A MATTER OF REGRET.

The Industrial School at the Orphans' Home Closed Indefinitely.

Reno, July 22, 1887. Editor Gazette.—Few will learn, without surprise and regret, that the industrial school, at the Orphans' Home, has closed indefinitely.

Boys who have their parents can't when work fails, return to the old home; but the fatherless ward of the State has no refuge when work is scarce and want stares him in the face.

The ostensible reason for closing the boy's workshop is because the last Legislature failed to appropriate a special fund for its maintenance. But, sir, a liberal appropriation was made for the Home, and as the industrial school is on the Home estate and forms part of it, I fail to see the necessity for a separate fund.

ORPHAN'S FRIEND.

ALL SORTS.

—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's. —Tahoe travel seems to have let up considerably.

—John Dennis of the Battle Mountain Messenger is in the city. —The V. & T. wrecking car will be in readiness to take home the Comstockers who got broke on the baseball game today.

—Judge H. M. Eddy, a well-known lawyer of Bridgeport, Mono county, is visiting Carson. He reports things quite dull in that section of the country.

—J. P. Sweeny, has kindly offered to put his race track in condition for the bicycle races in October. Our boys should practice daily and keep the prize in Ormsby County.

—To accommodate the many people at the mills on the Carson River who wish to attend the circus performance at Carson, Monday night, a special train will leave the depot at Carson, Monday night after the show, for Empire, Mound House and Virginia.

—Four locomotives were required to pull John Robinson's 27 circus cars from Reno to Virginia yesterday. The train was in two sections, and on the steep grades all four engines had all they wanted to do. It is said that the conductor compelled the fat woman to get out and walk up the hill.

—Scores of dead fish were to be seen at the Mexican dam, on the Carson river yesterday. It is supposed that some wretch exploded a giant cartridge near and was interrupted before he could gather his plunder. Anybody caught at that business should have serious punishment meted out to him with startling forthwithness.

A Bad Spell.

—Gazette: A peculiar blunder occurred in the engraving of the plate from which the reverse side of the $5 certificates were printed. It will be noted that on the back of the certificates are the fac-similes of several silver dollars. The third one from the left corner of the certificate has "trust" spelled "trast."

An Ottawa Sensation. OTTAWA, July 22.—Chief McVeity, of the Ottawa police force, is authority for the statement that a condition of affairs similar to that exposed in London by the Pall Mall Gazette two years ago now exists in Ottawa. Professional men, civil servants and tradesmen of all sorts are being implicated.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

CLEVELAND'S TWO GREAT MISTAKES HAUNT HIM STILL.

All the Old Soldiers Being Knocked Out—How Frauds in the Patent Office are Covered Up.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Sore and sorer by reason of two humiliating repulses from the Grand Army of the Republic, the President retreats from the Capitol and seeks relief and consolation in the cooling shades and quiet retreats of his boyhood's home, and basks for a time in the smiles of dear relatives and old friends. I don't blame Mr. Cleveland one bit, for he really must have been under a severe mental strain for the past month, and he is naturally glad to call a brief truce to the great cares and many responsibilities of his lofty station.

Lately the Administration seems bent on the work of steadily pushing the comparatively few remaining Republicans out of office all along the line, and the New York clique, recognizing that their State is pivotal as well as powerful, is at the head of the movement. In addition to Whitney turning over the New York and Brooklyn Navy Yards, to the tender mercies of the Democratic bosses, Secretary Fairchild has given over the spoilsmen, that mighty political engine, the New York Custom House, while Public Printer Benedict is working the Washington end of the line by exhausting his energy in dismissing soldiers and the widows of soldiers employed in his office, regardless alike of his own personal promises while his nomination was hung up in the Senate, and the frequent protests of Department Commander Burke. Up to date he has displaced about one hundred persons of the classes named and given their places to Democratic favorites, purely for political reasons.

At a meeting of the Veteran's Rights Union, held a day or two since, a report was made, that of sixty-three people either themselves Grand Army men or supporting the families of Grand Army men, who were lately dismissed from the Government Printing Office, only five have been re-instated, of course it will be understood that these persons are dependent, and when deprived of employment, have no other means of support.

This week another small scandal came to the surface in the Patent Office. Eugene Kelly, Chief of the Assignment Division, had been habitually taking advantage of his position to borrow sums of money from the clerks under him forgetting to refund the same. Being backed by Senator Voorhees. Mr Kelly was soundly reprimanded for his delinquency instead of dismissed as he should have been, and he was ordered "to go and sin no more." But the most accomplished of Democratic swindlers is Oscar J. Harvey, who has reduced forgery to a fine art by studying it as a science. After the exposure of the scheme by which Harvey had stolen about $12,000, from the Treasury on bogus claims for officers horses that had died in Military service, and after his incarceration in jail, Harvey's desk was broken open, when such notes as these were found. "Written with left hand purple ink and index pen." "Written with right hand gold pen, and dark blue ink." Was ever such consummate scoundrelism known. "Good Lord deliver," from such graceless thieves.

The net gold in the Treasury increased from $158,933, 005, July 1st, 1886 to $186,875,667 July 1st, 1887. Since the 1st, inst., the Gold deposits have decreased $5,601,122, while the circulation of gold certificates has increased $5,268, 770. The circulation of standard silver dollars has increased $788,016 since the 1st, instant.

—O. H. Kister, County Clerk of Mono, arrived in Carson Friday by private conveyance from Bridgeport. He is suffering from pen-paralysis of the right hand and will go to San Francisco for treatment.

CIRCUS REMINISCENCES.

The Boys' Discourse of the Olden Arcenic Times.

"The first circus ever on this Coast played at Placerville years ago," said Judge Cary. "I was a young man in Placerville, and doing nothing. The advance agent was looking about for a man to build a ring, and I hopped in and agreed to do it. He gave me the size, and I had a good deal of filling in to do. Shoveling dirt was slow work, so I piled into the holes a lot of old stumps and filled in with dirt. Then I smoothed it all over nice and made out my bill. The circus came along, and they complimented me on my ring. Well it was a very slick ring, and worked first rate till the elephants came on deck, and they sank down and floundered about till they struck the stumps. They didn't like that much, and one of the elephants which stumbled over a stump snorted out loud, and reaching down with his trunk, yanked the stump out by one of the roots and anaked it one side into the orchestra, knocking the whole music out. The audience gave a yell of delight, but changed its tune when the other elephants began to snake up the stumps and throw 'em round into the audience. The air was thick with 'em, and you bet the old tent was cleared lively. I knew there were forty-six stumps to come, and I slid out and struck for Oroville to stay a few days, till the circus got out of the country. I never presented my bill."

"Reminds me" said Jim Townsend "of the time when I was an undertaker in New York State. Was drivin' a corpse to the burying ground one day and met a circus procession on the road. I thought I'd reach out my whip and tickle the elephant's ear. I did and he just reached round and with one blow of his trunk stove the old hearse in and grabbing the coffin, threw it over into a potatoe field.

"The funeral stampeded and so did the circus and they were badly mixed up. I ran for my life and when I came back the corpse was gone, but I saw the baboons making over a hill carrying the corpse between them. One had him by the head and the other by the heels. I had to hire a Sheriff's posse and chase the baboons through four counties to recover the body before I could bury it."

"Did you lose money on the funeral Jim?" "No sir, when I was in the business I always charged enough to cover all such emergencies."

Base Ball.

Of course everybody will be on hand today to see the big ball game for $1,000. You will have to go early to secure seats. Game will be called promptly at 1 o'clock p. m. and the admission fee will be twenty five cents. As near as can be learned the "nines" and positions will be about as follows:

RESOLUTES.

AMATEURS.

Alley.....Catcher. Cowing.....Pitcher. Newham.....First base. Ellis.....Second base. Coleman.....Third base. Fryer.....Short stop. Nulty.....Left field. McBriarty.....Center field. Martin.....Right field. Nulty will probably pitch the last half of the game for the Amateurs and Kelly for the Resolutes.

The New Sweetwater Mill.

The new mill at Sweetwater started up on Monday morning, and will be kept in operation until about 200 tons of ore have been reduced, when a cleaning up will be made. This mill, though it has a capacity of 15 tons per day, is only an experimental affair, and will be replaced by first-class reduction works if the present working test is a success. The ore is low grade—about $12 or $14 per ton, but if they can save $8 of it there will be a boom at Sweetwater. The veins are of immense size and easily worked to a great depth by means of tunnels. Many persons in this vicinity are anxiously awaiting the result of experiments there.
