ROYAL

BAKING POWDER
 Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short-weight, adulterated imitations. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 116 W. 41st Street, New York.

Croup can always be prevented by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse. It is pleasant and safe to take and perfectly reliable. Price, 50 cents per bottle. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and cough and say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedec, Druggist.

What on Earth

is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedec, Druggist.

THE LALIES' LAUNDRYING MACHINES.—Patented in the United States and Canada. The first Laundrying Machine ever invented for family use having a Stationary Tub-rest, Patent Washer with Automatic Adjustment, a High Pressure Hard Rubber Winger, Folding Clothes-rack, all combined in one patent, hence but one royalty. Sold only by parties owning territory. Manufactured by George & Tweedale, Constantin, Michigan. D. C. Benton, Sole Agent. a16*

Not a fit, but an expression of delight. "About a week ago," says a Los Angeles, Cal., druggist, "a Chinaman came in with a lame shoulder. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and guaranteed that it would cure him. He came in again last night, and as soon as he got inside the door, began to swing his arms over his head like an Indian club swinger. I thought the blamed fool had a fit, but he finally stopped long enough to say: 'Medicine volly fine, volly fine; ally same make me feel plenty good.'" Chamberlain's Pain Balm is without an equal for sprains, rheumatism, aches, pains or lame back. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

SCIT FOR ADVERTISING BILL.—The Suit of S. P. Davis vs. the State of Nevada for a balance due on an advertising bill amounting to $235.50, came up before Justice Hawthorne yesterday. Gen. Alexander, for the State, put in a demurer, which was over-ruled, and after examining a number of witnesses the case was continued because of the sickness of John Dormer, Secretary of State.

A REAL HOUNNER.

A Touching Incident of Decoration Day.

The ceremonials attending the Decoration of the graves on Memorial Day do not as a rule give such evidence of grief as of respect for the dead. Most of the graves decorated are of those who have been buried many years, and in many instances those engaged in the ceremonials are comparative strangers to the dead.

At the Carson cemetery, however, there was enacted on Decoration Day a drama of intense and genuine grief such as is seldom witnessed on such an occasion.

While the crowd was gathering to hear the exercises at the North end of the cemetery, there was noticed, by a few only, a little girl about eight years old, strewing flowers upon her mother's grave, near the south gate. The grave had scarcely a mark to distinguish it. There was no green grass upon it, only the dull, red earth. It showed that the relatives of the dead were not of sufficient means to go to much expense in caring for it.

The child approached the little mound alone and timidly and standing there for a moment scattered a few flowers upon it, not hot house roses and lilacs, but a few of the wild flowers of the sage brush which had probably been recently plucked by her.

A few men who had noticed the child approach the grave and look about her as if fearing interruption, withdrew, and noticed her from a distance.

After she had scattered the flowers she stood looking down upon the mound a few minutes and then kneeling by it for a moment flung her body across the spot where her mother lay and sobbed convulsively. It is not for any one to say what recollections were surging through the child's mind at that time, or the tempest of grief that moved in her heart, but the men who were noticing her at a distance paid a tribute to her suffering in tears copious and unrestrained, and unable to endure the sight of so much sorrow walked away from the sound of her sobbing, leaving her prostrate over the grave, her little hands clutching the hot ground and the pitiless sun beating down upon her.

The Herald works itself into a passion over the suggestion of annexing Utah to Nevada, and exposes both its ignorance and malice in denouncing Nevada and the men in Nevada. But it need not worry. The men of Nevada know Utah and her people thoroughly, and they are not anxious for a consolidation. Nevada is out of debt. All her material interests are improving except mining, and so soon as a system of cheap railroads penetrates her remote districts, she will resume her old place as the foremost of bullion producers. She was once a part of Utah, and has no especial desire to have the old relations re-established. When California shall be divided on about the 37th parallel, the two Californias will probably take in the greater half of Nevada, probably all of it, and that will suit the men of that region better than any alliance with Utah would.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Sen. Sabin told this interesting little story to a Pittsburg reporter while coming through that city last Friday: "Senator Ingalls and I visited the President the other day. Mr. Ingalls remarked to the chief that he thought he was not turning the rascals out fast enough. 'Well, you know,' replied the President, 'I don't want to be outdone in generosity by Mr. Cleveland.' 'Yes,' answered Ingalls, for his sharp way, 'and you know where Grover Cleveland is now.' I suppose Harrison took the hint."

There will be but one wood drive this Summer, and 20,000 cords are now in the river being run down. Part will be taken out at Empire, part at the Morgan and the rest at Dayton. About 600 cords are now being taken out at Empire. Mr. Martin will only get in 2500 out of 7000 cords. Messrs. Spooner and Bemis will not get their wood in this season.

The Death of Mrs. Simpson.

A gentleman writing from Portland, states that Mrs. Simpson, who died at that place on May 26th, was previously thrown from a carriage, and internal injuries caused her death. The following is published by request:

Just as the morning of her life
 Was opening into day,
 The young and lovely spirit
 Passed from earth and grief away.
 She was too good, too gentle and fair,
 To dwell in this cold world of
 pain,
 And yet we never dared to think,
 Her own might beckon her again.
 While on earth she was loved, and
 we deeply deplore her;
 But shall a murmur escape from
 our breast?
 You ask how she lived? She set heaven before her;
 You ask how she died? In the faith of the blest.

Rifle Match.

Twenty-two men took part in the competitions Sunday and notwithstanding it was a calm clear day, and appeared to be favorable to good shooting, the scores generally were poor—at least for Carson Guard riflemen.

Mr. Galusha led the first class with the fine score of 47 followed by Saffell with 44, Alley 44, Holbrook 41, McCullough 40, Cowing 40, Hark 40.

Mr. Daugherty of the second class with the magnificent score of 45, captured the medal of that class for the third time, and it now becomes his personal property. But two others of this class reached 40. Maish 41, Cagwin 40.

Messrs Parkinson and Bryant each made 43 in their second scores. The company will now furnish another medal for this class, and Mr. Mr. Daugherty will hereafter take a position with the first class or the "old reliables," a place which he has won by long continued splendid shooting.

DROWNED IN WALKER RIVER.

Last Monday afternoon John Webster, a son of J. J. Webster, of Mason Valley, formerly of Long Valley was drowned while bathing in Walker river. He was in company with Ed. Dyer, Chas. Fox Geo. Erway. The young man was not an expert swimmer, and getting beyond his depth sank before he could be rescued. His body was found about two hours afterwards, over half a mile from where he sank. Webster was a young man about 21 years of age, and was very highly respected by all who knew him. He was a member of Company I, Greenfield Guards, and also belonged to the Mason Valley brass band. His funeral took place Wednesday and was largely attended.
