The "Appeal" Turns Tail on the Silver Interests.

The APPEAL is getting a trifle weary of shouting for the silver interests of Nevada. The editor of the APPEAL is not a silver producer; he is a small and humble way raises squashes and cabbages, but does not dabble in the silver interests.

The other night he saw 37 bars of silver bullion going down to San Francisco on the cars. It looked as if these bars of bullion from the Com. Virginia mine and worth $140,000, might be a contribution from the bonanza firm to the Carson Mint. But not so; they glided past the Mint and sped over the mountains to the Bay.

About two years ago the APPEAL editor attended a silver convention, and heard a number of long-winded orators spout on the "double standard," the "single standard," "bi" and "mono-metalism," etc., etc.

The whole State was roused over the blows aimed at the silver industry, and there was a great deal of noise and excitement, and 2,000 pamphlets were printed. They talked on everything but the main question.

A few months ago there was a meeting of Carson citizens to petition the President to keep the Mint open and save the State from bankruptcy.

A few days ago the APPEAL printed a letter from the Director of the Mints to Senator Stewart, in which he said that he would coin in the Carson Mint as soon as there was enough silver on deposit.

The men most interested in the silver question are the bonanza firm of this State. They dig silver out of the ground and sell it by the ounce, pound and ton.

It is said that the closing of the Mint gives silver a black eye and lowers its quotations in the markets of the world. Now if the silver producers of Nevada don't care enough about their own business to keep what they produce and sell, at high quotations in the markets of the world, this little journal is not going to burst an artery shouting for the silver product. If the silver producers of this State are short sighted enough to keep the Carson Mint closed and silver depreciated (when they've got tons of it to sell) its there look out not ours.

If they want a silver organ, they can start one. Hereafter we shall shout for cabbages, beef and potatoes and boom the price, but we will play light on silver. We are not running any silver mines in this State, to speak of.

Arbor Day.

It is proposed to allow the citizens of Carson to have Suto's evergreen trees by paying two bits apiece for them. It is proposed in this way to make enough to pay express charges.

In planting evergreens put sand in the hole and pour in a pail of water. Be sure and put in sand. After this, water once in two or three weeks. Two much water kills the tree. Citizens who want trees for Arbor Day can leave their names at this office. People who are too poor to pay will be furnished trees free.

A Greatful Woman.

To THE EDITOR OF THE APPEAL:—I wish to thank you for the article in the APPEAL on the Boodlers. For some months my boy Johnny has been afraid to be out after dark because he had heard that the Boodlers would catch him and eat him alive. When I showed him your article and explained that it was all a myth, he brightened up and is himself once more. A great load has been taken off the boy's mind and he is just regaining his health and spirits. Yours,

A GREATFUL WOMAN.

Nanon.

If Carson has any appreciation for the beautiful and the amusing, in faces, figures, song and fun, the Opera House will most certainly be packed on next Tuesday evening when the Carleton Opera Company will produce its famous success, "Nanon." In all the large cities of the country the critics seem to vie with each other in sounding the praises of the beautiful Nanon.

Certainly a feast for the eye and ear is in store for Carson, of which all may partake who will.

—N. P. Jaques was yesterday appointed Brigadier General of the Governor. Vice. Webster resigned.

WILD CELERY.

A Plan to Give Our Canvass Backs Good Grub

The editor of the Virginia Report advises the planting of wild celery so that the canvass back duck can have good fodder. It says:

We advise our readers over near Washoe Lake and on the Carson Sink to try the experiment. "What is it that gives the canvass back duck its special exquisite flavor and market value?" Nothing but the roots of the so-called wild celery (Fulgula tallineria) on which it feeds and which it devours with all the greediness of the duck family. If you kill the canvass back in any part of the country where it does not feed on this root and herb, it is no better than any other kind of a duck; while on the other hand, those red-head and black-head ducks, which likewise feed on wild celery, are hardly distinguishable from the canvass-back in flavor. The diamond-back terrapin, which is one of the most toothsome dishes in the known world, feeds on the same root and hence derives its gastronomic flavor and authority. The great secret on which we have dropped in Nevada, is to feed our wild game on wild celery, thereby imparting to their integument the flavor of the "diamond-back terrapin."

It would not cost much to import some of the wild celery shrub or seed, and plant it along the Truckee, Carson or Walker River banks. It would prove as great an attraction as wild rice and moreover it would supply feeding fields to the migratory birds which would not only feed the wanderers, but would tally alter the character of their flesh.

The Canadian's Fire on a Yankee.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F. April 8—News has reached here that the fishing cruiser Vigilant, when sailing out of Beaver harbor a few days ago, sighted an American fishing vessel within the three-mile limit and evidently after bait. The Vigilant gave chase and gained on the Yankee, whose Captain refused to heave to even when a blank shot was fired. The chase was continued, but the American vessel soon gained the line and was safe. This is the first gun fired this season by a Canadian cruiser.

The Hay Bale Man.

Another letter was received yesterday, making inquiries relative to the man reported lost in a bale of hay.

Phillip Adelson, No. 1417, Polk street, San Francisco, writes to know if it is his brother, aged 29, of medium height, light complexion, etc.

In order to set all inquiries at rest, we wish to state that the man whose body was found in the bale of hay was a negro, and his corpse was recognized and sent to San Francisco to relatives.

—When you see a woman sailing up the street like a house afire, you may know that she is going to inspect the glass ware at Rail's.

—Rail is out with his agricultural machinery for 1887. Every new thing in plows, mowers etc., he has a few weeks earlier than anyone.

—FOR SALE—Pure strain of Langshan and Brown Leghorn eggs. Apply at Geo. McLoughlin's residence.

—FOR SALE—A fine, large residence in the Western part of the city. Terms reasonable. Apply at this office.

—The Bodie Miner is using some very strong language relative to the scandal mongers of that place, who are getting very thick and an intolerable nuisance to the place.

—Commodore Tooman states that he intends planting a million and a half young trout at the Tahoe end of the lake during the end of the present month. He has secured the young fish and made all the necessary arrangements.

—"Facts are stubborn things," and sufferers from chills and fever generally find their complaint a very stubborn fact until they commence the use of Ayer's Azne Cure. That medicine eradicates the noxious poison from the system and invariably cures even the worse cases.

—Referring to the final adjournment of the Colorado Legislature, which took place Monday morning, a Denver paper says, "This Legislature will pass into history as the cheapest and most worthless aggregation of rottenness and stupidity that ever assembled under the dome of a capitol in any State."

—A correspondent of the Tribune suggests that the County Clerk in making out a list of the bills allowed for publication, state the service performed by the person receiving the money. This is an excellent suggestion. An attempt was made to embody this in the law, but it failed, because some of the mud-headed legislators thought it was a job to cause an increase in printers' bills.
