

MORNING APPEAL.

SUNDAY..... SEPTEMBER 1

THE WINNER TAKES HER.—If the authorities do not interfere a unique fistic encounter will occur within six miles of Fossil, Wyo., on Sunday. The prospective contestants are J. L. Sullivan, a railway employe, and Tom Murphy, a hunter and trapper. A girl, who suggested this method of terminating a courtship, goes to the winner of a $400 purse. She declares that she is entirely indifferent as to the result.

It is said that Jewett W. Adam thinks of a third campaign as candidate for Governor. According to the Reno Gazette he says this is a scrub race, as no one of great prominence seems to want the nomination, and, as he is the biggest scrub in the country, he thinks he is entitled to the nomination.—Walker Lake Bulletin.

It is now reported that the seized sealer Black Diamond is owned mostly by American citizens. Then we have the comical picture of a Canadian skipper and crew running away with American property, in charge of an American prize crew for depredations on American waters and seeking protection in a British port.

Sen. Evans, who sailed for Europe on Saturday, has an affliction of his eyes which requires the treatment of the great oculists whom he expects to consult there. His sight has been failing him ever since the accident with which he met at his Vermont summer home three years ago.

Pennsylvania weather officials estimate that during the summer enough rain has fallen in that State to make a lake 1,000 miles square and thirty-five feet deep. If Nevada had had one half of the amount of rain fall, we would be satisfied.

The Marine drew down his $5,000 yesterday from the California Athletic Club. He says he doesn't intend to waste it in riotous and extravagant living. He will go into the country and stop there till the excitement about the fight is over.

The pine-nut trees have borne a plentiful harvest this year. The Indians say that the winter is to be long and hard when pine-nuts are plenty. Nature formed the pine-nut trees for the especial duty of carrying the Indians through the winter. Light winter, light crop; heavy winter, heavy crop.

There is a good deal of talk in San Francisco about matching the Marine and Dempsey for another fight. Dempsey's friends are not satisfied with the result of Tuesday evening's contest.

COAST NEWS.

Postmaster E. P. Dearborn of Salem, Or., died Thursday.

Pulve, the jockey of Marl L. who was injured in a collision, died at Santa Rosa yesterday.

Lillian Wilkes made the fastest time ever made in a heat race by a 3-year-old Thursday at Petaluma. The time 2:17 3/4.

James Walker of New York city, the historical military painter, died at Watsonville Tuesday morning of heart disease, after a lingering illness of two years, at the home of his twin brother, Thomas, aged seventy-one years.

From widely separated source the Independent has been collecting a vote in regard to the World's Fair in 1892. Of 60 voters 28 favor Washington, 21 New York and 6 Chicago. As a rule, the locality of the voters determines the votes. Oshkosh votes for Chicago because it is cheaper to get to.

The German bark Huestede, which was forcibly removed from Esquimalt Harbor by order of Admiral Heneage, was returned to her former anchorage by order of the Harbor-master Thursday. Considerable surprise is manifested at Victoria at the arbitrary proceedings of Heneage. The matter is not considered to possess any particular significance, being merely a difficulty between two stubborn old sea-dogs.
