—There has been a lively volcanic eruption in New Zealand. Mountains have been cast up 4,000 feet high, fissures ten miles long rent in the ground, and mud, ashes and cinders spread ten feet deep over an area of 60 miles. Yet, like the Sacramento people the local organs still talk about their glorious climate.

NOTICE OF ASSESSMENT

CARSON STEAM LAUNDRY.—Location of principal place of business, Carson City, Nevada.—Location of works, Carson City, Nevada.—Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Trustees, held on the 8th day of June, 1886, an assessment (No. 1.) of Two Dollars ($2) per share was levied upon the capital stock of the corporation, payable immediately in United States gold and silver coin, to the Secretary at his office in Carson City, Nevada. Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid on Wednesday, the Seventh (7th) day of July, 1886, will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction, and, unless payment is made before, will be sold on Thursday, the 9th day of August, 1886 to pay the delinquent assessment, together with costs of advertising and expenses of sale. By order of the Board of Trustees, JOHN M. DORMER, Secretary.

ALL SORTS.

—Stocks are again quiet.
 —John Mackay will be up this morning.
 —Senator Stewart is expected back today.
 —J. B. Richardson, of Reno was in the city yesterday.
 —The Registration books are now open at Gaige's office.
 —John Bath says that his grass grows an inch a day this weather.
 —WANTED—A girl to do general housework. Apply at this office.
 —B. F. Leet the Reno "Home producer" was in Carson yesterday.
 —LOST—An ice hook. The finder will please return to Benton's stable.
 —Commissioner Morris and Bob Logan were up from Empire yesterday.

—The big rain storm was heaviest at Glenbrook. It was also very severe in Virginia City.

—If the whites begin to fight among themselves they will soon lose sight of the Chinese.

—Duncan, who was in the State Prison for stage robbery near Tuscarora, was pardoned yesterday.

—Louis Badarracca sent up from Lander county for life for murder in the second degree, has been pardoned by the Board.

—Farmer Phillips is fattening his calf for the Reno Fair. One pound and a half a day is what he claims the gain amounts to.

—Over 2,000 men are about to invade the Oklahoma district but if they do the people guarding the track of country will set the grass on fire and sacrifice it as the Russians did Moscow.

—Sam Jones preached his farewell sermon at St. Paul, Minn., on Sunday, and when he asked all present who thought he was in earnest to stand up, everybody arose except the Pioneer Press reporter.

—The Tribune is mistaken when it says it employs the only Union printer in the city. Johnny Morris, who does job work for the APPEAL office, is a member of the Typographical Union, and is paid Union prices.

—William Hise Jr. Secretary of the Bees Beer Co., has been charged with offering a man $15,000 to set fire to some of Hise's property insured at $80,000. This would seem like extravagance. By setting the fire himself he would save the $15,000.

—The magnitude of the baseball industry may be judged from the fact that the skins of 1,000 horses and 10,000 sheep are used every year for covering balls in New York alone. One horsehide will furnish material for twelve dozen balls, and one sheepskin for three dozen.

—To most children the bare suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. Why not, then; when physic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills? They combine every essential and valuable principle of a cathartic medicine, and being sugar coated are easily taken.

—A man named Graham went over Niagara Falls the other day closed up in a cask. He probably did it for advertising purposes, and now it will be considered the thing for the newspapers to "(W)hoop him up."

P. S. Before this reaches our readers Col. Irish will have the same joke in the Alta under the head of "New today."

—The Elko Independent in taking exceptions to the APPEAL's protest against giving an ex-Andersonville prison keeper a place under the Government, asks why we did not object when Longstreet and Col. Mosby were appointed. If the Independent will turn to the APPEAL's back files it will find that it did protest against these appointments at the time.

—Almost every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this develops in scrofulous sores, ulcers, or eruptions, or takes the form of rheumatism, or organic diseases, the suffering that ensues is terrible beyond description. Hence the gratitude of those who discover, as thousands yearly do, that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will thoroughly eradicate this evil from the system.

—WANTED TO RENT—Rooms in the Northern part of the city. Inquire at this office.

THEY NEVER SPEAK.

How the Soldiers Regard the Horn-Blowers.

Since the 4th of July, the Reno Guard band and the soldiers of the Reno military company never speak. The cause of the coolness arises from the fact that the band had a row with the company, or the company had a row with the band, it's hard to find out which, and the band were informed by the company that it could not go to Carson on the Fourth. Well, the band went to Carson, and when it got off the cars it marched up the street playing, "But We Got There Just the Same."

This incensed the Reno military men, and they vote the band a collection of boorish horn blowers.

But this reminds us of a story illustrating the contempt of the military men for the musical men.

Some years ago in Salt Lake, about 1 o'clock in the morning, the writer saw a man tugging away at another who was lying on the sidewalk. A nearer approach revealed the well known Gen. Agramonte trying to get a man on his feet, whom he had found on the pavement.

The man on the walk proved to be a soldier who had been beaten almost to death in a saloon row.

Agramonte was afraid the Mormon police would find the man and make matters still worse for his head.

We got him in a wagon, threw a buffalo robe over him, and started for Camp Douglass.

The guards came out with the challenge, and were informed that the wagon contained a soldier who was almost dead from loss of blood.

"Poor fellow," said one of the guards, as he approached the wagon, "much obliged for bringing him in this bad night."

He lifted the robe and flashed his lantern in the soldier's face.

"H—!" he exclaimed in deep disgust, "he's only a horn blower, why the devil didn't you let him rip?"

Corporation With a Soul.

The Winnemucca (Nev.) Silver State of the 7th instant says: "The Southern Pacific Company seems to be an exception to the rule that corporations have no souls." It gave its entire clerical force and heads of departments a holiday from last Saturday until yesterday, on full pay. It also issued hundreds of passes to employees and their families who desired to visit friends or relatives along the company's roads. Of course it was impossible to give engineers and trainmen a holiday, as that would cause the stoppage of trains, and the public who are very exacting task-masters, would raise a howl from one end of the road to the other."

The Hay Crop

Haying has been commenced on the natural meadow lands along the Humboldt in this vicinity, and ranchers say there will not be much over half a crop. On Stauffer & Sweetser's meadow, above town, where 400 tons of hay was cut last year, there will not be over half that quantity this year. On the other hand, Big Meadows' people say they never had finer hay crops than they are now harvesting. Both alfalfa and blue joint are above the average. In that section they have all the water they want for irrigating purposes.

An Incident of 1869.

The Silver State correspondent for this city has the following in his last letter:

It is strange that record reviewers became so careless as to forget the 1869 sensation at the Capitol City, caused by Gov. Safford and Steve Gage waking Senator Tritle at midnight and sending him to Virginia City for the late Wm. Sharon and with instructions to be quick about it, in order to save Mr. Stewart from defeat.

The above is not a correct version of the affair.

Sharon and Tritle had made certain political agreements and one night when Tritle was in this city word reached him from a seemingly reliable source that Sharon had broken faith. It was midnight when he was informed of Sharon's treachery and taking a team he started for the Comstock. It was a dark stormy night and he did not reach Virginia until nearly 4 in the morning.

He went to Sharon's room and called him up. Sharon sat up in bed and after hearing Tritle's charges of bad faith etc., he remarked savagely: "So you have come all the way from Carson at this time of night to ascertain whether or not I am a d—?"

He then rolled over and went to sleep. This is what Tritle went to Virginia City for and next day he found that it had been a false alarm.

We received this version of the story from Tritle's own mouth. The rumors about Sharon concerned Tritle alone.

O'Donovan Rossa.

NEW YORK, July 10.—At the twenty-fourth annual picnic of the Manhattan Circle of the Fenian Brotherhood, yesterday, O'Donovan Rossa spoke. He said, among other things:

"The Irish people now put their trust in Gladstone and in England. I cannot see that it avails them much. I dined with the historian, Frode, in this city. He said Ireland never would gain her freedom but by the sword, and I believe him. The arch Radical, Bradlaugh said to me once: 'Take up the sword and fight England for your rights if you want them; but you will find me opposed to you, sword in hand.'" Rossa said he had been in St. Louis for a week and had spoken at a monster picnic at which $4,000 were "gathered in" for dynamite.

Superfluous Contributions.

WASHINGTON, July 12th.—Reall, the man who has been collecting money with the alleged object of aiding the passage of the oleomargarine bill, is not popular among those having charge of the measure. Senator Warner Miller says that Reall is an unnecessary figure in the contest, and that the bill would be a good deal better off if that gentleman had never taken upon himself to engineer it through Congress. "Every dollar," said the Senator, "which has been contributed to push this bill through Congress has been thrown away. Not a single cent of it was necessary. The farmers and dairymen who have put up money have simply been mulcted by Reall."

—The people of San Francisco never do good things by halves, as is proven by their beautiful golden invitation to the President, to join in their Grand Army Encampment next month. It also proves that the people of California, regardless of party lines, respect and honor the President for his manly way of doing business, and have taken this delicate method of showing their feelings. The invitation is engraved on a plate of solid gold, six inches wide and four inches long, and is tastefully decorated. A solid gold badge of the G. A. R. pattern was also enclosed for the President to wear on his arrival there. Senator Stanford and the California delegation in Congress, presented the invitation, and though the President could not see how he could spare the time to get there, it is hoped he may yet do so, if the Republican Pension filibusterers can only be choked off. It was a beautiful act toward Mr. Cleveland and reflects credit on the California G. A. R.
