This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low cost, short-weight, adulterated imitations. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 116 Wall Street, New York. N.Y.

Croup can always be prevented by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse. It is pleasant and safe to take and perfectly reliable. Price, 50 cents per bottle. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

What on Earth

is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

THE LADIES' LAUNDRYING MACHINE.—Patented in the United States and Canada. The first Laundry Machine ever invented for family use having a Stationary Tub-rest, Patent Washer with Automatic Adjustment, a High Pressure Hard Rubber Wringer, Folding Clothes-rack, all combined in one patent, hence but one royalty. Sold only by parties owning territory. Manufactured by George & Tweedale, Constantine, Michigan. Doc. Benton, Sole Agent. a16*

Pure wines and choice liquors at Livingston's. French and California Brandies, Domestic and Imported Wines. a27f

Harry Martin leaves this morning for the Incline, where he has accepted a position as clerk in the store at that place.

Harry Young, the manager of the juvenile circus in Carson, desires it stated that they will show on the 15th, and not on the 8th as previously stated.

The editor of the APPEAL left for San Francisco last evening for a few days. He probably went to see what had become of Sam Wright and Senator Stewart, who have been making a prolonged stay.

All members of the Grand Jury are requested to be and attend at the District Court room on Wednesday June 5th 1889 at 10 o'clock A. M. per order

S. C. WRIGHT, Foreman.

During the temporary absence of the editor of the APPEAL in San Francisco, Mr. John Dormer and Oliver Roberts will do the grand and lofty tumbling in the editorial and local departments and Mr. Jonathon Doane will act as business manager.

George Sherman, the alleged detective of Tuscarora notoriety, has proved himself what he was supposed to be, a gigantic fraud. After leaving here he went to San Francisco where he committed a forgery, and skipped the country when he learned that a warrant was out for his arrest. This we have from good authority.—Independent.

At the depot last evening, Fred Sargent's express team became frightened at the steam blowing off from the passenger locomotive and started to run away. Mr. Sargent was on the ground and grabbed for the lines, but the horses turned so quickly toward him that he was thrown down by one of the wheels and received a long, deep cut over the eye and one under it. The wounds were sewed up by Dr. Lee. It was a close call.

Not a fit, but an expression of delight. "About a week ago," says a Los Angeles, Cal., druggist, "a Chinaman came in with a lame shoulder. I sold him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and guaranteed that it would cure him. He came in again last night, and as soon as he got inside the door, began to swing his arms over his head like an Indian club swinger. I thought the blamed fool had a fit, but he finally stopped long enough to say: 'Medicine velly fine, velly fine; ally same make me feel plenty good.'" Chamberlain's Pain Balm is without an equal for sprains, rheumatism, aches, pains or lame back. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

Cough! and Cough! and Cough!

What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

THE INSOLENCE OF OFFICE.

How a Taxpayer was Treated by the Deputy Sheriff.

Last week Mr. Ed. Reynolds called at the Sheriff's office and the following dialogue took place: Mr. Reynolds—Mr. Pine, I came in to see when that Indian boy will get out of jail. His mother works for me, and as he can get a job at the Lake, she is anxious to know when his time is up.

Deputy Sheriff Pine—He will get out when I let him out; that's when.

Mr. Reynolds—I am a taxpayer here, and as I ask a civil question I am entitled to a civil answer.

Mr. Pine—He gets out when we get ready. He has a ball and chain on now, and I starve him if he don't work.

Reynolds—Would you really starve a man?

Pine—Well, the law says bread and water, but don't say how much. I can give him d— little bread and a good deal of water, can't I?

Seeing that it was useless to talk to so uncivil an official, Mr. Reynolds went to District Attorney Torreyson and asked when the half breed Indian who was arrested for drunkenness would be out, and the District Attorney said he had no knowledge of the case, and did not know that he had been convicted.

Here was a man working in the streets with a ball and chain to his leg for drunkenness, and all this had been brought about without the knowledge of the District Attorney.

This state of affairs shows that the Sheriff's office has outgrown its usefulness and that the sworn officers of the law do not consider that they are bound to give civil answers to respectable citizens. Mr. Reynolds authorizes the use of his name in this interview and can substantiate every word of it. The Grand Jury meets to-day, and this method of getting men in jail and treating them afterwards had better be inquired into.

Men of high standing in this county have been fully as drunk in the streets as the half breed, but they were not hustled into jail without a trial and worked on the streets with a ball and chain.

THE DEADLY CIGARETTE.—The Elko Independent of last Saturday says: From Mrs. J. T. Wright we learn that H. M. Grant, Jr., son of H. M. Grant, formerly of Elko, died in Ruby Valley, May 22, aged about 17 years. It is reported that his death was caused by excessive cigarette smoking.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOM.—There was quite a subscription boom in the APPEAL office yesterday. Men who had not taken the paper for some years stopped us to say: "If the Sheriff has stopped his paper, send it to me."

A. Frechette of Carson is becoming a good placer miner, but his wife beats him. He has been working at the Douglas county placer mines with his new gold saver. A NAMELESS PAUL REVERE.

His Life Pays the Foeft of His Grand Heroism.

JOHNSTOWN, June 3.—The first man from the dam at the south fork just arrived. The dam burst open in the center in a broad break. A nameless Paul Revere lies somewhere among the unknown dead. Who he is may never be known, but his ride will be famous in local history. Mounted on a grand, big bay horse, he came riding down the pike which passes through Conemaugh to Johnstown, like some angel of wrath of old, shouting his portentous warning: "Run for your lives to the hills! Run to the hills!" The people crowded out of their houses along the thickly settled streets, awe-stricken and wondering. Nobody knew, and some thought he was maniac and laughed. On at a deadly pace rode this man, still ringing out his awful cry. In a few moments, however, there came a cloud of ruin down the broad streets, down the narrow alleys, grinding, twisting, hurling, overturning, crashing, annihilating weak and strong alike. It was a charge of the flood, wearing its coronet of ruin and devastation, which grew at every instant of its progress. Forty feet high, some say—thirty, according to others—was this sea, and it traveled with a swiftness like that which lay in the heels of Mercury. On and on raced the rider, and on and on rushed the wave. Dozens of people took heed of the warning and ran up the hills. Poor, faithful rider; it was an unequal contest! Just as he turned across the railroad bridge a mighty wave fell upon him, and horse, rider and bridge all went into the chaos together.

ORIGIN OF THE ACCIDENT.

Nearly Ten Billion Gallons Flow Out in An Hour.

JOHNSTOWN, June 3.—At 11:20 this morning four gentlemen, relatives of members of the South Fork Fishing Club, who had come to learn the fate of their friends at the lake, returned. They report no one at the lake except the custodians and some workmen.

The dam broke in the center at 3 o'clock on Friday afternoon. At 4 the lake was dry, that great body of water having passed out in an hour.

An effort was made to avert the disaster by digging a sluiceway on the dam, but without avail.

The water passed over the dam about one foot above its top, beginning at 2:30.

Whatever happened in the way of a cloudburst took place during the night. There had been but little rain up to dark, and by the morning, when the workmen woke, the lake was full and kept on rising, until at 2 o'clock it began pouring over the dam and undermining it.

Men were sent three or four times during the day to warn the people below.

When the final break came it was like tremendous continued peals of thunder.

Trees, rocks and earth shot into mid air in great columns, and then the wave started down the ravine. The whole South Fork was swept, with not a tree standing.
