during the attack on the Chinese camp, was really fatally wounded during the fight in the daytime. It is asserted that he climbed up the back of one of the white men and began to chew his ear, when the white man reached around, grabbed the Chinaman by his pigtail and beat him on the head with a club. The Chinaman then seized a rock to hit his antagonist, when the latter knocked him down with a pickhandle, bursting his head.

Yesterday, at Lytton, two of the Cheap Mining Property.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 22.—The famous Indian Gap silver mines, situated between Pine Grove and Lebanon, have at last gladdened the hearts of the owners by genuine ore, not in very large quantity, it is true, but still better than nothing. The property was sold by the Sheriff Saturday for $10. About $20,000 have been expended in developing. It is altogether probable that the mines recently discovered near Meyerstown are of the same quality.

General Longstreet Interviewed.

NEW YORK, May 22.—General Longstreet is here. Being interviewed, he said the Southern negroes were intelligent and tricky, they can read the "butter side" of a book. We have generally put aside politics in Georgia and want Northern capital. Tilden is favorably spoken of for President, but people would prefer some man not yet mentioned.

The Parnell Fund Increasing.

LONDON, May 21.—The fund for Parnell now amounts to £9,000. It has been decided to keep the subscription list open until £50,000 have been raised. Several meetings were held in London yesterday, at which appeals for subscriptions to the fund were made.

BERLIN, May 22.—A report, which is not yet confirmed, comes from St. Petersburg, that previous to his departure for Moscow an explosion occurred under the washstand and in the fireplace in his dressingroom, out nobody was injured, the Emperor and Empress being in the dining-room at the time.

MOSCOW, May 22.—The Czar entered the city this morning with great pomp and was received with the plaudits of half a million people. Four men were arrested supposed to be nihilists who were found in the procession.
