It is a lasting pity that Mr. Commissioner Sparks could not have been in Northern Montana on a cattle ranch during the late storm. It would have done him a world of good. He would have lost reverence for the princely domain which the unregenerated are trying to filch from the Government...

Storage of Water.

We have noticed lately that the columns of the Enterprise have been devoted to the discussion of the storage of water in the canyons, and the boring of artesian wells. Colorado owes her prosperity and blooming fields in a great measure to the storage of water...

SNOWED IN.

THE BIG BLOCKADE ON THE C. P.

Reliable News From the Nevada Party.

Considerable anxiety has been manifested during the past few days for the train which is now snowed in between Colfax and Blue Canyon.

THE NEVADA PARTY.

The train which was first snowed in at Colfax contained John Mackay, Dick Dye, Senators Westerfield, Williams and Poujade, Assemblyman Hanks and Black Wallace. News was received that the line was completely snowed in all through the Sierra Nevada mountains, and word came from San Francisco to hold all trains at Colfax and send the snow plows ahead.

THEY BOARD THE SNOW PLOW.

The Nevada party insisted on going with the snow plows but were met with a flat refusal as it was against orders. John Mackay telegraphed to San Francisco offering $1,000 for the trip for himself and party and the word was wired back from the C. P. office for the engineer to take the party and turn the $1,000 over to the railroad hotel at Colfax to be devoted to feeding the needy passengers snowed in there. Mr. Mackay and the party established themselves as a committee and soon hunted up the passengers there who were in need of assistance. They are now all comfortably housed and with free grub provided for at least ten days.

AN AFFECTING SCENE.

One poor woman on the train, a Mrs. Matthews with two children bound for Omaha, was waiting for the necessities of life when the party went through the train. She had never mentioned her condition to any of the passengers and her two children were really suffering from hunger.

Senators Westerfield and Williams gave the woman $20 apiece and Black Wallace purchased clothes for the children. Mackay found three other poor women on the train and gave them $100 each. The recipients of the charity cried like children and the scenes on the train are described as very affecting.

ON THE SNOW PLOW.

The party left Colfax at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning. The snow plow contained all of the Nevada party and was propelled by three engines. The speed for the first thirty miles was at the rate of 46 miles an hour, and the snow encountered was about four feet deep. It was not sufficient to impede the engines, and the two long lines of snow parted from the nose of the plow streamed back in the air for a distance of 100 feet each side of the work. The track now grew heavier as they climbed the mountain and huge masses of frozen snow rolled down into the chasms on each side of the track. The party on the snow plow beheld a sight which is seldom witnessed. The platform was large enough to enable four men to occupy it at once and the party took turns standing there. The snow as it flew from the nose of the plow only missed those on the platform about eight inches.

CAUGHT IN THE SHEDS.

On Tuesday night the engines reached the snow sheds at Blue Canyon and found them clear. They were provided with blankets and provisions and slept on the plow. About one o'clock there was a creaking of timbers and the sheds fell in weighted down by tons of snow. The sleepers were roused up by the crash and found the engines and snow plow completely covered by the debris. There was great excitement and alarm at first but it was soon discovered that no one was hurt, but engineer Hutchins said it would take a week to free the train. William Collins, a snow shoe expert stopping at the Summit Hotel, was secured in the morning and a purse of $100 was made up as an inducement for him to push through to Truckee. He made the trip in five hours and brought the news to Truckee of the condition of the party and furnished the particulars contained in this article to the APPEAL.

The Truckee Republican of yesterday contained the following:

This morning William Collins, the snow shoe man, came in from Blue Canyon and reported a party of Nevada men, mostly Senators and Assemblymen, snowed in. The snow sheds fell on the engines and it will take a week to get them out. Collins had letters from the party to Nevada papers and was paid $100 for his short trip.

Last night a dispatch from Truckee announced that the road was clear and that the party would arrive this morning.

ALL SORTS.

-Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.

-Mrs. Hugh Mohan and her two children arrived in the city yesterday, and is the guest of Mrs. D. Kaiser, at her private residence.

-No other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for colds, coughs, and all derangements of the respiratory organs tending toward consumption. In ordinary cases it is a certain cure, and it affords sure relief for the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of disease.

-If a well be poisoned, we be to those who drink thereat. It is worse to poison the fountain of life for one's self, and for posterity. Often by carelessness, or misfortune, or inheritance, this has been done. Ayer's Sarsaparilla frees the blood, the vital stream, and restores appetite, strength, and health.

-A New York expert declares that it is practically impossible to make a dinner cost much. In the campaign of 1880 he tried to order a banquet from Delmonico at $100 a plate, but the great caterer had to confess that the thing could not be managed. He got up the very best meal that could possibly be produced, with the most expensive wines, and the total cost was only $50 a plate.

Our Store of Snow.

Unless there shall come this Spring a season of warm rains, we now have laid up in the mountains a goodly store of snow. There is now heaped up in the canyons and on the flats and slopes of the Sierra Nevada range sufficient snow to yield an abundant supply for milling and all other uses until far into next Summer. The snow already on the ground previous to our last storm had become compact and would not be easily melted away. The last snow was very dry, but a slight rain or partial thaw would solidify it and "salt it down" on top of the other for safe keeping. The amount of snow that has fallen on the interior mountains-those within the Great Basin-will also prove of great value to the railroad and cattle interests. On the ranches the ground will absorb the gradually melting snow, and save much irrigation during the first part of the season.
