Death of Mrs. Chas. Crocker.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Charles Crocker, wife of the late railroad millionaire, died here yesterday afternoon of apoplexy.

Women in fights astride of bicycles is a scene which has been captivating the headlines of San Francisco. Misses Oaks, Baldwin and O'Brien are the three young ladies who led at the finish. It is rather odd that the young girls should show more endurance and speed than men who had been considered the champions of the world. Another opening for women who have endurance and muscle.

The APPEAL sees by the Bishop Creek Register that Mrs. Joel Smith of that place and her three daughters, Mrs. J. M. Dormer of Carson, Mrs. R. M. Wimberly of Carson and Mrs. T. G. Kelly of San Bernardino, all took premiums on work exhibited at the Bishop Creek Fair.

An editor who can find no better employment for his massive brain than hunting up typographical errors and substantive displacements in the columns of his exchanges, makes a mistake in not abandoning the journalistic Faber for the pedagogic birch at a cross-roads school house.—Times-Review.

The impression that the Little Louisiana Company of San Francisco was raided by the police is erroneous. It was a small fry concern with a similar name. The Original Little Louisiana Company cashed a prize of $7,500 only a few days ago in Virginia City.

What on Earth

Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap ncs trums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal prices? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedic, Druggist

Society Gossip.

The past week was quite a social one in Carson. Mrs. H. M. Yerrington led off in a delightful card party given in honor of Mrs. E. M. Hunt, formerly of Carson, but now residing at Tacoma, Washington. The lady is here visiting old friends.

The Yerrington party was quickly followed by parties given by Mrs. C. N. Noteware, Mrs. Governor Stevenson, Mrs. Judge Belknap, M. S. Tremor Coffin, Mrs. J. G. West and others.

On Friday night the town was out en masse to see Little Paik.

As a finish to the week's dissipation, on Saturday evening Mrs. R. M. Clarke and Mrs. M. Cohn each gave a drive both party. As the ladies are both known to be among Carson's finest entertainers it is needless to say that their parties were each a social success.

Carson's Four Hundred may look in next Sunday morning's APPEAL as in a mirror. M. L.

Ignored the Bill.

Yesterday the U. S. Grand Jury met to consider the case of William Dexter, who was charged with selling liquor to an Indian some time ago in Eureka county. The defendant showed that he was a recent arrival in this country from Australia and was ignorant of the law. He gave an Indian a drink out of a bottle because he disliked to see a native go thirsty. He had been in jail some time and thought he had been punished enough. The jury took the same view and ignored the bill. It cost the Government $80 to call the Jury together and a number of men were obliged to leave their business in various parts of the State at a compensation of $4 a day. The traveling expenses and fees etc., etc., from various witnesses and officers must have cost nearly $500 all because a man gave an Indian a drink in Eureka.

Typographical Suggestion.

We very seldom advise as to how another editor should "make up" his newspaper but we wish to suggest to Brother Shoemaker of the Grass Valley Telegraph that he move his editorial column two columns to the left. This is because it sometimes happens that we want to clip an item of local news and a chunk of editorial wisdom, at the same time and one is printed on the back of the other, and scissoring one spoils the other. It is a violation of newspaper rules to write on both sides of a sheet and the Telegraph should not violate the rule.—Truckee Republican.

Cleveland as a Sneak.

New York, October 28.—The politicians of New York have been wondering which ticket municipal and State election Grover Cleveland would support. Tammany made threats of knifing him whenever he should come up if he did support their ticket, while his element in the Democratic party was not warm in support of Hill's ticket and Tammany's local ticket. Grover was in a tight place, but he has skillfully avoided all trouble by not registering yesterday, the last day possible.
