

A Big Mistake.

There was a big mistake made at the banquet given to the old Pioneers by the Legislature. The Committee of arrangements did exceedingly well, but they made one fatal blunder, which the old pioneers have had good cause to feel aggrieved over ever since. The speaking was all down to programme, and the Old Boys had to sit back and take it all in, but take no part in it. There should have been one more paragraph on the programme to have read about as follows:

"After the regular toasts there will be speaking, songs and stories ad lib. by old pioneers only."

This would have given a zest to the banquet which it lacked. There were scores of old boys like Alf. Doten, Bob Patterson, Storra, Adkinson, Overton, McGowan and dozens of others, whose names cannot be for the moment recalled, who could have talked spun yarns and sung the old songs of '49. They could have set the table in a roar and kept it roaring until the sun rose in the East.

This was the oversight that cut the banquet off at midnight and sent everybody home with the feeling that things had not been just as they should have been.

The Reno Reduction Works.
The News Reporter reiterates its charge against the Reno Reduction Works:

"The Reno Journal takes offense at our remarks concerning the Reno Reduction Works, and seems to think we are doing them an injustice. We said in the article objected to, that the Reno Reduction Works had failed to give satisfaction in the matter of returns, to mine owners in this part of the State. We have again interviewed the complaining parties, and they persist in saying that they were not given a fair deal by the Reno Company. It is not our desire to misrepresent the Reno Reduction Works; neither is it to our interests to do so. We of this section of the country have large quantities of ore to reduce, and Reno is the place where they can be most profitably reduced. While the Reno works do not entirely depend on this region for support, our miners are in a large degree dependent on them. We do not want to think that the managers of the Reno works are taking advantage of that fact to impose upon our ore producers, but it certainly looks that way.

Abandoned by Their Escorts.

In the dispatches which tell of the terrible theatrical catastrophe at Paris, the following significant paragraph occurs:

"Late this afternoon the bodies of 18 ladies in full dress were found lying together at the bottom of the staircase leading from the second story. These ladies all had escorts to the theater, but no remains of men were found near where the women were burned to death."

In other words the escorts of the ladies deserted them in a critical moment.

A New York man named Boynton has invented a bicycle railroad, which he claims capable of doing the work of a double-track railroad, and running at a speed of 220 miles per hour, thus reducing the trips from San Francisco to New York from one week to one day. He has interested Thomas Garfield, President Garfield's Private Secretary, in the invention.

The vestrymen of a Brooklyn church tried to depose their preacher in 1884 because he would openly advocate Blaine. The man of God held his grip, and just now, after nearly three years' pulling, has landed that Blaine vestry so far outside the church that they need a guide-book to get back.

When a New York diner-out wishes a new story he does not go to the club and crib one from "Undertones," as our local flatterers do. He frankly advertises in this style: WANT A DAISY STORY TO tell at a dinner party, and am willing to pay a reasonable price; must be immense. Address Petey, Box 10, Journal Office.

The Interstate Commerce Commission pay their own fares and traveling expenses on regular trains like ordinary passengers.
