

Cure of a Sprain.

MACLEOD CENTRE,
WAYNE CO., N. Y.
February 28, 1885.

Some years ago I badly strained my stomach picking cherries, and have suffered greatly ever since. Nothing has been so beneficial as Alcock's Plasters. They entirely cured me of that trouble. I have also been afflicted with a lame ankle, but these Plasters soon enabled me to walk. I recommend them whenever I have an opportunity, as I have found them very useful for over ten years. Alcock's Plasters have always done me the greatest service, and I am every day more and more convinced that no household should be without them.

The Latest Case.

The testimony in the Virginia incest case was the most sickening that was ever presented to a Court. Lindsey, counsel for Thomas, shed tears for the child, and said he had no defense to make for such a beast. The man deserves nothing less than lynching.

Telegrams and letters from all parts of California, show that the Republicans of that commonwealth are well pleased with their State ticket, and seem to regard it as invincible.

—The gloomy fears, the desponding views, the weariness of soul that many complain of, would often disappear were the blood made pure and healthy before reaching the delicate vessels of the brain. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies and vitalizes the blood; and thus conduces to health of body and sanity of mind.

—Ayer's Aque Care, when used according to directions, is warranted, to eradicate from the system all forms of malarial disease, such as Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, Intermittent, Remittent, and Bilious Fevers and disorders of the liver. Try it. The experiment is a safe one, and will cost you nothing if a cure is not affected.

A Newly Discovered Lake.

The Truckee Republican says: There are two beautiful gems of lakes, nestled among the mountain peaks and surrounded by thick woods near Truckee, that are rarely visited by man. They are situated between Schaffer's mill and Lake Tahoe, not very far from the summit of the ridge. Messrs. Laffen and Gray visited them this week, and one of them, the existence of which had never before been known, was named Gray Lake. It is said to be a beautiful spot and will sometime no doubt, be a resort for excursion and camping parties.

BEDEUGS.

The Subject Discussed from a Naturalist's Standpoint.

While most of the readers of the APPEAL know what a bedbug is when they see it, we doubt if many of them have ever given the little insect the study it deserves.

Some years ago in a conversation with ex-Chief Justice Beatty the writer gained a great deal of valuable information regarding the animal. It was Beatty Senior, and he claimed to have made a careful study of the bedbug's peculiarities.

"The bedbug" said he "has more brains than almost anything of its size. It is foolish to put the legs of the bedstead in water for the bug will crawl up on the ceiling and drop down on the bed. How they can hang back downward from a perfectly flat surface and then let go is what has always puzzled me. I have carefully examined their feet with a microscope and failed to detect either the presence of air cells or any glutinous substance but my instrument was of low power and I might have thus been placed at a disadvantage.

"The bug will breed in pine or cottonwood timber and multiply by millions. When a house is put up I claim that they can see it for a long distance and make for it at once to feed on human flesh. Now why do they proceed in this manner when they have never touched it before? I don't suppose you can answer this question, as I never found a man who could, unless it is that human flesh is the native food of the bedbug and instinct draws them to the spot.

"After one of them gorges himself with blood he retires for twenty-four hours. If a man were to drink as much blood in proportion to his weight as a bedbug, he would consume twelve or fifteen gallons.

"In entering a house they adopt much the same method as the burglar. They climb up from the outside and into the window. I have watched a long line of them following a leader. The leader is generally very large and I have heard persons say that the leader has a red spot on his back, but I do not find this verified by actual observation.

"Hardly anything that man can invent will circumvent the bedbug. A pair will breed several hundred and it is hard to kill them as fast as they reproduce. I have not much faith in insect powders. My way is to burn the bed and purchase anew."

Charley Stoddard, the promoter, gives the following information:

"In the old mining camps, you never saw a bedbug until women came in. This is my experience. They brought them in a trunk. If the old miners had only known that bedbugs came with women the women would never have secured a foothold, that's all. But I guess it's too late now. When the bugs have nothing else to feed on they will eat each other up. I put a hundred in a glass box once and in a few weeks only a few remained, having eaten all the rest. Finally one big bug survived and he was as fat as an alderman.

"My plan to get rid of the bugs is to souse the bedstead with kerosene oil and set it afire. There is a flash, a blaze and the insect drops off by thousands. The oil burns out quick and you are fixed. Sometimes the dry bedstead catches a fire and goes to. These are the chances you take."

Senator Stewart said, that he had seen bedbugs climb on sticks and twigs and wait for favorable winds to blow them across a small stream where they could invade a village. They would board a chip near the shore and if it did not soon move away they would board another.

Judge Belknap thought that the International Hotel in Virginia City was the greatest place for the pests he had ever seen. He had called the landlord's attention to it occasionally with no good results. He considered Carson entirely or almost free from them.

Gov. Kinkead had noticed that some people were never troubled with them at all and other people right along side were devoured. They would come twenty miles to bite him and he knew it.

Governor Adams said he had never seen one in his life and if he had he did not care to express an opinion on the eve of a campaign. If there were to be any at the Elko Convention he wanted to know it.

Charley Laughton said the woods were full of 'em at Tahoe and he guessed his buckskin breeches were well stocked.

THE SOUTHERN COUNTRY.

How It Impresses the Editor of the New York "Tribune."

D. O. Mills and Whitelaw Reid came up from Owens River Valley last evening. The former took the train for San Francisco, and the latter remained over night and took the East bound train for New York. A Gazette reporter had quite a friendly chat with Mr. Reid this morning, who said they were much more favorably impressed with the outlook of the Southern country than ever before. The fruits and vegetables were of a quality far superior to any others met with, elsewhere on the Coast, and they were highly pleased with the prospect of the colonization scheme which is headed by Messrs. Newland, Hesketh and others. It is proposed to take water from the Owens River about 30 miles above the lake, and through a system of ditches irrigate thousands of acres which will be utilized principally for grape culture. For wine producing Mr. Reid thinks the land is peculiarly adapted, and in a short time a quality will be produced which will be superior to wines made in other parts of California. This will be greatly owing to the climatic effect and the difference in the soil. While wine growing will be the principal industry of the proposed colony, attention will be given to general agriculture. He was quite enthusiastic over the Inyo marble. He thinks it is quite superior to anything in this country, and as the quarries are developed the quality will improve so that Inyo marble will be sought after East and West. In speaking of the soda productions of Owens Lake, he says it was no longer an experiment, the success was now assured. Of the mining outlook he spoke most favorably, and said as soon as the incubus that was clinging to silver was thrown off, it would take into itself a new life.

Henry George.

New York, Sep. 2.—The work of getting 30,000 signatures, pledging the signers to vote for Henry George for Mayor of New York City is going steadily on. A large number of papers have been printed and circulated. They bear the following heading: "We the undersigned, voters of New York, desire you to become a candidate for Mayor of New York, and in such case pledge ourselves to you and to each other, that on election day we will go to the polls and vote for you." Already many names have been obtained. A committee of one from each Assembly district, appointed by the Political Conference of the Central Labor Union, met last night to make arrangements for the coming campaign, when it was unanimously resolved that Henry George be recommended as a candidate for Mayor to a full conference which will be held Thursday night.

Yesterday's Conference.

Yesterday Senator John P. Jones, ex-Senator Stewart, Sam Jones and R. M. Daggett are reported to have had a conference in Virginia City. Jones went up on a special train from Reno, Sam, who had been telegraphed for at the Bay, was a few hours behind, Stewart was sent for by telegraph and went up in a carriage, and John Mackay was on the morning train.

The knowing ones had a good deal to say about what was done, but as far as the APPEAL can learn nobody knows exactly what was talked over. It is a general idea that a plan was consummated to solidify the party for the Fall fight, which promises to be short and warm.

It is said that the assurance that Fair is coming into the fight is what makes Mackay come back to the Comstock. In a few days more will be known.

Fresno has a Sensation.

FRESNO, Aug. 31.—The clerks in George F. Ward's cash store began selling goods this morning at any price and will give no explanation for doing so. Ward is manager of the American Tea Company here and left last week, he said, for Stockton. He owes the clerks $1,000. There is much excitement, and the store is crowded. It is rumored that Ward has decamped.

LATER—The store is now closed.

—The APPEAL acknowledges the receipt of a magnificent box of grapes from Cap. Moger of Newcastle.
