A Word to the Wise.

He—Why, it's all right if you sit perfectly still.

Among the incidents of childhood that stand out in bold relief, as our memory reverts to the days when we were young, none are more prominent than severe sickness. The young mother vividly remembers that it was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured her of croup, and in turn administers it to her own offspring and always with the best success. For sale by G. C. How Can Parents allow their children to cough and strain and cough and cough say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedic, Druggist.

What on Earth

is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trumps put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. The cowboys are an aggressive class, but there seems to be no end to their qualifications. One of the musical monstrosities of last season was a cow-boy pianist, and now we have a cow-boy fiddler by the name of Bender, who murders the violin as his namesakes did the unsuspecting traveler.

A petition praying for the release of Fred Davis, who shot and killed Joseph Mayes in Genoa on the 1st of December, 1886, is being circulated in Douglas County by Senator Harris for signatures. Davis was convicted of murder in the second degree and was sent to State Prison for thirteen years. The petition bears the signature of Judge Rising, who sentenced Davis, and will be presented to the Board of Pardons at their next session.

In a recent article in the Youth's Companion, on "How to cure a cold," the writer advises a hot lemonade to be taken at bed time. It is a dangerous treatment, especially during the severe cold weather of the winter months, as it opens the pores of the skin and leaves the system in such condition that another and much more severe cold is almost certain to be contracted. Many years constant use and the experience of thousands of person of all ages, has fully demonstrated that there is nothing better for a severe cold than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It acts in perfect harmony with nature, relieves the lungs, liquefies the tough tenacious mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and restores the system to a strong and healthy condition. Social Gossip

Thanksgiving day has come and gone, leaving nothing in its place save pleasant memories and well picked turkey bones. The day was generally observed throughout the town by home gatherings, where families and relatives sat at table merrily chatting over present comforts and past blessings.

The religious observances of Thanksgiving were held in all the churches of Carson, and the large attendance marked the day as one on which the usual cares of life were laid aside and thanks returned for all the good things enjoyed during the year. Union services were held in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. C. L. Lozan delivering the sermon. It was one of that learned gentleman's most eloquent efforts, and elicited the highest encomiums from all who had the pleasure of hearing it. It was an American Thanksgiving sermon, preached by an American, who spells America with a big A, and is a patriotic and conscientious citizen of this great Republic as well as a Christian soldier in the cause of Christ.

The ninth anniversary ball of the Workingmen, which took place on Thanksgiving Eve at Armory Hall, was a very enjoyable affair. It is estimated that about one hundred couples were present. The floor was in excellent condition, and the music first class.

On Thanksgiving night about seventy couples took part in the masquerade party given at Empire under the management of James Wiggins. There were many spectators and masquers present from the Brunswick, Dayton, Mound House, Silver City and Carson. The costumes were varied and handsome, the music was excellent and the floor is equal to any in the State. Refreshments were served at the Old Hoover House, and did credit to the ladies of Empire.

On Saturday the 23d there was a jolly little party given by the ladies of the Eastern Star Lodge at Masonic Hall. Old and young enjoyed themselves alike and the fun was kept up until midnight.

On Friday, Sheriff Ullrick returned home from Sacramento quite sick. Master Will Dormer is also quite sick with a sore throat.

Friday afternoon the W. C. T. U. held a business meeting at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Anderson. The cause is one worthy of a larger attendance and greater interest.

Misses Edith and Sybil Howe gave a pleasant party to number of their friends on Friday evening.

Will Gauge and sisters held a party at their residence Saturday evening, the occasion being Will's birthday. A large number of friends were present to wish him many happy returns.

A Showman's Death.

LYNN, Mass., Nov. 29.—H. F. Sartille of Worcester, gave an exhibition last night. One of his tricks was with a gun. He told a spectator to take the gun he had himself loaded, to aim carefully at his head and fire at the word "three." The spectator obeyed when Sartille fell dead with a bullet wound in his head. He had previously told the audience that if he should be killed he wanted his mother notified. It is supposed he selected this method of committing suicide.

THE SILVER MEN.

The St. Louis Convention Adjourned Sine Die.

St. Louis, November 29.—The Silver Convention adjourned sine die yesterday after the appointment of a committee to provide for another convention and the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Fifty-first Congress be requested by this Convention to provide at its first session for the opening of the Mints of the United States to the free and unlimited coinage of standard silver dollars of the present weight and fineness, to be legal tender for all debts, public or private, equal with gold; and that until such provision is made the Secretary of the Treasury be required to coin the maximum of $4,000,000 worth of silver per month, as now authorized by law.

Tom Fitches' Speech.

The following is an extract from Tom Fitches' speech at the St. Louis Silver Convention.

"I seek not to assail the rights of capitalists or arouse the prejudice of poverty. For twenty years people has tampered with the people's money and gathered to itself illicit gains by increasing the burden of industry. The fight for the restoration of silver is a fight of the debtors against the creditors, labor against capitalists, poor against rich. It is idle for them to tell us that prices have been reduced because of the increased production in India. This may be the approximate cause, but I say the direct cause will be found in silver demonetization alone.

"England has become today the greatest silver consumer in the world, and yet in all her vast empire she produces less than 7 per cent of the world's supply, and Germany, her co-conspirator in the work of demonetization, produces less than three per cent.

"England is the bunko-steerer of the world, and Uncle Sam is the gentleman from the rural districts. How much longer will our miners, planters and farmers consent that their Senators and Representatives at Washington shall continue to legislate in the interest of Wall street. Is it not time for the American eagle to rise and shake the Liverpool salt from its tail. [Great Applause.]

"It may be that the sudden demonetization of silver would produce some temporary disturbance in Wall street; but the eastern and western boundaries of this nation are not found between Pear street and Broadway.

"We are here to represent the cottage and cabins of this country, and their interests should be protected, through the bulls of Wall street and the bucket-shops below with rage."

Carson Girls Appreciated.

The Chronicle in reporting the Teacher's Institute says: Miss Rex Barrett gave an interesting and instructive disquisition on elocution with all true reading. The young lady is an excellent elocutionist herself, and her sweet voice and charming manner entertained her audience.

The following is from the Enterprise: Miss Valley French did not reappear after her song, but it was only because no encore was allowed. The applause was stormy and protracted.

The duet of Mesdames Horne and Hanford was artistically played and the song of Miss Olcovich was so sweetly sung that many regretted that no encores were allowed.

Meadows Caught.

Jim Meadows, who was accused of having stolen something over $100 from a man named Gallagher, was caught at Sacramento by Sheriff Ullrick on a requisition. Meadows claims that he did not intend to take the money, but when discovered was rapidly going Northward. His hearing will take place tomorrow at 2 o'clock.
